SIT LEAVING CERT EXAMS

The students of 2021 have showed tremendous resilience despite the significant disruption and uncertainty during the past two years.

They will go down in the history books as the class who overcame unprecedented challenges due to COVID-19 and on Wednesday last, 9th June 2021, 55,000 candidates who had opted to sit Leaving Certificate examinations commenced their Leaving Certificate and Leaving Certificate Applied examinations across the country. The examinations are being held in 4,900 examination centres running until Tuesday 29 June for Leaving Certificate (Established and Vocational). The examinations in the Leaving Certificate Applied programme finish on Thursday 17 June.

61,500 candidates were entered for the 2021 Leaving Certificate which comprises both examinations and Accredited Grades. Candidates have been able to opt to sit their examinations, to receive Accredited Grades, or both on a subject-by-subject basis. Candidates finalised their choices through the Candidate Self Service Portal in early May. In total, 58,342 candidates are entered for the Leaving Certificate and 3,177 candidates are entered for the final year of the Leaving Certificate Applied programme.

The majority of candidates have confirmed their intention to sit examinations this year. From the latest information available to the State Examinations Commission (SEC), 90% of all candidates have indicated their intention to sit examinations in one or more subjects with almost 40,000 indicating their intention to present in 5 or more subjects.

CATRIONA WINS HER DREAM HOME

Catriona Moriarty from Muckcross has won 1st prize in the Barraduff Community Field draw and will receive the keys of a brand new 3 bed detached house in Barraduff this week after her parents purchased the ticket on her behalf.

The draw took place at the INEC last Sunday evening and Catriona was absolutely thrilled when she heard of her good fortune.

I am in disbelief that this has happened to me and I think it will take a while for it to fully sink in" Catriona told Killarney Outlook. "Getting the phone call was life changing and I am so grateful to my parents for buying that ticket" she added. Second prize in the draw was a Mitsubishi Spacestar which was won by Simon Gormon in Wicklow. 3rd prize of €1000 Killarney Park Hotel Voucher was won by Anselm Begley in New York. Barraduff Community Field Organisation would like to thank everyone for their support and to each and every one of you who purchased a ticket!

GREAT TO BE BACK... PUBS REOPEN FOR OUTDOOR SERVING

There was an air of positivity this week in Killarney as pubs reopened to serve customers outdoors.

The Laurels opened their new area "The Back Yard" and are experiencing great interest in booking.

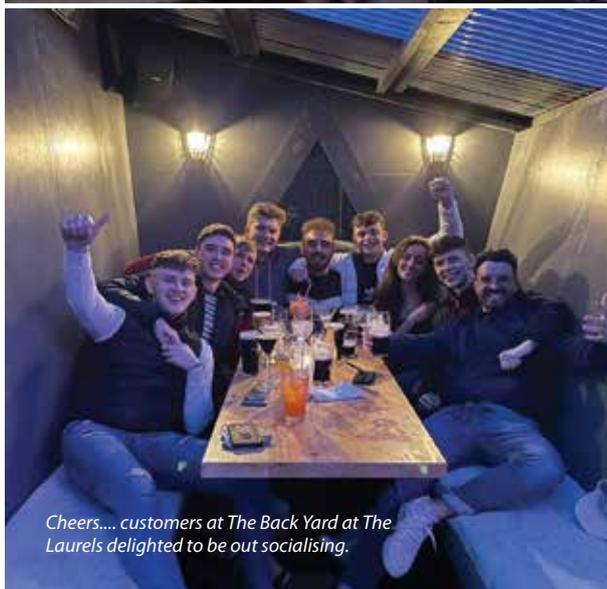

To mark the occasion of the reopening of pubs across the country, Guinness released a new advert which was directed by former Kerry footballer and current Senior Creative Director at Wilson Hartnett, Killian Burns.

Hollywood actor Barry Keoghan has teamed up with Guinness Raising the Bar to launch 'Every Moment Counts'. The campaign highlights the importance of positive and safe socialising as the doors of pubs reopen on 7 June 2021. In partnership with the pubs of Ireland through the LVA, VFI and Hospitality Ulster, the campaign is a reminder to people that we all have skin in the game, and it's in our collective interest to socialise safely so that pubs can remain open for everyone, everywhere.

With the hum of excitement in the air as the doors of beloved pubs finally open again this campaign is a reminder that these are all moments, that everyone has been waiting for and won't take for granted again. From meeting old friends and making new ones, to that wink across the bar and banter with the bar man, now is the time to celebrate responsibly and look to better days ahead. This is sure to be the catchup of all catchups so let's make it last!

Hollywood Actor Barry Keoghan, star of the advert.

Cheers.... customers at The Back Yard at The Laurels delighted to be out socialising.

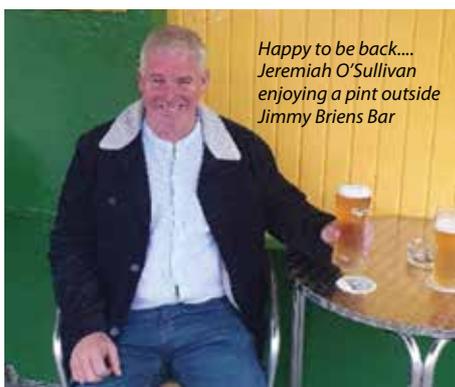

Killian Burns, Creative Director of the new Guinness Advert.

The Moynihan and Phillips Family enjoying the new facilities at The Back Yard at The Laurels.

Cruinniú na nÓg set to take place this weekend

Cruinniú na nÓg is taking place all over Ireland on Saturday 12th June this year with a programme of creative celebrations for children and young people.

The programme in Kerry offers a vast choice of free events and activities for children and young people to look forward to.

This year's event is entirely online with lots of opportunities for making, creating and doing. Earlier in the year, the Arts Office at Kerry County Council carried out an extensive consultation with young people of Kerry to see what they wanted in this Cruinniú na nÓg Chiarraí.

There is something for all ages and tastes in this year's programme and some of the highlights include dance workshops, online circus show and workshop, short film programme and discussion panel, music and music video creation workshop and tutorial, creative writing and poetry workshops, painting, pottery and plaster making workshops, origami workshops, youth theatre screenings and kite making workshops.

"It's fantastic to see all that's on offer here in Kerry, free, for Cruinniú na nÓg," the Cathaoirleach of Kerry County Council, Cllr Patrick Conor-Scarreen said. "No doubt it will be a great day with lots of positive experiences and great fun."

The brochure for all events for Kerry is available to download on kerrycoco.ie/arts/events-festivals/ and all events are listed on the national Creative Ireland website at <https://cruinniú.creativeireland.gov.ie/>

The programme has been put together by the Arts/Creative Ireland Kerry Office at Kerry County Council. It is funded with support from Creative Ireland through the Department of Culture, Heritage & the Gaeltacht.

All events are online this year – some are live interactive events and workshops while others are pre-recorded sessions that will be available on the day. The hashtag #CreativeIreland has also been set up to give us all a flavour of what to expect and what is happening throughout the country.

"While events are online for safety, children will still get a change to engage creatively, and even get outside with some activities. It is a wonderful opportunity to experience something creative, at no cost," explains Kate Kennelly, the Creative Ireland Co-ordinator and Arts Officer at Kerry County Council.

"Cruinniú na nÓg is a welcome addition to the arts calendar here in Kerry. This year's programme delivers a varied, exciting range of activities and I would encourage young people and parents alike to enjoy the day, online, and try something new," says Moira Murrell CE, Kerry County Council. "Tabhair faoi rud nua agus bain sult as an lá!"

KODALINE 'ACOUSTIC TOUR' TO PLAY THE GLENEAGLE INEC ARENA

Kodaline are set to play their Acoustic Tour at the Gleneagle INEC Arena on December 4th, 2021.

After the storming success of their recently released studio album 'One Day At A Time', which has now been streamed more than 60 million times and seen them garner another 100 million YouTube views, Kodaline have announced an acoustic tour across Ireland in November and December 2021.

Tickets go on sale this Friday, June 11th at 9am.

In 2019, Kodaline played some of the biggest shows of their career. At home in Dublin they sold-out two huge outdoor shows at St. Anne's Park, while a tentative UK tour culminated with a packed show at London's historic Roundhouse. Further afield, they hit festivals including Lollapalooza, Benicàssim and Open'er before becoming the first Irish band to headline the massive NH7 Weekender in Pune, India. Their extensive touring throughout Asia also included a headline set at Monsoon Music Festival in Vietnam plus dates in China, Japan, South Korea, The Philippines, Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand, Taiwan and Singapore.

"We're excited to do our first ever stripped down fully acoustic tour, it's something we've wanted to do for a long time and something that's gonna be very special for us," the band said.

In August last year, Kodaline performed their smash-hit album 'In A Perfect World' back to back for the first time since its recording, and will be heading back to the stage with the showcase live across Ireland in 2021.

THIS WEEKS BEEF COMES FROM CAHILLANES MEATS KILLORGLIN. THIS WEEKS LAMB COMES FROM CAHILLANES MEATS KILLORGLIN.

Time to say goodbye...

Rev. Karen Spence set to leave Killarney

As Reverend Karen Spence prepares to leave Killarney, she has some lovely memories of her time here.

The Methodist Church community in Killarney will soon say 'farewell' to the popular Reverend and her husband Edwin.

Part of the church's ministry, under Karen's leadership, has included an outreach to the homeless community in the area. A team of volunteers provided breakfast and lunch, a warm welcome and shelter on Fridays, some who 'dropped in' stayed for the Friday morning bible study led by Karen. Covid-19 has unfortunately restricted some of the work but Karen is confident that, in time, this work will continue. Karen and her husband Edwin, who leads the music in the Killarney church, will be returning to Northern Ireland having been asked to consider a position as Circuit Superintendent of the Newtownabbey Mission, a position Karen will take up at the beginning of July. In their free time, Karen and Edwin have enjoyed walking their dogs and are both keen golfers and will miss their many friends in Beaufort Golf Club where Karen was Lady Captain in 2020. They have both enjoyed their time in Killarney and have no doubt they will return on holiday.

Karen is currently the Circuit Superintendent of the Cork South and Kerry circuit of the Methodist Church in Ireland with oversight of the churches in Killarney, Kenmare and Millstreet plus other groups in Castleisland and Gneeveguilla. She has been living and working in Killarney since arriving in July 2015 having led large, vibrant church communities in East Belfast. She has many wonderful memories in Killarney including when the church in Killarney was filled to capacity including weddings, baptisms and Carol services and the time the advent wreath went on fire during a Carol service.

Peter Mark thanks Healthcare Heroes at Killarney Community Hospital

As part of its Healthcare Heroes campaign, Peter Mark recently made a surprise delivery of gift bags to Killarney Community Hospital in Kerry to thank the hospital team for its work during COVID-19.

Healthcare Heroes is a nationwide campaign by Peter Mark to show its appreciation for healthcare workers by donating gift bags with hair and beauty products to local hospitals. Peter Mark has delivered 4,512 bags to local healthcare workers all over Ireland.

The campaign is the brainchild of celebrity stylist Adele Phelan who at the beginning of lockdown in the UK in March 2020 had an idea that he would like to give something back to the hardworking staff of the NHS.

Following on from the success of the campaign in the UK, Adele teamed up with Peter Mark to bring the campaign to Ireland.

Peter O'Rourke, CEO, Peter Mark said the hairdressing group was keen to get involved and provide support in any way they can. "It has been a challenging year for everyone but in particular the healthcare workers who are working so hard in extremely challenging circumstances. The Healthcare Heroes campaign is our way of showing our appreciation and saying a small thank you to them for everything that they do."

MAKE THE MOST OF THE OPPORTUNITY TO DO WELL IN THE LEAVING CERT WRITTEN EXAM

By Billy Ryle

After a difficult and uncertain year, there is tangible relief that the Leaving Cert exam is finally underway. Like many important milestones, the anticipation is often worse than the event itself. The first morning was the most nerve racking as it involved some formality. However, once the question papers were distributed and the candidates warmed to their task, the tension of the morning quickly evaporated.

The exam timetable mainly prioritises compulsory subjects during the early days of the exam. As the exams progress into the second and subsequent weeks, the optional subjects are nicely spaced out allowing for study days. But, as they continue until Tuesday, 29th June, it's important to treat the exams more like a marathon than a sprint. After sitting a few subjects, candidates now realise that exams test not only your knowledge but also your concentration and ability to utilise every available minute. So, stay in exam mode until you leave the exam centre after the very last subject.

Depending on the subjects being sat, the entire exam will conclude reasonably early for some candidates. Others will have to stay focussed until the very last subject on the final day. Irrespective of when you are due to finish the exam, keep in mind that you have prepared diligently for the exam. This is what you have been waiting for. Make the most of the opportunity to do well. Reap the rewards of years of study by performing to your optimum ability in each subject.

After three busy days of exams, the coming weekend will bring welcome relief and give candidates a chance to relax a little, to take stock and plan ahead. Spend as little time as possible on post-mortems. Review your tactical approach over the first week. If you are totally satisfied with your strategy before, during and after each subject then you need change very little. Focus on next week's subjects and forget about the subjects that have already been examined. Your entire concentration must be on the subjects still to be examined.

The weekend provides an opportunity to recharge the batteries for the week beginning on the 14th June and to do some subject revision. Take some active leisure to burn off the residual tension of the first week. It will help you to sleep soundly and to maintain the levels of stamina, endurance and staying power needed for the challenges ahead. Avail of a few good nights' rest, which is essential for alertness. Resist the temptation to study late into the night. Confine your study to daylight hours, enjoy your period of exercise and go to bed early. Defer any late-night socialising until your exam is over. Keep your fluid intake high to avoid dehydration but be moderate in your use of artificial stimulants such as tea and coffee. Keep a clear head by abstaining from alcohol during the exam period.

Concentrate on subjects being examined next week. Prioritise your revision according to the timetable. Go over the tips and predictions that have been made for the subjects you are sitting during week two. Use your study days well and study wisely by not cramming. At this stage the quality of your revision is more important than the length of time you spend at it. On the evening before each paper spend an hour or so looking over your notes so that the important concepts are fresh in your mind. You are off to a great start after the first few days. Maintain your discipline during the week beginning on the 14th June. Keep a good thought for yourself and stay positive. Have confidence in your ability to do well in your second week's papers. You are now well settled in and rising to the challenge. Deal with each subject as it comes and by this time next week it may all be behind you.

Liebherr announce apprenticeship scheme for 2021/22

Liebherr Container Cranes are pleased to announce details of their Apprenticeship Programme for 2021/2022. Beginning this year, enrolment for apprentices will follow the academic calendar with commencement of apprenticeships in September as opposed to January.

At Liebherr, apprenticeships have always had a theoretical and a practical element. In recent years, as products and manufacturing technologies have become more advanced, the theoretical element of the apprenticeships has become even more important. Liebherr have worked closely with Solas and Munster Technological University and are delighted to be able to offer apprentices a dual qualification. Apprentices receive a Level 6 Craft Certificate in their trade and a Level 6 Higher Certificate in Engineering in their respective fields from Munster Technological University. To facilitate this renewed focus on the theoretical element, apprenticeships will now run in parallel with the academic calendar.

Apprenticeships are available in three different fields, Electrical, Mechanical Automation and Maintenance Fitter, and Metal Fabrication. Liebherr apprenticeships are an excellent opportunity for candidates to get an internationally recognized qualification along with an academic qualification, which provides a basis for further studies. Once qualified, the higher level 6 certificate award will allow graduates to continue to diploma or degree level in their chosen field.

Liebherr Container Cranes has long been recognised as a pioneer in the provision of apprenticeships. The very first apprentices in Liebherr Container Cranes enrolled in 1959 and the apprentice programme has been in operation ever since providing a steady stream of highly qualified and skilled graduates. Apprentices spend four years developing their skills and knowledge, all the while pursuing academic training. During their training, they undertake many different roles and are highly experienced when they graduate. This opens up many opportunities and career pathways within Liebherr.

To apply for these roles, applicants should send an up to date CV, a copy of academic results and a cover letter specifying the role that they are interested in and why to apprenticerecruit.lcc@liebherr.com. Any further documents such as training certificates, references, project details and awards etc. should also be included.

The closing date for receipt of completed applications is Friday the 25th June 2021. Applicants must be at least 16 years of age on 01.09.2021.

Successful candidates will benefit from a competitive package, fully paid training and education, excellent future employment and progression prospects, along with the opportunity to travel the world.

CALL FOR EMERGENCY FUNDING to repair repeated water outages

Cllr. Brendan Cronin, Mayor of Killarney has called on Kerry County Council to request emergency funding to deal with the continuous water breaks on the main supply pipe to Barleymount reservoir.

"These breaks are getting progressively worse and the resulting repeated water outages seriously affecting households, tourism, business and farming customers from Aghadoe, Barleymount, Ballyhar, Faha, Listry, Rockfield and into Miltown, with three major breaks at Crohane in past 4 days alone", Cllr. Cronin told Killarney Outlook.

"I have called on the CE of Kerry County council Moira Murrell to request emergency funding from Irish Water for pipe replacement in the areas that are being badly affected. I am deeply concerned that facing into the tourist season and the reopening of business and the prospect of warmer weather that we are in a water supply crisis situation with the number of serious and repeated breaks", he added.

"I am also requesting the water services dept of KCC to make provision for emergency supports to business, tourism, farming and the general public with the provision of water tankers where necessary should this pattern of water breaks continue. This situation is totally unacceptable and very frustrating and must be addressed by Irish water immediately", the Councillor said.

€1,000 FOR AISLING in national competition

Aisling O'Dwyer, Castlemaine - Trend Micro What's Your Story Category Winner.

A young Castlemaine girl has won €1,000 in an annual video competition. 10 year old Aisling O'Dwyer won the individual category in the 8-12 section with her entry "My Simple Song"

2020 has cemented its place in history with the most unwelcome arrival of Covid-19, but now, as we finally begin to emerge from this global pandemic, we reflect on how we successfully navigated the past year and what tools we relied on in this 'new normal'. Among the biggest heroes – the internet! Celebrating its 10th year, Trend Micro's What's Your Story? annual video competition posed a very fitting question to Ireland's youth, 'How did the internet help you get through this past year?' Leaders in cloud security, Trend Micro's What's Your Story? competition is an annual highlight in their Internet Safety for Kids & Families (ISKF) programme. It is designed to give young people a platform to educate themselves and others on responsible use of the internet and to nurture this safe space. Aimed at primary and secondary school students there are five competition categories; Overall Winner, Group

St Josephs NS, Ballyheigue Winners of Group Category 8-12 years.

Category 8 -12 years, Individual Category 8 – 12 years, Group Category 13+ and Individual Category 13+, and also three Critics Choice Awards. Entrants were required to submit a max 2minute video in answer to the competition question, and then become advocates for their message, encouraging their peers, friends, family and communities to view and vote for their entry. Not only did these children have to come up with the concept for their submission, but they also had to film and edit it – with amazing creativity and skills coming to the fore. Composed, filmed and edited by the Kerry native, 10-year-old Aisling from Castlemaine, Aisling took home the win in the 8 – 12 years individual category for her video submission entitled 'My Simple Song'.

Commenting on her winning submission in which she sings about 'websites, megabytes, gigabytes and more, the internet is there for everyone to explore', Aisling said, "I wrote this song in my bedroom over the course of two days. For my accompanying music video, I took pictures to show everyone how much the internet has helped over this last year. The background is original music created using snyths on Ableton (music software). So, it's all original."

The group category winners in this same age bracket, 8 to 12 years, also hailed from Kerry, Ballyheigue to be precise. Eight students from St. Josephs N.S. created a video entitled 'The School Around the Corner', in which they give us a glimpse into life in a virtual classroom... where not everything always goes according to plan!

SHARI RAISES OVER €4,000 FOR PALLIATIVE CARE

Before and after.... Shari pictured before she cut her hair at Allure Hair Salon and the end result.

This week, Shari Murphy donated 18 inches of hair as part of a fundraiser for the Palliative Care Unit in Tralee.

Shari vowed to fundraise for this amazing facility after both her parents, Mary and Dan McGough, passed away there within a few months of each other.

"This is a cause very close to my heart as my Mom passed away in January and Dad only a few weeks ago", Shari told Killarney Outlook.

The staff in the outpatient Suaimhneas Centre, the inpatient palliative ward and the community support team were amazing and we will never forget the care they gave my parents. Shari set up a fundraiser and between on line and offline donations has raised over €4,000.

Along with raising funds, Shari was able to donate 14 inches of her hair to the Rapunzel Foundation.

The Rapunzel Foundation is a charity organization that works to improve the lives of those living with hair loss either as a result of medical tconditions such as alopecia or medical treatments such as chemotherapy.

SKDP Led Kerry Eco-Social Project Approved for Funding

A South Kerry Development Partnership led project focused on addressing not only biodiversity within the farming landscape but also inclusion and accessibility within rural communities has been approved for funding under the European Innovation Partnerships (EIP) initiative of Ireland's Rural Development Programme.

The project will seek to implement biodiversity actions as proven in existing EIP projects on host farms within the Kerry Social Farming (KSF) Network. These actions will include hedgerow management, actions for pollinators and habitat management for birds and bats. Alongside practical actions, training will be offered in habitat management and biodiversity for both host farmers and participants. A system of monitoring and training to maintain standards in biodiversity will be provided to both host farmers and KSF participants and supported through the existing KSF team.

Other partners involved in the initiative include NEWKD, Representative from KSF working Group, Biosphere Officer – Kerry Biosphere Reserve, Transition Kerry, GreenBelt, Biodiversity Partners, Host Farm representatives, Kerry County Council, Teagasc and the NPWS.

Expected outcomes include an increase in

biodiversity managed areas on participating host farms and ensuring a wide cohort of people will engage in this biodiversity project; learning and sharing their knowledge and information about the positive role of biodiversity in farming throughout Kerry. Ongoing monitoring of the biodiversity on the participating farms will be undertaken by the KSF participants and it is hoped the project will also promote a greater embeddedness of best ecological practices among participating farms, initially, and across the county, subsequently.

Welcoming the approval of the project for funding SKDP CEO Noel Spillane noted that Kerry has been to the fore in Ireland since 2013 in developing the social farming concept and now has more than 39 participants involved on some 30 host farms. "This project will deliver outcomes that go beyond the farm habitat improvements made during the project timeframe" Noel noted, adding that it will offer training to farmers and participants of KSF throughout the project. The development of a biodiversity map of the farm which will be updated during the final project review and provided to all participating farms, will give them the tools to continue managing areas for biodiversity he said. Noel also noted that a communications plan designed to include the wider community in this project will be put in place to help ensure a wider uptake of these actions will be encouraged in non-participating farms and non-farming landowners, thus increasing the reach of the project and supporting improved biodiversity management within the community. The project will run for a 12 month period beginning later this year.

KILLEEN HOUSE HOTEL & ROZZERS RESTAURANT CELEBRATING ITS 30TH SEASON

The year was 1992, Charles Haughey resigned as Taoiseach and Linda Martin won the Eurovision song contest with "Why me?" It was also the year that Geraldine and Michael Rosney put every penny they had into purchasing Killeen House Hotel & Rozzers Restaurant in Aghadoe.

"Both Geraldine and Michael had worked with the Great Southern hotel group, and decided they wanted to go out on their own," the couple's daughter Michelle told Killarney Outlook. So they begged, borrowed and sold everything of value they had. Interest rates were between 15% and 20% at the time and they remortgaged their house. With a lot of hard work and a little bit of luck they ended up with the keys to Killeen House Hotel & Rozzers Restaurant and opened the door to welcome their first guests in April", Michelle added.

Customer loyalty was what got them through the opening years, and to this day guests who visited in the early years still return year after year. That is what they are most proud of.

While many locals have never stayed in Killeen House Hotel, they have dined in Rozzers Restaurant. Head chef Paul O Gorman is celebrating his 25th season with Rozzers Restaurant, and for the past 5 years Rozzers Restaurant has consistently appeared in the top 10 fine dining Restaurants in Ireland according to TripAdvisor, taking the number 1 spot in 2019.

Michael has now retired and is usually seen walking in the National Park or on the golf course. Geraldine, however, has no intention of slowing down anytime soon because she simply wouldn't know how! Their daughter Michelle has joined the team in the past few years as Geraldine's assistant manager. Many years ago a guest affectionately christened Geraldine "The Lady G" and now Michelle describes herself as "The Lady in Waiting" ... but she knows she will be happily waiting for quite some time yet!

The Killeen House building dates back to 1838 as the rectory of Archdeacon Nathaniel P. Forester who presided over the Church of Ireland community in Aghadoe.

Before finding its true role in life as a charming little hotel, the Killeen House saw service as a farmhouse, a home for the elderly and also a dowry house, which is a moderately large house available for use by the widow of the previous owner of a large estate. The widow who occupied Killeen House was Lady Mary Cordelia Godfrey and she was in residence at Killeen House from 1905 to 1913.

Lady Mary Cordelia shared Killeen House with her daughter, Helen Gertrude... and now over a hundred years later there is another Mother Daughter duo in residence! Today the Rosneys and all the team at Killeen House Hotel & Rozzers Restaurant are full of hope and optimism for the future. The motto on day one was "send the guests home happy even after they've paid their bill" and that motto hasn't changed.

Killeen House Hotel and Rozzers Restaurant are currently offering a "come for dinner and stay for breakfast" offer which has attracted great feedback from both locals and visitors alike. They can be contacted on: 064-6631711 info@killeenhousehotel.com

“GIVE YOUR LITTER A LIFT”

NEW CAMPAIGN TO STAMP OUT LITTER AT KERRY'S BEACHES

Everyone visiting beaches in Kerry this summer is encouraged to 'Give Your Litter A Lift' and to ensure that coastal areas remain free of litter over the coming months. The local authority will be increasing the number of litter bins available at beaches across the county but is also appealing to all beach users to act responsibly by taking litter home. New signage promoting the anti-litter message has been erected at all Blue Flag beaches this week.

Kerry was recently awarded a total of 14 prestigious Blue Flags in recognition of the quality of beaches in the county and the local authority is appealing to play their part in retaining those honours. The Mayor of Kerry, Cllr Patrick Connor-Scarsteen said everyone has a role to play. "We hope that this summer everyone can enjoy our beach environments in a safe way and that visitors to these beautiful amenities will leave nothing behind but their footprints. Kerry County Council is playing its part by providing extra bins to dispose of litter and there will also be extended opening hours at public conveniences at our beaches.

"So, the message is simple, when you are heading home: give your litter a lift," he said.

Director of Environment with Kerry County Council, John Breen said that the local authority recognises the need to ensure that everyone can enjoy the beach environment in Kerry as the county focuses on outdoor activities over the coming months.

"We have so much to offer our visitors and those who live in the county. So, we are appealing to everyone to take litter home, to take away dog foul and dispose of it properly, and to avoid anything that would damage our beaches. We have already stepped out our monitoring of beaches and a significant number of fines have issued to, for example, so-called boy racers, but our first approach always remains encouragement of good behaviour in the first place, so that everyone can enjoy a safe beach experience," said Mr Breen.

Meanwhile, 41 lifeguards, who are all fully trained and certified by Water Safety Ireland, took up their duties at Blue Flag beaches at the weekend. They are rostered for all beaches between noon and 7pm on weekends and 11am and 7pm from Monday to Friday and will be on duty until the end of the bathing season (on the second weekend of September).

Pictured at the launch were Patrick Connor-Scarsteen Mayor of Kerry and Ger O'Brien of the Kerry County Council. Kerry County Council is encouraging anyone visiting the county's beaches this summer to 'Give Your Litter A Lift' and to ensure that coastal areas remain free of litter over the coming months. Nicole's generous gesture helps cancer patients

A Killarney milliner has turned her skills into helping people who are going through cancer treatment.

Nicole O'Brien from is doing this generous deed as her own family have been affected by cancer.

"Unfortunately Cancer has hit most families, nad my own family has been affected twice in a very short amount of time", Nicole told Killarney Outlook.

"Unfortunately my father passed away from cancer and on the same week my mother was also diagnosed with cancer, so it was a really tough time", she added.

Now almost 5 years now since her diagnosis and treatments Nicole's mother is doing very well.

"During this time I had thought about making the turbans as I noticed they weren't easy to find, unless your an online shopper", Nicole added.

"I have my sewing machine and the skills, and I wanted to put them to good use", she added.

Nicole started this project earlier this month and the response has been amazing, she donated turbans to our oncology unit UHK and also the Recovery Haven and they were delighted this the gesture.

"I intend to continue to do so for as long as I can, as I have huge respect for our health care workers", Nicole said. "I want to thank the staff in UHK especially the oncology unit and palliative care they do the most amazing work", she added.

"I wanted to give back in some way, I hope my turbans can take just a little stress away from oncology patients going through there treatment journey", Nicole said.

WHAT KIND OF INSURANCE DOES A FARMER NEED?

All underwriters offering Farm Insurance now offer package policies with optional extras depending on the type of farming conducted. Here is a brief outline of the types of cover usually required.

Property damage cover

Your residential property can be insured under a farm policy once the property is owner occupied and fits the acceptance criteria. Farm outbuildings can also be included for cover against fire and storm. For most insurers they will review the storm cover element on a case by case basis depending on the construction material used and the year of construction. The sum insured for farm buildings & outbuildings should be reviewed annually as rebuilding costs are increasing. There is also scope under the property section to cover farm machinery, utensils and loss of or damage to growing crops.

Livestock

Cover can be arranged for fatal accident to livestock against fire, lightning, explosion, storm, electrocution, and loss in transit. Optional covers can include theft and sheep worrying.

Employers, Public and Products liability

Employer's liability can be included on farm policies and can include family and non-family workers. Public liability will cover your legal liability to members of the public and is rated on total acreage farmed. Products liability will cover your legal liability as a result of a defective product supplied. Cover can be extended for loss of your own milk if rejected by the co-op due to accidental contamination by antibiotic residue and failure of the co-op to collect.

Tractors and agricultural vehicles

Cover can be arranged for third party, fire and theft and comprehensive cover for farm vehicles. Some insurers can also cover older farm jeeps.

Forestry

Some insurers can offer cover for fire, storm and reinstatement cover for forestry. The premium is based upon acreage, type of forestry planted, age and fire protections in place. Some insurers will now offer personal accident cover and up to 30% no claims discount. At Healy Insurances we have access to a choice of leading insurers with market leading advantages.

MONEY MATTERS.....

By Dermot Cronin,
Financial Advisor

Is it more difficult to get a mortgage to build my home than a mortgage to buy my home?

Yes, it is more difficult. When you are building your family home there is more of a risk of things going wrong than purchasing your home. The most obvious and biggest risk is of course the risk of you going over your budget to build and finish your property. Lenders when assessing your application need to take this risk into account. Lenders will put emphasis on the cost of construction of your property to make sure the costs are realistic. If you are making your application through a mortgage broker he/she should spend a lot of time discussing the cost of the construction and loan amounts with you to make sure they are realistic. If these figures are incorrect and especially if they are too low then your mortgage application could be declined. A big positive at the moment for people who are first time buyers and are building or buying a new property that is their family home is that there is now a Help To Buy Scheme that you can apply for through the Revenue. There is up to €30,000 available through this scheme, there are terms and conditions attached to this Help To Buy Scheme. Obviously this is very beneficial in terms of reducing your cost of construction and reducing your mortgage amount also. A mortgage broker who has access to many lenders and has a lot of experience with self build mortgages may be very helpful to you.

If you require any further information on the above or any other matter you can contact Dermot Cronin at dermotcroninifa@gmail.com or 0646622775 or 0872893649.

Noreen answers your beauty questions...

How can I stop my Fake Tan from looking darker on my feet and hands?

More fake tan gets absorbed into these tougher drier areas of the body so less Fake Tan is needed here.

Exfoliate regularly if your using fake tan to remove dead skin cells for a good clean base to start.

Apply a light layer of moisturiser over the hands/ feet and any other dry areas you may have. This acts as a barrier but remember to use an oil-free moisturiser as oils help to break down and remove fake tan.

Work from your legs to your feet and your arms down to your hands when applying.

Use a tanning mitt but not directly on these areas, just use the left- over residue of tan on your mitt.

Glide the mitt over the front and sides of your feet/ hands lightly sweeping over your fingers/ toes.

Use a baby wipe to carefully wipe nails, cuticles, soles of feet and palms of hands afterwards.

Moisturise your whole body daily after showering off tan residue to help develop and prolong your tan.

Life, Inspiration & Body Confidence Coach/Author

Slow down and savour your life

Life is composed of millions of moments. It is in these small, ordinary, everyday moments that we get to live and experience the fullness of our life. However, for many people, life is something that has become increasingly fast-paced. It is easy to find ourselves rushing from point A to point B without noticing the warm sun on our skin, the leaves on the trees or the clouds in the sky. Life becomes one long "To do" list. Unfortunately, this can often lead us feeling unfulfilled and highly stressed and we may find ourselves not enjoying the day we are actually living in as we seek to get everything done!

Life coaching action tip

Bring more awareness into your day by taking a five (or ten minute) break throughout your day. This may mean that you spend time simply looking outside the window, or maybe you close your eyes and just rest into the moment. It might mean that you take a gentle walk outside or that you stop for a cup of tea or your favourite beverage and simply enjoy the moment.

THE IMPORTANCE OF PELVIC MOBILITY IN THE GOLF SWING

One of the first things we test as part of the TPI golf screen is a golfer's ability to pelvic tilt and also to perform pelvic rotations.

A golfer's ability to not only move their pelvis but also to be able to control the movement and position is vitally important when it comes to power transfer from the lower body to the upper body.

The funny thing is that the for example the Pelvic Tilt test looks so simple but it's surprising how many people fail the test, even though they feel that they are doing the movement correctly. In tests carried out by TPI on almost 20,000 amateur golfers 36% showed limitations in both parts of the movement, compared to 4.8% of PGA tour players having similar issues.

Things we look for would include poor co-ordination, lumbar spine mobility and the possibility of the golfer having lower crossed syndrome which is usually a muscle imbalance problem affecting the pelvis.

Pelvic rotation is also assessed as we look at the golfer's ability to rotate the upper and lower body independently of one another as it's an important skill for correct sequencing in the downswing.

A golfer's inability to correctly perform pelvic rotations can mean they could laterally move in the swing, which would lead to a sway in the backswing or a slide in the downswing. Either of these will make it more difficult to swing consistently and impact on power. What we want to do is make the golfer more consistent, more powerful which in turn will lead to a more efficient swing.

If you are interested in learning more about the screening process and how it works don't hesitate to contact us on 087-7643449, or we can be contact via our Facebook or Instagram pages

SUMMER EYES

As the weather gets warmer and the days grow longer, we often think about improving our health and getting into better shape. As you prepare to enjoy the outdoors this summer, don't forget a plan for keeping your eyes happy as well.

Avoid getting "sunburn of the eye."

When sunlight shines off water, sand or other highly reflective surfaces into your eyes, it can cause a very painful condition called photokeratitis. This is when the sun's ultraviolet rays burn the surface of your eye. Pain, redness, blurriness and even temporary vision loss are symptoms of this condition. Prevent photokeratitis by wearing sunglasses that are marked "100% UV protection." Also, wear a broad-brimmed hat for added eye protection.

Prevent "swimmer's eye" in the pool.

Pools can be tough on the eyes. Chemicals used to keep the water clean, such as chlorine, can affect the natural tear film that keeps our eyes moist and healthy. The result can be Red, gritty-feeling eyes and blurry vision. Keep eyes feeling and looking good by wearing swim goggles in the pool, and splash your closed eyes with fresh water immediately after getting out of the pool.

Keep dry eye at bay.

Spending time outside when it is hot, dry or windy can irritate a common condition called dry eye. A hot, dry environment affects the tear film, drying out the eye's surface. To protect your eyes in these conditions, wear wrap-around glasses to keep wind from your eye's surface. Also, use artificial tears (preferably those that are preservative-free) to keep eyes moist and refreshed.

Don't play around with eye safety.

Spending more time outside often means more outdoor work and play. Whether mowing the lawn, trimming weeds or playing baseball, always wear the proper protective eyewear.

More than half of all eye injuries occur at home, yet only about one out of every three people wears eye protection when they should. Don't be an eye injury statistic!

Quit smoking

When thinking about getting healthy this summer, think about quitting smoking. Cigarette smoke, including second-hand smoke, not only worsens dry eye, but is a risk factor for many eye diseases, including cataracts, macular degeneration and more. Quitting smoking reduces your risk of getting eye disease and other major health problems.

PLAYERS INJURY FUND

I wish to confirm that a GAA Players "Loss of Wages Cover" will be re-instated back into the GAA Player Injury Fund with effect from 1st June 2021. It will form part of the GAA "Players Injury Fund" in line with previous years and will see the associated cover benefits restored in full. Following representations made by clubs and members of Ard Chomhairle in relation to the pause placed on the "Loss of Wages Cover" in January 2021, a ballot of Ard Chomhairle was held last week to determine the preferred option that would see this cover fully restored. The option selected by Ard Chomhairle will see a 25% levy applied to a clubs Adult and U20 team registration costs with all claims being fully administered from within the existing GAA player Injury Fund and not via a separate Insurance Policy. This will see an Adult team registration cost increase from €1,000 to €1,250 and an U20 team registration increase from €200 to €250. There will be no increases applied to juvenile team rates. The 2021/22 Player Injury Fund term will run from 1 June 2021 to 31 May 2022. Injury cover will commence once a player is registered on the Foireann system.

Action from a friendly between Listry and An Gaeltacht on Sunday last.

Payment of your clubs 2021/22 Player Injury Fund premium will be due by the 20 th August and invitation invoices for team renewals will issue this week. I trust the above is in order and thank all units for their engagement with this matter over the last number of months.

LADIES FOOTBALL

National League: Kerry 6-14 Wexford 2-7

Kerry finished this game in cruise control, but things looked ominous for them early on. A good move by Kerry saw Wexford keeper Sarah Merrigan forced into a good save, but a foul on Louise Ní Muircheartaigh in the build-up saw her slot over the free instead. However, Siofra O'Shea came off with a worrying injury – the Southern Gaels star, just out of minor, has been brilliant for Kerry this year and would be a huge loss. To compound matters, a ball in by the excellent Roisín Murphy was fisted to the Kerry net by Aisling Murphy, and Kerry were two points down. That state of affairs didn't last long, though, as Kerry, and especially Louise Ní Muircheartaigh, cut loose. Niamh Ní Chonchúir gathered from Lorraine Scanlon and pointed. Andrea Murphy snaffled up a short kick out and teed up Ní Muircheartaigh – she doesn't miss that kind of opportunity to rattle the net. Emma Dineen and Louise (f) had Kerry leading by 1-4 to 1-0 before the effervescent Ní Muircheartaigh slotted goal number two. Mary Ellen Bolger was forced into a good save at the other end and Wexford picked off two points, but it was a brief respite for them. Ní Muircheartaigh pointed and then nabbed the kickout, an absolutely beautiful piece of skill seeing her lob the unfortunate keeper for a stunning goal and her hat-trick.

A foul on Emma Dineen saw Louise add to her growing tally. Amy Wilson pulled a goal back for Wexford, but this game was already slipping out of their reach. Louise picked off two more frees and Niamh Ní Chonchúir pointed, before good work by Emma Dineen saw Niamh Ní Chonchúir once more hit the net.

Half-time Kerry 4-8 Wexford 2-3

Wexford needed to blitz the third quarter to have any real hope at this stage, but the exact opposite happened, with Kerry outscoring them by 2-5 to 0-2 in the period. Emma Dineen sliced through the defence for a cracking goal and Louise Ní Muircheartaigh coolly slotted her fourth goal of the day, with Louise (f), Anna Galvin, and Rachel Dwyer (2f) splitting the posts. It was well over as a contest at 6-12 to 2-5, with both teams running their benches. Rachel Dwyer added another free in a relatively limp fourth quarter, with Emma Dineen fisting over Kerry's final score – she could easily have gone for a goal if it was needed.

Kerry: Mary Ellen Bolger, Julie O'Sullivan, Aislinn Desmond, Ciara Murphy, Aisling O'Connell, Kayleigh Cronin, Cáit Lynch, Lorraine Scanlon (0-1), Niamh Carmody, Anna Galvin, Siofra O'Shea, Louise Galvin (0-1), Andrea Murphy, Niamh Ní Chonchúir (1-2), Louise Ní Muircheartaigh (4-6,

EXAM STRESS - SOME TIPS FOR PARENTS AND STUDENTS

For Parents

Exams are here and will be over before we know it. The best way to support your teen at this time is to make home life as calm and pleasant as you can. You may notice that although you are desperate to know how the exam went, it's wise not to launch into an inquisition – so give your teen some space. Feeding them healthy snacks and good nutritious food will all be very welcome. Make sure they eat a good breakfast on the morning of the exam. Be sure to remind your child to take study breaks and get some fresh air to help clear the mind. After an hour or two of study, let them chill out but within reason. They need to switch off from exam student mode too. It's ok to be a couch potato at this time.

A good night's sleep is vital before an exam, so make sure your child isn't staying up late. Encourage an early night but don't let it turn into an argument. Insisting your eighteen year old goes to bed at 11pm doesn't really work, especially if he/she is not able to get to sleep and ends up tossing and turning until 4am. On the other hand it is not good either to turn a blind eye to 'gaming' until the early hours. Remind them that the brain needs at least 7 hours to absorb what they have learnt and to function well the next day. Lack of sleep can cause concentration and memory problems. Often, the study done after midnight is wasted.

For Students

The Psychological Society of Ireland offers some last minutes tips and advice to students how long to study. They advise students to study "regularly and briefly - rather than "cramming" at the last minute. Try to study in blocks of time which do not exceed your concentration span. For example, break up a study session into periods of about 50 minutes each." They also offer valuable advice to gain control over the exam situation as follows: "Ignore what other people do in the exam. Do not look around you in the exam-hall when the papers are handed out and do not pay any attention to students who request extra paper from the exam supervisors. Remember that it is the quality rather than quantity of the answer that attracts good marks. In any case, many "hand raisers" write on only one side of a page or perhaps skip every second line of their answer book. So, be selfish in an exam - ignore everyone else."

LEAVING CERT

There's an awful lot of young people out there doing the Leaving Cert. at the moment, most of them involved in all the various sports clubs and activities around locally. I'm not going to give ye much advice, there are far better people than me who not only can do that, but are ready and willing to do so. Don't be afraid to reach out. And as for the exams, remember that they don't measure your worth in any way. I 100% promise you that people are far less judgemental and far more supportive than you think. I've been there, I've worn the t-shirt. So has pretty much everyone you know. Last of all, and I think it needs to be said (it's something I try to remind myself of every now and again), there are people you love and there are people who love you. In life, you've already gotten an honours grade. Alright?

GAA

National League Semi-Final: Kerry v Tyrone, Saturday, 5.00pm, Fitzgerald Stadium

So.....they were our fiercest rivals for quite a time, and there was a bit of sincerity in the rivalry, too. Tyrone could quite justifiably feel that there was resentment to these confident upstarts with no real winning tradition. And there was. The only thing Mickey Harte ever did to Kerry was win. But at the same time, it wasn't nice football to watch. The blanket defence strangled our game, really. It was hugely successful, and you can be sure and certain that Kerry would not have hesitated to use it. In point of fact, we have been doing exactly that for quite a while now, and so does every other team, including Dublin. Before anyone gets on their high horse, take a snapshot of any time an opposition team are in a Kerry half, and tell me how Kerry players are back there as well? The difference is that Mickey Harte relied on a form of counter-attack for scores, whereas Dublin in particular accelerated the transition from defence to attack.

Except that this isn't Mickey Harte's team, not anymore. And that will be interesting in itself. Feargal Lohan and Brian Dooher have big boots to fill. And in all fairness, Cathal McShane out for the season with an injury is their equivalent of us losing David Clifford, let's be clear on that. Understandably enough, this is being billed as a cracker. And I do think that both managements will want a win. At this stage, you don't want the supporters questioning you, and you certainly don't want the players questioning themselves. This is when you want them really starting to believe that they can win the All Ireland.

Tyrone haven't actually been going all that great. Donegal beat them by two points. I don't think that Donegal team have quite the right gel and synchronicity in them yet, but I'm sure that they have the components and they are quite a long way down the right road, but I think they are closer than Tyrone. The big find for Tyrone was Paul Donaghy, who scored 0-10 in that game. A good forward named Donaghy Have you ever heard the likes of it? Donaghy is the first Tyrone player in quite a while that didn't come through their development system. Paudie Clifford is our own equivalent.

Mind you, I do think Kerry has a bit more fluidity and a wider variety of voices in our underage coaching set-ups; Tyrone's was more rigid.

They beat Armagh, which would be predictable enough these days, but they struggled. It was 2-15 to 2-10, and Armagh missed a penalty as well – in that it was saved, calling it a 'miss' is unfair on goalkeepers like Niall Morgan. Darren McCurry was the main scorer, while Mark Bradley was superb off the bench.

They finished with a 0-14 apiece draw with Monaghan. A bit more of a default Tyrone, with a bit more emphasis on numbers in defence. Not quite a reversion, but not quite as adventurous, and that's the approach I'm expecting tomorrow as well. They won't be risking the baby with the bathwater.

If they take a defensive approach, they'll be playing into our hands. Kerry have struggled of late against a high press, and I'd actually hope that Tyrone go for the slightly more risky, but I think much more profitable approach for them. We'd learn more lessons from it. Frankly, this is a nothing game. I have no interest in shared titles in a cobbled-together League of what is really warm-up games.

The significance of this one is how it will stand to us going forward, and I expect Kerry at home to have about three points to spare here at the end of a good game, despite the loss (very harshly, in my opinion) of Tadgh Morley. Kerry have a phenomenal record at the Fitzgerald Stadium. The biggest thing, and Peter Keane has quite rightly made no bones about this right from the start of the competition, is not to pick up any injuries.

HURLING

National League:

Kerry 4-30 Wicklow 1-17

There was only one thing we all wanted from this game, and to be honest it wasn't particularly about a win. The plain truth is that only one team is getting promoted, and our loss to Offaly basically means, with no disrespect to the other teams, that we are going to remain in Division Two unless they slip up badly. What's more, I don't want Kerry in Division One – Westmeath are there at the moment, and have zero points and a scoring difference of -89. The reality is that we wouldn't fare much better at that level.

No, the one thing we all wanted was for Kerry to emerge unscathed and with our big injury list getting better. Instead, it got an awful lot worse, and rapidly. Daniel Collins departed after just four minutes, picking up a nasty looking injury while scoring the opening point. Tomás O'Connor added another and they almost had a goal, with Shane Conway slotting the resultant '65. Shane Nolan made it 0-4 to 0-0 before Mikey Lee opened Wicklow's account and Michael Leane and Gary Hughes traded scores. Kerry a commanding lead at the water break. Kerry were always that bit faster in winning the breaks, with the defence once again rock solid. A Wicklow free for Christy Moorehouse saw a goal between them but two more important players for Kerry in Tomás O'Connor and Barry O'Mahony (personally I'd much prefer Barry in the backs than the forwards, but in the absence of the O'Leary brothers we need a bit of muscle up front). The game turned into a shooting exhibition by Shane Conway. He was unstoppable. At the end of the half, he wove through for a typically brilliant goal to add to his tally of eight points and Kerry led by 1-15 to 0-6 at half-time. Shane Nolan, Cian Hussey, Conway (2, 1f) and Jason Diggins made it 1-22 to 0-8 before Mikey Boyle powered home Kerry's second goal. Moorehouse pulled two points back, but it was like trying to stop a waterfall with an umbrella as Hussey pointed twice and Mikey once again drove through to goal again. In fairness to Christy Moorehouse, he held his nerve to score everything he could, but Kerry could run their bench and still win this one pulling up. Nathan Guerin's goal near the end was just the icing on the cake but I imagine, looking at his injured list, that cake must have tasted a little sour to Kerry manager Fintan O'Connor. It's no secret that Kerry are targeting the McDonagh Cup this year, but a full panel will definitely be needed.

The two Boyles Mikey and Pádraig stretched Kerry's lead, with Daniel Staunton pulling one back,

BASKETBALL

Congratulations to Leah McMahon of St. Pauls, who has been selected on the Ireland basketball squad for the Under 16 European Challenge tournament. Lissivigeen native Leah, daughter of Karl and Áine and granddaughter of the great Paddy 'Bomber' O'Shea, comes from a multi-talented sports family. Her uncles on both sides were key players for Dr. Crokes. Her uncle Stefan on her father's side represented Ireland in Junior soccer, while her uncle Aidan O'Shea played senior football for Kerry and juvenile basketball for his country – 'black cat, black kitten', as the old saying goes! Her brother

Leah McMahan who has been selected on the Irish basketball U16 squad.

Cian has represented Kerry in both football and soccer and was man of the match in last year's Munster Minor Final. Like Cian, Leah has represented the county in several codes, including gaelic football (she won the County Cumann na mBunscoil Skills Competition in 2019), soccer, and, of course, basketball.

Well, whatever shall we talk about?

Yeah, let's start with Andorra.

Ireland 4 Andorra 0

It has roughly the same population as Galway – the city, not the county. Imagine Stephen Kenny's team taking on Galway United? It's well known for its skiing. Soccer? Not so much. Andorra have just three wins in competitive matches, all of them 1-0. I'm not talking about in the recent campaigns. I literally mean they have only won three competitive games in their entire history. Their domestic league is composed of part-timers.

So watching them actually outplay Ireland was....well, we're a bit past the worrying stage, aren't we? Our midfield was very poor, to be honest. We keep hearing about the new tactical approach and keeping it on the ground and linking the passes.....yeah, I'm not seeing it. And our forwards looked even worse. In fairness, Ireland did create more chances. Robbie Keane would have cheerfully completed a hat-trick with consummate ease – Robbie was under-appreciated in his time, but he was always sharp and composed. But it was Andorra who looked the calmer side in possession, and that should be a real concern. Ireland's defence did well for the most part, but the defending for their goal....we have all but one player back defending a free kick, and you let a guy have a free header in the most dangerous position? Ah, lads! I'm not joking when I say you'd be unhappy to see your U11 team do that.

1-0 down to Andorra. I like Stephen Kenny – he's been given an awful hand by the failures of the FAI and I'm appalled at the relentless pressure being put on him, no-one should have to live with that. I also think that no-one should talk about getting rid of him without telling me who is going to replace him and yeah, Denis O'Brien isn't going to donate a huge salary this time. But if we lose to Andorra? I'm afraid even Dundalk FC – who are in the weeds themselves right now – would think twice about taking him back. In fact, it was a weak Irish team, with a lot of senior players unavailable – I can tell you straight out that if I was the club paying a players' wages, I wouldn't want them called away to play in this kind of meaningless game. Thankfully, we didn't. In fact, Ireland were humming with confidence by the finish. Troy Parrott was Ireland's star on the night and his goal arrived just minutes later to calm the nerves. The pass to him had a touch of luck in taking a deflection, but he still had a lot to do – I actually thought he had delayed the shot too long and wasted the chance, but he picked the perfect spot and neatly fired it in. His second goal arrived again in a few minutes after a good cross by Conor Hourihane. It was a relatively easy one to nod home and Parrott did so. I've thought Parrott a bit overrated – he was yet another young lad suddenly plucked out as our next superstar; we have a bad habit of doing that and I always ask why Premiership clubs aren't interested if that's the case – but they were two decent goals. Andorra's part-timers seemed deflated after the goal and, as very often happens in these games, they ran out of steam against the professionals, with Jason Knight and Daryl Horgan also on target. They were poor goals to give away – but great goals for us, because after our scoring drought, players could leave the pitch with a bit of confidence – it's been a while since that happened!

Ireland 0 Hungary 0

Hungary (ironically, one of the few teams actually beaten by Andorra once upon a time, by coincidence!) have qualified for the Euros. This is a big chance to take that confidence after pretty much doubling the goal tally of Stephen Kenny's reign in close enough to a half hour, and put it up to the kind of team that we once would have been considered favourites against.

No goal on either side. And to be honest, not all that many goal chances, despite RTE trying to inflate potential moments. In fact, one of Ireland's best players on the night had the best chance, and it was none other than John Egan just five minutes in, crashing his header off the crossbar. Let us just whisper it.....I reckon his Dad would have put that in....

Both Irish keepers had to make great saves, no doubt about that, but a couple of the saves that were hailed as miraculous by the commentators as wonderful were fairly bread and butter. Listen, I honestly found the game a bit 'meh', to be honest. Don't misunderstand me – that isn't a criticism. I'm just saying that there were no daring tactical moves, no genius moments of individual skill. There is no moment where you could show it on video and show it to neutral fans of soccer from other countries and they would go "Wow! You should become a you tuber!".

For the first time in a very long time. I actually saw real, actual positives in this game, far more than the Andorra match. Midfield was a big improvement and a lot more assured. You still don't have a real dominant central midfielder, a pivot. You don't have a willingness to take players on. But they were claiming responsibility and calling for the ball (a crucial element as far as I am concerned – on the hard days, make sure you are in the thick of it). Knight, a player I have been very sceptical of, stepped up. I'm not saying he's a definite or ready for the big guns, but he is better than I had rated him. Cullen, although still not great, was a lot better. Our defence has actually been fairly decent over the past while; that hasn't been our problem. But McClean, playing with more space (in GAA terms, he was more a wingback than a corner back here), was a massive improvement on recent games. He's one player who does look reinvigorated by confidence and he gave great leadership. Bazunu was still our best player in the first half, though, and that says something to me.

At the same time, Ireland seemed to have a more pragmatic approach to me. And just a personal bugbear, but most soccer commentators have it completely wrong in using 'pragmatism' as the opposite of 'flair'. It isn't. It really isn't. Ireland's approach under O'Neill and McCarthy was solid but no more than that, and we don't have any top quality goalscorers at the moment and I'm sorry, but that really is something no manager can do anything about. So changing it was the right way to go. But it turned out that we really don't have actual ball-carriers of this level. We simply aren't able to do it. It's like picking small forwards and thinking that high balls into the box are your best route of attack. It's not going to work.

The system felt looser here. Not a complete return to the old ways – which, as I say, were not working – but a concession towards it. In other words, a pragmatic decision.

Ireland, even though we got a scare near the end, with Kelliher doing well to save, felt the more likely side to win at that stage. Now, that's not a good sign for Hungary. Are you kidding me? Have you seen who is in their group? Seriously. Let's just say that the Portugal side that includes Bernardo Silva, Bruno Fernandes, Diogo Jota, Joao Felix, Joao Moutinho, Ruben Dias, and some lad called Cristiano Ronaldo, are considered Hungary's best chance for a win. But that's not our problem.

We're in a well, not a good place as a national team, but we felt like a real, competitive team again. That, frankly, hasn't happened in a long time.

BOXING

Aidan and Michaela Walsh, both of whom box with the Monkstown Club in Belfast, made Irish boxing history by becoming the first brother and sister to represent Ireland at the Olympics in the sport. Jessie Barr qualified for the 2012 Olympics in athletics and her brother Thomas qualified four years later and has qualified for this year's competition as well this week along with Michelle Finn. The Hooper brothers Pat and Dick both ran for Ireland at the 1980 Olympics.

Brendan Irvine, Kurt Walker, Aoife O'Rourke, Kellie Harrington (gold medal winner at the Olympic qualifiers in Paris last Tuesday. Though she had already qualified for Tokyo on Saturday), and Emmet Byrne are the other boxers on the Irish team. Boxing has traditionally been our best Olympic sport. Of the 31 medals we have won in total, 16 have been won in boxing. John McNally (silver 1952), Fred Tiedt (silver 1956), Tony 'Socks' Byrne (bronze 1956) John Caldwell (bronze 1956), Freddie Gilroy (1956), Jim McCourt (bronze, 1964), Hugh Russell (bronze, 1980), Michael Carruth (gold, 1992), Wayne McCullough (silver, 1992), Kenneth Egan (silver, 2008), Darren Sutherland, bronze 2008), Paddy Barnes (bronze in both 2008 and 2012), Katie Taylor (gold, 2012), John Joe Nevin (silver 2012), and Michael Conlan (bronze 2012) all stood on the podium at some stage. Of course, the badly handled departure of Billy Walsh had a severe impact. The judging in the boxing was one of the biggest talking points after the Rio Games (I still say that while Michael Conlan was by far the more aggressive fighter, he didn't actually land as many of those punches as people think) but the reason for Ireland's poor results is a bit more obvious, it seems to me.

I'm afraid I let you all down a bit because I can't comment on the Floyd Mayweather half piggyback/half boxing match – an exhibition bout where one fighter lighter carried the other for most of it. I was going to watch it, but I'm afraid my brain kicked in and absolutely refused point blank to watch that rubbish.

SWIMMING

I'll admit that swimming is not a sport that I give too much attention to – in fact, like most people, I could only have named Michael Phelps, Ian Thorpe, and Killarney's own Niamh O'Sullivan.

But my heart goes out to Ireland's four x 100m mens' relay team. They and the 200m freestyle mens' team were invited by FINA to join the twelve automatically qualified teams. Ireland's 100m team were initially told they had received one of the four remaining spots after their time at the European Championships in Budapest last month, but they have now been told that FINA had overlooked a faster time clocked up by Greece in a meet in Athens afterwards. Switzerland's medley team have been told the same thing.

Look, young people dedicate their lives to reaching the Olympics. God rest the great Murt O'Shea from Kilgarvan, an absolutely lovely man. We would chat for hours about the Olympics. He could name all of Ireland's medallists and name most other Irish participants straight off the top of his head.

To get there is the pinnacle of dreams. But to get there, to qualify for it, and then have that invitation withdrawn because of an error? That's heartbreak. And look, I don't like being the one to say it (believe me, I have made many, many mistakes) but this is disgraceful. Ireland are appealing, and I hope they succeed.

KSBGL INAUGURAL SUMMER COMPETITIONS KICK OFF WITH 50 TEAMS IN ACTION

The inaugural KSBGL Summer competitions being run now that competitive matches are allowed again got off to a great start with 25 games down for decision on Bank Holiday Monday. Games continued through the week with a full round again this Saturday.

For the Girls that will see two Blitz's for the 11's at Killarney Athletic and Killarney Celtic with 16 teams taking part as well as action in the 13's and 15's Girls competitions. For the Boys it's the 11's, 13's and 15's with the 12's in action on following Monday night.

11'S CUP AND SHIELD ACTION

The 11's games are all about giving the players time on the pitch and therefore the overall score is not recorded. However with all clubs have multiple teams the competition is divided North and South into a Cup and Shield.

In the North Cup there were wins for Listowel Celtic, LB Rovers while Tralee Dynamos and the Park played out a cracking draw. The Dynamos took the win on golden goal. In the South section Mastergeeha's two sides recorded with as did Killarney Celtic.

In the North Shield teams from Listowel Celtic, LB Rovers and Mastergeeha took the wins while in the South Killorglin and Killarney Athletic had wins with Ballyhar and Inter Kenmare drawing. The 22 teams from the 11's section that were in action today were a credit to their clubs, coaches and parents.

Reports:

Listowel Celtic and Killarney Athletic win while Killorglin A and Killarney Celtic A draw in the 14's: The spoils were shared in the opening 14's Cup Group game between Killorglin A and Killarney Celtic A as it ended 3-3. Celtic went ahead through Cian Mulcahy before James Jones got his first of two for Celtic. Dara Griffin then saved a Killorglin penalty but the soon hit the net and goals from Jones again and Rob Baggett saw Killorglin lead 3-1. But Celtic were determined not to lose on the opening day and goals from Cillian Murphy and Pearce Moynihan levelled up the match. Killarney Athletic took the win at home to Tralee Dynamos in the evening kick-off. Christy Burke and Ryan Driscoll got the goals for Dynamos but goals from Luke Doolan 4, Fionn Daly 2 and Joey McCarthy saw the home side enjoying an opening day win.

In Group B Listowel Celtic brought their shooting boots to Fenit and goals from Tristan Barry, John Carmody 3, Conor Sweeney 3, Dylan Costello and Kiegan Moloney gave them the win. Michael O'Sullivan, Jevin Carey and Charlie Nolan replied for Fenit.

In the 14's Shield a goal from Jerry Lynch was not enough to earn his St Brendan's Park side anything from their game at Christy Leahy Park as Camp Juniors took the win 3-1. Darragh Murphy 2 and Dylan Harrington were the Camp Juniors scorers.

Mastergeeha A were a little too strong for Listowel Celtic B also in Group A.

In Group B goals from Jamie Vousden, Joe Hoare, Ryan Carey, Noah O'Shea, Conor Tangney and Jamie Daly saw MEK Galaxy Orange take the win at home to Killarney Athletic B. Inter Kenmare B were 3-0 winners at home to Killarney Celtic B thanks to goals from Diarmuid Healy, Alex Sheehan and John O'Sullivan.

Killorglin B and Mastergeeha B played out a 1-1 draw with both goals coming in the second half. Daniel O'Keefe was on the mark for the home side with Sean Maher getting the Mastergeeha goal.

Goals either side of half time by Eugene Daniel and Jake Keeting were enough to give Ballyhar Dynamos a 2-1 away Tralee Dynamos. The home side pulled one back thanks to Tobi Obedeya who scored from the penalty spot.

EVEN AGE ACTION FOR THE GIRLS

In the 12's Girls Cup Mastergeeha and St Brendan's Park were involved in a cracker in Kilbrean Park. The Tralee girls went 2-0 up but two goals from the excellent Amy Brosnan saw the sides draw level. However the Park girls finished the stronger winning 4-2.

In the 16's Girls Cup Listowel Celtic's experience made them too strong for a gallant Dingle Bay Rovers side. Ava Horan, Trina Kennedy, Lily Twomey, Laura Falvey, Ruth O'Connor and Kelly Enright saw Celtic take the win. Beibhann Sheehy, Emma O'Connor and Aoife Kennedy put in very strong displays for the West Kerry side. Fenit Samphires and Inter Kenmare played out an exciting 2-2 draw. Goals from Katie Hussey (penalty) and Jade Harkin had the home side 2-1 up at the break with Katie O'Leary also impressing. Laoise Carey and Grace Foley got the goals for Inter Kenmare.

KERRY PITCH & PUTT CLUB NEWS

After returning for casual play on April 26th and club competitions from May 10th, Pitch & Putt now moves on to outside competitions for the first time this year this coming weekend as the delayed 2020 National Strokeplay Championships take place this coming weekend in Cork (Mens) and Westmeath (Ladies).

The Championships were postponed last September due to the Public Health situation at the time but go ahead now with the largest every Kerry contingent going to a National Singles event as a result of the increase in finalists. There are new venues in Cork now as well for the Mens event with St Annes in Cork hosting the Junior (Saturday) and Senior (Sunday) while the St Stephens club will be hosting the Intermediate Mens event on Saturday. There will be four senior men from the county in the finals in the form of Deerpark's Damien Fleming, Castleisland's James Dignan along with Tralee duo Jason Cregan and Alan Hobbart.

The Intermediate grade sees Kerry represented by Tralee's Michael Conway and Keith O'Brien, Deerpark's Lorcan Martin and James Fleming, Castleisland's Timmy Looney and John Fitzgerald along with Newmarket's Willie John Buckley. The Junior Mens grade meanwhile sees Castleisland's Noel Lee, Sean Prendiville, Tadhg Walsh and Paudie Looney along with Tralee's Pa Fitzgibbon and Brian Moynihan, Deerpark's Hugh O'Sullivan, Listowel's Jake Shine and Newmarket's Con Buckley will be the 9 representatives from the Kerry clubs in the finals.

We wish all 20 Kerry players the best of luck in both Cork venues this weekend. Elsewhere the Bob Casey Memorial Inter-Club Strokeplay returns this year and will begin on Tuesday June 15th in Tralee and will be held in Deerpark (June 22nd), Castleisland (June 29th), Listowel (July 6th) and Newmarket (July 13th) over the following Tuesday nights.

Full details are on the County Board Facebook page and are also available from the clubs themselves.

A Word of Victory

Welcome back dear reader "Have you not known? Have you not heard? The Lord is the everlasting God, the Creator of the ends of the earth. He does not faint or grow weary; His understanding is unsearchable. He gives power to the weak, and to Him who has no might He increases strength. Even youths shall faint and be weary, and young men shall fall exhausted; but they who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles; they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint." (Isaiah 40:28-31)

This is one of my favourite Scripture verses. It always re-focuses me, taking my eyes off myself and unto the power of God. We all get worn out and dragged down at times, but this reminds me that God never gets weary, and when I feel faint and weak and overwhelmed by difficult circumstances or difficult people, it is my relationship with God and my knowledge of His strength that empowers me to keep going. But there is a condition – waiting on God.

Waiting here translates to mean to hope in God and expect Him to come - looking for Him eagerly. But it also means to bind together like the way you would twist a rope. The more time I spend with the Lord studying His Word and talking to Him and then listening to what He is saying to me - the stronger I become. He gives me His power when I am weak. He increases my strength when it feels like I cannot go on. And dear friend, God has no favourites, so He wants to do that for you too!

The culture nowadays has people spending a lot of time getting their physical health in order. And that's great - but many very physically fit people are limp spiritually. We work on developing and strengthening our core which holds up our whole body, but it is our spirit that holds up our life. This is why some people struggle with depression and anxiety even though to an outsider looking in they appear to have it all. But without God a person has nothing. God's Son the Lord Jesus paid the highest ransom for you and me to be set free from sin so we could live a blessed life, strong in the Lord and in the power of His might. He gave His life so that we could be saved (John 3:16-21). It cost God everything He held precious to minister His love for us. He wants you to live victorious, strengthened with His might in your inner self. Today ask the Lord Jesus to come into your heart and be Lord so that you don't have to rely on your own strength anymore. It brings great relief to know that God has got you covered. From His Presence comes peace, joy, strength and power all wrapped up in His 'agape' or unconditional Love for you.

Most assuredly, I say to you, he who hears My word and believes in Him who sent Me has everlasting life, and shall not come into judgment, but has passed from death into life.

Sin is an unpopular word, but Scripture teaches that it is a big problem for all of mankind: Jesus came to free us from it.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT & 1ST ANNIVERSARY

IN LOVING MEMORY OF
DERMOT O'CALLAGHAN

LEAMNAGUILLA, KILCUMMIN, KILLARNEY, CO KERRY
WHO SADLY PASSED AWAY ON 11TH JUNE 2020

On the sad occasion of Dermot's first anniversary, his loving wife Hannah, son's Michael Hugh and Batt, daughter's Bridget and Josephine, son in law, daughters in law, grandchildren, brothers and sisters and the extended family wish to express our deepest gratitude to everyone who sympathised with us during this difficult time. Due to covid 19 restrictions our father had a family funeral and our heartfelt thanks to our wonderful neighbours and friends from all walks of life who as a mark of respect lined both sides of the road as his funeral cortege passed by, at home at the church and at the cemetery. Thanks to all those who would have liked to have attended Dermot funeral but were unable to do so, your mass cards, letters, phone calls, RIP condolences and floral tributes are very much appreciated.

Sincere thanks to Fr Padraig Kennelly for his kindness and understanding and for celebrating a very personal Funeral Mass. Thank you to Michael Sheahan, Bernard Tagney and O'Connors Funeral home for managing all the funeral arrangements in such a compassionate way.

We would like to express our deep appreciation for the care received from the doctors, nurses, and staff on the Aghadoe and Muckross wards of UHK and the Brooklands Medical Centre. We would also like to express our thank and gratitude to the doctors, nurses, and staff of Killarney Community Hospital who took great care of Dermot in his final weeks which we will never forget and a special thank you to Fr Kieran O'Brien who visited him often. We hold so many people dear in our hearts for the support they continue to give us. We thank our dear friends and neighbours for your thoughtfulness and practical help and for your many regular acts of kindness and support. A mass has been offered for all your intentions.

*Will those who think of him today,
A little payer to Jesus say.*

Sadly missed and always remembered by his loving family.

Anniversary Mass on Saturday 12th June 2021 in Castleisland Church at 6.15pm
