CYSTIC FIBROSIS IRELAND AND TREVOR O'DONOGHUE OPEN

'The Cost of Breathing' exhibition in Killarney Library

Cystic Fibrosis Ireland (CFI) in collaboration with Killarney based photographer, Trevor O'Donoghue, are proud to announce the opening of 'The Cost of Breathing' photography exhibition in Killarney Library on the 10th February 2026.

Cllr Michael Foley, Cathaoirleach, Kerry County Council, cut the ribbon, officially opening the exhibition, while Cllr Martin O'Grady, Mayor of Killarney, was also in attendance.

The launch of the exhibition marks the beginning of a national tour which aims to highlight the societal and economic challenges that many people living with Cystic Fibrosis (pwCF) face, despite advancements in recent years.

Research conducted by CFI in 2025 shows the significant financial burden many people with CF and their families regularly face. Among the findings are:

44.9% of pwCF struggling to meet their monthly bills

28.1% of pwCF are unable to work due to their CF

30.3% of those pwCF in full time employment experience enforced deprivation

63.8% of pwCF receiving Disability Allowance experience enforced deprivation

Presenting the data at the CFI National Conference 2026, Sarah Tecklenborg, CEO CFI, commented "Our research highlighted the significant financial burden many people with CF and their families face daily. Whether they are a parent who gives up work for the caring responsibilities required to keep a child with CF well, a person with CF covering the extensive costs of multiple hospital visits each year or missing education or career opportunities due to CF, there are significant lifelong financial stresses associated with CF"

Cystic Fibrosis Ireland today highlight the enforced deprivation and emerging challenges for people with Cystic Fibrosis, despite the improvement in life experience and expectancy in recent years.

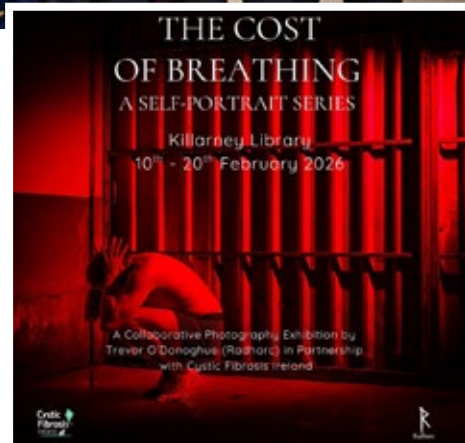

Trevor O'Donoghue of Radharc Perspective & Life Coaching, is a person with CF. He became involved in the project to strengthen awareness of the realities of living with the condition, which is sometimes referred to as a hidden disability/illness.

"Ireland is no stranger to the story of CF. The journey from being a childhood illness to the positivity that we see now, has been paved with many great advocacy and awareness initiatives. However, this exhibition tells an untold part of that story and asks what it feels like to survive in a system where everything has a cost, even the breath in your lungs," Trevor explains.

"I created seven pieces which were first shown at the online exhibition in October. Each one is embedded in a different emotion, illustrated with a different colour and highlights the very real issues of life with CF. These are based on first-hand, lived experience, but also second and third hand experiences, through discussions with my partner, who also lives with an illness, and others in the CF community in Ireland."

Sarah Tecklenborg, CEO CFI said: "We would like to thank Killarney Library for featuring the exhibition. We are incredibly proud to be working with Trevor and it is very special to begin the national tour in his home town. 'The Cost of Breathing' is not a comfortable story, but it is one told with hope. Trevor confronts the pervasiveness of social and economic poverty yet shares the positivity of his story. We invite everyone to visit the exhibition and join us on the journey to highlight and address these uneasy truths."

The photographs were first exhibited online in October 2025 and will be available for public viewing in multiple locations around Ireland until June 2026.

Pioneering Cadaver Water Search Dog Training Underway in Killarney

A groundbreaking training programme aimed at developing Ireland's first Cadaver Water Search Dogs is now underway in Killarney, marking a significant step forward for specialist search and recovery capability nationwide.

Éadaoin O'Gorman, Training Officer with ISSARD (Ireland's Specialist Search and Rescue Dogs), is leading the initiative as part of the organisation's ongoing development of highly trained dogs to assist in missing persons search, rescue, and recovery operations across the country.

ISSARD, a nationally based voluntary search and rescue organisation, has spent the past two to three years developing land-based Human Remains Detection (HRD), commonly known as cadaver dogs. However, a growing operational need has been identified for dogs capable of working from boats to detect human remains submerged underwater - a discipline not previously developed in Ireland.

Training taking place on the lakes.

"This is the first programme of its kind in the country," Éadaoin explained. "We are building this capability from the ground up with volunteer handlers, with the aim of providing a valuable national resource for communities when recovery operations require specialist support on water."

The project officially began in Killarney on January 25th, 2026, and training sessions will continue in the area every two weeks throughout 2026 and into 2027. Developing dogs to an operational standard for water search is a long-term process requiring patience, precision, and careful progression.

A key partner in the project is Killarney Water Rescue Search and Recovery, whose operational experience and strict safety standards on the water make them ideal training collaborators. Although the dogs involved already have significant experience locating cadaver odour on land, working from a boat presents entirely new challenges.

"On land, dogs can range freely across an area. On a boat, their movement is restricted. They must adjust to an unstable surface, the motion of the water, engine noise, wind conditions, and working in a confined space. All of this changes how they experience and respond to scent," Éadaoin said.

As a result, the training has been deliberately stripped back to basics. Early sessions are highly controlled and largely passive, allowing handlers to observe subtle behavioural changes that indicate scent detection rather than expecting a formal response.

During the first session, a specialist training aid was placed approximately two metres below the water's surface in calm conditions. Teams worked in controlled search patterns across the lake while handlers closely watched for indicators such as a sudden head lift, the dog's nose moving over the side of the boat, changes in posture, or increased focus and intensity.

One dog, Rylee, responded from further out than expected and displayed clear, confident behaviour upon entering the scent area - an encouraging sign at such an early stage of the programme.

Over time, the dogs will be trained to give a clear final response, typically a bark, to indicate the strongest source of odour. Once fully trained and formally assessed, these teams will be capable of deployment to assist in real recovery searches.

Killarney has proven to be an ideal training environment for this specialised work, and ISSARD is committed to developing this capability in the area over the coming years.

Outside of her role with ISSARD, Éadaoin is also the founder of Hounds and Helis, where she teaches Mantrailing Dog Training and both land and water-based cadaver dog sport training. She plans to run training classes in Killarney throughout 2026 for members of the public interested in learning more about these disciplines in a structured and responsible way. As the programme progresses, the hope is that these pioneering dogs and their handlers will become an invaluable asset in supporting recovery efforts for families and communities across Ireland.

Valerie Adds Another Award to the Mantelpiece

Award-winning Killarney photographer Valerie O'Sullivan has added yet another accolade to her growing list of achievements after receiving a top honour at the Press Photographers Ireland CLG Annual Awards in Dublin.

Valerie, who works as a freelance photographer, was presented with the AIB Sustainability Award 2026 by Barry Field, Corporate Affairs Director at AIB Ireland, in recognition of her striking photographic reportage titled Reviving, Restoring, Re-Thatching.

The award-winning body of work documents the careful re-thatching of an 18th-century family cottage on Valentia Island, capturing the revival of the ancient craft through the skilled hands of master thatcher Richard and his apprentice, Billy. The series highlights the traditional 'fadóg' thatching method and celebrates the preservation of heritage skills that are increasingly rare in modern Ireland.

Judges praised Valerie's entry, noting her "delightful use of colour and composition" in telling the story of restoration and renewal through imagery.

Speaking after the awards ceremony, Valerie said she was thrilled with the recognition.

"I'm delighted to win two awards at the Press Photographers Ireland and AIB Ireland annual photographic awards in Dublin," she said. "The picture montage, Restoring, Re-Thatching, Reviving, tells the story of restoring an 18th-century family cottage on Valentia Island using traditional methods, with master thatcher Richard and his apprentice Billy practising this ancient craft."

Valerie's work continues to shine a light on Ireland's cultural heritage through powerful visual storytelling, earning her national recognition while bringing local stories to a wider audience.

Reviving, restoring, re-thatching

Re-thatching the O'Neill old family dwelling house at Tinnie's Lower, Valentia Island, County Kerry. It is one of the only remaining rope thatched dwelling houses in Ireland. This rare form of thatching uses purple moor grass known locally as 'Fadac' - luckily the Fadac is harvested on the north side of the Island. The vernacular farmstead dates back to the early 1800's. The O'Neills live close by. When Master thatcher, Richard Ó Loideoin and his apprentice Billy, pulled back the tarp cover from the cottage, they discovered the unique structure had its original roof intact. Together they are dedicated to the preservation and conservation of this unique form of thatching.

Plans in Place for Killarney Daffodil Day Coffee Morning

The Irish Cancer Society's Killarney Daffodil Day 2026 Coffee Morning will take place on Friday, February 20, at the Killarney Towers Hotel from 10.30am to 12 noon.

Organisers are inviting the local community to come along, enjoy a cup of tea or coffee, and support a vital cause, reminding people that "Every donation makes a difference."

The event is part of the national Daffodil Day campaign, which raises essential funds for cancer support services, research and care for patients and families across Ireland.

The impact of these donations is significant. In 2025, public support helped fund over 5,900 nights of Night Nursing care, allowing patients at the end of life to spend their final days at home surrounded by loved ones. More than 29,800 free lifts were provided to bring 2,800 patients safely to and from cancer treatment.

Supporters also helped enable over 26,700 conversations through the Irish Cancer Society Support Line and Daffodil Centre nurses, while more than 14,300 free counselling sessions were funded for those affected by cancer. In addition, 179 families received assistance through the Irish Cancer Society Children's Fund to help with the cost of a childhood cancer diagnosis.

All are welcome to attend the coffee morning, show their support and contribute to the ongoing work of the Irish Cancer Society.

looks at the positive news
happening in Killarney

THE TRUE COST OF SO-CALLED GREENWAYS BEGINNING TO DAWN

The good news is Kerry may shortly have up to 100 kms of greenways. In reality, these are roadways needing maintenance. And because they are "off-road" ways, they will need things like toilets and car parks. Just like motorways, in fact.

Record sums have been assigned to Kerry's network of greenways in 2026. Millions will be spent on the South Kerry Greenway.

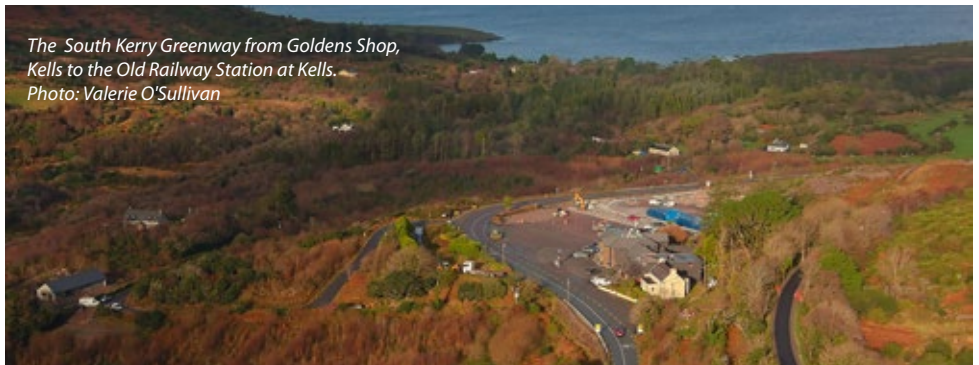

The bad news - this money is only for capital works.

Teddy O'Sullivan Casey of Kenmare raised the issue at the local council meeting. He wants dedicated maintenance crews.

There isn't a bob for maintenance, the Department of Transport told me after the meeting. And yes, the TII and local authorities all over the country are raising this, the Department said.

The South Kerry Greenway will reach a quarter of a way around the 120 km Ring of Kerry. I wonder did this council and our councillors bite off more than they could chew going gung-ho for greenways?

We can't fill the potholes on major or minor roads. And on this note: Is it too much to question why only motorways are tolled. Could minor roads to popular mountain areas, some of which are semi-private, part-paid for by some residents, not also be tolled?

All that is left on Mangerton where hundreds of cars descend from Cork each weekend is the proverbial steam...with people speeding to the mountain and then running behind the furze bushes when short-taken. Meanwhile the narrow roads, and farm gateways are regularly blocked, despite the signs asking the Corkonians to respect residents. Would a toll at the end of the road be a good idea? I can't see why our councillors are not pushing for tolls for minor roads. They may yet need to toll to pay for the greenways. By the way, Corkonians needn't bother taking offence: I and other Kerry students put up with years of books of Kerryman jokes written by a UCC maths lecturer during our time in that city.

RECOGNITION FOR WOMEN STILL OUTSTANDING IN KILLARNEY

John O'Donoghue, councillor, recently enquired as to why at the Mission Memorial in The Fern Garden, there is no mention of the enormous contribution made by women, particularly nuns. He gave a fine address on the issue - not before time.

(That monument on Mission Road was not erected that long ago by the then all male council and it should have been gender proofed and gender balanced from the off, is my thinking. But then we have more monuments to birds, fish, deer and even otters in Killarney than we have to women!

John went on to say how Ireland and Killarney have a long and rich history of missionary work abroad. Women numbered at least as many as the men, "and quite likely far exceeded the number of their male counterparts, largely through the efforts of the various orders of nuns."

In response, the council said they would welcome engagement or recommendations for women's names to be added to the memorial.

There has been a change of heart since, John tells me. It is now likely to erect something dedicated to all the women who worked on the missions.

I have a further suggestion - women in Killarney have for too long been caught between the Spéir Bhean and the Blessed Virgin. And soon the nuns, if John has his way. It is high time for a down to earth monument to on the ground women who stayed local. My suggestion is something akin to Molly Malone, but instead of a fishmonger with a wheelbarrow, a respectable waitress in a black and white high collar carrying a tray and with a sense of great energy and movement. This would recognise women's enormous contribution in building the hotel industry in Killarney. Most of the big hotels in Killarney were begun by people's grandmothers, mothers, wives, sisters and so on. Theirs was a hands-on effort. So a smiling woman in a spotless white apron and cap stepping out onto the street at the Market Cross would be a fun and ideal tribute to the women of Killarney.

SPECIAL NEEDS ASSISTANTS CATEGORY COULD THEY BE RENAMED CLASSROOM ASSISTANTS?

One can't help being suspicious about the cuts to Special Needs Assistants (SNAs). No sooner have we heard primary school population nationally is dropping significantly than cuts are introduced. The give away in the National Council for Special Education response was the line "support in schools may fluctuate including falling enrolments, reduced or increased care needs and changing demographics as children move from primary to post-primary schools."

The NCSE points out how the growth in SNAs in Kerry has been significant from 616 in 2020/21 to 861 in 2026.

I am uncomfortable with too much labeling. And too narrow diagnoses.

Paul Favier, principal of the two teacher Glenflesk NS which is set to lose half its quota of SNAs has a well-considered view of the whole thing. The criteria for SNAs, set down in 2014 needs to be changed, Paul says. Like myself he has difficulty with the narrowness of the title SNA. Kerry has changed much with the huge influx in population and the needs of children traumatised by war and displacement and living in hotels and such are not under the criteria. The criteria should be broadened, Paul believes.

Would it not be altogether more sensible to have a name change and have as in other countries classroom assistants, I ask? Most SNAs help out not just with their charges but with the general school needs of children in the playground and in the classroom. If you think about it, healthcare has undergone a transition with care assistants working alongside nurses. Society has become much more complex in the past decade in Ireland. Children, even those without formal labelling or diagnoses, are suffering anxiety, there is family breakdown, immigration and emigration and you would want to be remarkable indeed not to suffer some kind of syndrome. There is also huge change for the local indigenous population, adults and children, something that is rarely factored.

So, a kinder, more inclusive label would be for classroom assistants for all teachers to help all children in all schools while also keeping the special units.

And whilst we are at it, would we not include early childhood education in all schools and pay the early educators. Some solutions are so obvious.

There were jubilant scenes in Killarney last weekend as Sinéad O'Shea received a cheque for an incredible €1,000,000, sparking celebrations among family and friends. The life-changing prize was presented by the team from online gameshow Ooosch Giveaways at a gathering in The Laurels lounge, where the atmosphere was filled with excitement and pride for the popular local woman from O'Sullivan's Place.

Sinéad had been relaxing at home on Wednesday night, watching Netflix, when her phone rang with the news that she had become a millionaire. She is only the second person ever to win €1 million through Ooosch Giveaways.

Already thinking ahead, Sinéad shared that her first treat will be a round of golf with friends at the renowned Adare Manor.

Among those leading the celebrations at The Laurels was Sinéad's mother, Anne O'Shea, along with her siblings Padraig, John, Colm, Aidan & Áine and her nieces, nephews and friends. Sinéad's late father, Paddy 'Bomber' O'Shea, was a well-known figure in Kerry GAA circles thanks to his lifelong involvement with Dr Crokes GAA Club.

SHOCK AT PROPOSED LOSS OF SNA'S at Fossa National School

HERE HAS BEEN WIDESPREAD SHOCK AT THE NEWS THIS WEEK OF THE PROPOSED LOSS OF FOUR SPECIAL NEEDS ASSISTANTS AT FOSSA NATIONAL SCHOOL.

Cathaoirleach of the Killarney Municipal District, Martin Grady was requested by teachers and parents of students from Fossa National School to contact the Minister's Office regarding this substantial loss to the teaching staff at the school.

"This is not acceptable, Cllr. Grady said, "the students were assessed prior to been allocated SNA's and miraculously SNA's are now to be axed, those children weren't reassessed to justify these cuts, the school as a whole was reassessed not the individuals. "The Government have no issue populating the country but won't provide sufficient resources across the sectors in this case education." This decision must be appealed. I fear this will be the case in other schools across the county, If left unchallenged"

Writing to the Minister, Cllr. Grady said:

Dear Minister,
I am writing in my capacity as Mayor of Killarney to express my serious concern regarding the recent NCSE review outcome which has resulted in the proposed loss of four permanent Special Needs Assistant (SNA) positions at Fossa National School, Killarney. This represents an alarming 40% reduction in SNA support within a school community of 247 pupils, with mainstream support reducing from six SNAs to just two.

This decision has caused deep shock and distress among staff, parents and the wider school community. SNAs play a critical and irreplaceable role in supporting children's educational development, wellbeing, and integration within the classroom and broader school environment. The removal of four posts will place significant strain on remaining staff and will inevitably impact the quality of support available to students, including those with additional needs as well as the wider student body.

I am particularly concerned by reports that the review was conducted following a short inspection visit which, it is understood, did not include consultation with the SNAs themselves. There is a strong local view that this assessment may not accurately reflect the daily realities, level of care needs, and operational demands within the school.

The recent announcement under Budget 2026 of an additional 1,717 SNA posts, bringing the national total to 24,900, was widely welcomed as a commitment to inclusion and educational equality. However, the situation facing Fossa National School appears to contradict the spirit of that investment. Furthermore, uncertainty surrounding redeployment arrangements has created significant anxiety and insecurity for staff.

I respectfully urge that this decision be urgently reviewed. It is essential that transparent communication is provided regarding redeployment processes and future supports, and that every effort is made to retain the existing SNA capacity within the school. Supporting SNA provision is fundamentally an investment in equality, inclusion, and the right of every child to access education in a supportive environment.

I understand that the school has a limited window to lodge an appeal, with a closing date of 13 February. Given the urgency and the potential long-term consequences of this decision, I would greatly appreciate your immediate engagement with this matter and your support in ensuring a fair and thorough reassessment.

Thank you for your attention to this critical issue. I look forward to your response.

Yours sincerely,
Mayor of Killarney
Cllr Martin Grady

RESPONSE FROM THE MINISTERS OFFICE

Our Ref: EDU-MOSSE-00528-2026

Dear Cllr. Grady,
I refer to your recent correspondence in relation to SNA support at Fossa National School.

The National Council for Special Education (NCSE) has responsibility for coordinating and advising on the education provision and care support for children and young people with special educational needs in our schools, including the allocation of special needs assistant (SNA) support to schools.

Reflecting the central role SNAs play in the successful inclusion of students with additional and significant care needs in schools my department has been steadily building the level of SNA support in our education system. By the end of the 2026/27 school year there will be close to 25,000 SNAs in our mainstream classes, special classes and special schools. They play a key role in supporting children and young people with special educational needs as part of a whole school approach which also includes almost 22,000 special educational teachers.

There are many reasons why the level of need for SNA support in schools may fluctuate including falling enrolments, reduced or increased care needs and changing demographics as children move from primary to post-primary schools.

The NCSE reviews of SNA allocation in a school is a very detailed examination of the care needs in all settings within the continuum of provision in a school so as to ensure that SNAs are allocated to schools to support students who have the greatest level of significant care needs. Where an NCSE review identifies a decrease in the level of care need in a school and where this decrease is significant, it results in a reduction in the SNA allocation to that school. Schools that are not satisfied with the outcome of their SNA review may avail of the NCSEs internal appeal mechanism. Furthermore, where a school is not satisfied with the outcome of the appeal on the basis that they consider the process was not followed, the school can refer the matter to the independently chaired Appeals Advisory Committee (AAC). Further information on these processes is available from the NCSE website www.ncse.ie.

While the NCSE allocation and review processes are essential to ensure SNA support is provided where it is most needed, I do not underestimate the impact of a reduction in allocation on SNAs personally. This is among the reasons my department is working with the NCSE to develop an SNA redeployment scheme. This important policy initiative which is in the final stages of development will ensure that as far as possible, competent, knowledgeable, and experienced SNAs are retained in our schools.

The SNA redeployment scheme is being implemented for the 2025/26 school year, providing an opportunity for redeployment of SNAs as the need arises for the start of the 2026/27 school year. It is important to note that SNAs in surplus posts identified through the NCSEs SNA Review process will remain in the relevant school for the rest of the 2025/26 academic year. Assuming no change to SNA allocations in the meantime, eligible SNAs in standard posts (both full-time and part-time) who opt for redeployment may be redeployed to a new post in September 2026.

Updates and final details of the SNA Redeployment Scheme, including a circular and comprehensive guidelines, will be published on the NCSE website and the SNA Information Hub on www.gov.ie as work progresses.

My department and the NCSE are committed to delivering an education system that is of the highest quality and where every child and young person feels valued and is actively supported and nurtured to reach their full potential.

Yours sincerely,
Matthew Errity

Optimism and Ambition Mark First Killarney Chamber Luncheon of 2026

Picture: Eamonn Keogh

A strong sense of positivity and ambition for the year ahead was evident at the first Killarney Chamber of Tourism and Commerce luncheon of 2026, held at the Dromhall Hotel and attended by members from across the local business community.

President Johnny McGuire welcomed attendees in Irish and English and reflected on the success of the recent Christmas Festival, thanking Chairman Niall Kelliher and the many volunteers whose efforts ensured its success. New members were introduced, including Laura Dillon of CSG Accountants, who recently opened a new office on New Street, and Brian Foley, owner of Activate Gym in Ballycasheen, who is set to host the inaugural "Killarney's Fittest Business" initiative next weekend.

There was particular pride in the international recognition being received by people with Killarney connections. The town is enjoying positive publicity following Jessie Buckley's Oscar nomination, while Ruairi O'Flaherty's Grammy success was noted as another welcome boost for the area.

Members heard that funding for the Monsignor Flaherty Humanitarian Award will be reinstated this year. Updates were also provided on a number of local projects, including Green Lawn Car Park, planned public realm works from AIB to the Ross Hotel, pathway upgrades at Tomies, the pending planning decision for works from Dinis to Torc, proposed improvements at Deenagh Lodge, and an economic report on Killarney being prepared by Jim Power.

Businesses were encouraged to support Tidy Towns efforts, while volunteers are being sought for park work at Dundag. The Chamber also welcomed Pat O'Leary's appointment to the board of Tourism Ireland and encouraged members to attend the Tourism Ireland workshop at the Brehon Hotel on March 3.

Patrick O'Donoghue of The Gleneagle Hotel addressed the gathering and outlined ambitious plans for 2026. He noted that the newly named Killarney Arena (formerly the INEC) contributes approximately €60 million annually to the local economy, with an estimated 300,000 visitors expected this year.

Among the major events planned is the hosting of Oireachtas Rince na hÉireann, the All-Ireland Dance Championships, from February 15–21, expected to bring between 4,000 and 5,000 visitors per day to the town. The Irish Hoteliers Federation Ball will also take place later this month, featuring a Jessie Buckley-themed Oscars Ball as a highlight. The 20th anniversary of BikeFest is set to be bigger than ever over the June Bank Holiday weekend, with accommodation already in high demand. Plans are also in place for three citizenship ceremonies during the year, Oireachtas na Samhna in November, and a series of high-profile acts at the Killarney Arena throughout 2026.

The new team at the Killarney Chamber office was also introduced: Norma O'Regan as CEO, Sofia McGrath as Office Manager, and Claire Frawley overseeing events.

Overall, the message from the luncheon was clear: Killarney is entering 2026 with confidence, momentum and a strong calendar of events set to benefit the entire community.

Muckross Olympians honoured at new Boat Launch

On Sunday 22nd February, Muckross Rowing Club will mark a very special occasion in the club's long history as it celebrates the official launch of its three newest racing boats. The club is delighted to honour three of its most successful members, who achieved major success as rowers on the national and international stage during their rowing years. The club's new boats will be named in honour of Paul Griffin, Sean Casey and Cathal Moynihan whose international rowing careers scaled to the ultimate stage of the Olympic Games when they represented Ireland in 2004 and 2008. The three athletes donned the green jersey first at a young age with representation in junior and U23 international competition before all progressing to represent Ireland at Senior level. It is a great source of pride for the club that three of its members fulfilled their aspirations and represented club and country so successfully. The sport of rowing has since grown significantly in Ireland and the achievements of Ireland's High Performance rowers through the 1990-2000s is widely recognised for paving the way for the international success that has followed in the years since. The club is delighted to recognise the achievements of Paul, Sean and Cathal and to name the club's newest racing boats in their honour.

The special triple boat launch event will take place on Sunday 22nd February at 2pm at the club's boathouse. All are welcome and the club hopes to see as many members past and present, supporters, friends and family. The club is also encouraging everyone to spread the word to those who may have an interest in attending.

NEW EXHIBITION ON FOUNDATIONS OF FIANNA FáIL IN KERRY

Centenary exhibition on early years of the party in Kerry constituency

Fianna Fáil vote in Kerry was its highest in the country within seven years of its foundation

An exhibition on the early years of Fianna Fáil in County Kerry will go on public display at Kerry library branches during February and March. This year marks the centenary of the foundation of the party in 1926 and the exhibition, presented by historian Dr Owen O'Shea, focuses on how the party developed and grew in Kerry in the late 1920s and early 1930s.

The exhibition is called "Soldiers of Destiny, Fianna Fáil in Kerry 1926-1933" and is supported by a Commemorations Bursary from the Royal Irish Academy. It tells the story of Fianna Fáil in Kerry from its foundation in May 1926 to the general election of 1933 when the party's vote in the Kerry constituency was the highest in the entire country. New research about the establishment of party branches, the results of elections, the role of newspapers and propaganda all form part of the display as do profiles of the seven Fianna Fáil TDs who represented Kerry between 1926 and 1933.

"The foundation of Fianna Fáil was a transformative moment in Irish politics and represented a new phase of Civil War politics in Ireland. In this, its centenary year, I am presenting the story of the party in Kerry where its organisational and electoral successes were without parallel in this period," said Owen O'Shea.

"Éamon de Valera's party set about establishing a network of branches in Kerry with enormous speed and the Fianna Fáil vote in the constituency grew rapidly from 33% in 1927 to 68% in 1933."

The exhibition will be on display at Tralee

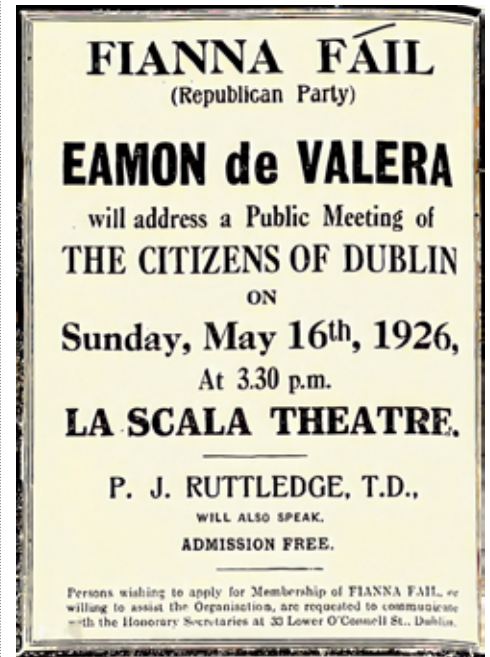

Historian Owen O'Shea.

Library from 16 to 28 February and at Killarney Library from 10 to 31 March and can be viewed during library opening hours.

The seven TDs who represented Kerry during those years were Denis Daly, Fred Crowley, Tom McEllistrim, William O'Leary, Thomas O'Reilly and Jack Flynn. Their stories are being shared for the first time as are many of the election posters, newspaper advertisements and political material from the time.

"I am very grateful to the Royal Irish Academy for funding this exhibition and I hope it will attract anyone with an interest in Irish history and politics," he added.

The content of the exhibition is based on Owen O'Shea's most recent book From Bullets to Ballots: Politics and Electioneering in Post-Civil War Kerry, 1923-1933 which was published last October by UCD Press.

The film will premiere at the Light House Cinema in Dublin on February 27. Described as both meditative and playful, the short follows a young woman as she journeys through memory and time, prompted by the entrancing lull of her washing machine.

The selection marks a significant achievement for the Killarney woman, with the Dublin International Film Festival renowned for showcasing world-class Irish and international cinema.

Directed by Ellen McSweeney, the daughter of Shella O'Donoghue and Mike McSweeney and produced by Rachel Griffin, another Killarney native, and daughter of Jerh and Aileen Griffin, along with Amber Leah, Watching the Washing Machine showcases an impressive creative team. Vega Antonini served as Director of Photography, with Rhianna Woods and Niamh Curtis as First Assistant Directors. John O'Neill was Gaffer, Amber Leah Sound Recordist, Claire Schmidt handled Sound Design, Rufus Miller composed the score, and Abbi Henderson led Set Design.

Network Ireland Kerry Explores AI in Marketing at February Event

Network Ireland Kerry hosted a well-attended February event at The Brehon Hotel, Killarney, focusing on how businesses can use AI to work smarter while maintaining a human touch.

Titled "The Age of AI: How to Scale Trust, Content & Conversation Without Losing the Human Touch," the session featured speakers Eimear McDonnell and Brigeen O'Sullivan of Match Marketing, Anita Michalak of The Digital Talk, and Tara Elzingre of Tara Elzingre Consultancy. They demonstrated how AI can support everyday tasks such as research, content creation and campaign planning, freeing up time for strategy and creativity.

AI was described as a helpful tool that enhances, rather than replaces, human expertise. The event encouraged open discussion, with attendees sharing experiences, tools and practical ideas in a supportive setting.

Network Ireland Kerry President Aisling Foley said the event reflected the organisation's commitment to shared learning and peer support for women in business.

Upcoming events include a Connecting the Communities Coffee Morning at gteic Ballinskelligs on March 4, International Women's Day celebrations in Limerick on March 7, and a Women Leaders in Tech Coffee Morning at The Rose Hotel, Tralee, on March 25.

Landowners Urged to Cut Overgrown Hedges to Improve Road Safety

The Road Safety Authority (RSA) and the County and City Management Association (CCMA) are calling on landowners to cut their hedgerows by the end of the month to ensure they are not causing a road safety hazard. Under the Wildlife Act 1976, hedge-cutting is prohibited from 1 March to 31 August, except in cases where overgrowth poses a road safety hazard. Properly maintained hedges ensure vulnerable road users are not forced onto the road by overgrown hedges. It additionally affords motorists a clear view of what is in front of them or around a bend, especially on rural roads in the case of sightlines at junctions or obstructions to road signs.

Mystery in the Woods...

Rubber Waders Found 50 Feet Up Oak Tree in Killarney National Park

Volunteers working at a woodland restoration site in Killarney National Park were left baffled this week after discovering an unusual sight high above their heads: a pair of full-sized rubber waders lodged some 50 feet up in the branches of a mature oak tree.

The discovery was made by members of the Killarney Mountain Meitheal as they settled into their newly relocated work "kitchen" area at the Dundag site, moved further uphill to take advantage of the sweeping views. What initially appeared to be an unidentifiable object silhouetted against the canopy soon revealed itself, after some careful squinting from the forest floor, to be a pair of waders now apparently repurposed as elevated accommodation for local squirrels.

How the waders reached such a height remains a mystery.

Attention has turned to one prime suspect: the white-tailed sea eagle. With an impressive wingspan of up to eight feet and a reputation for dramatic aerial manoeuvres, the eagle is considered the only local resident capable of delivering such an item to the treetops. The perpetrator, if indeed feathered, is believed to still be at large - perhaps soaring over the Lakes of Killarney in search of a matching jacket.

While the case remains unsolved, the discovery has added a touch of intrigue and humour to the group's regular conservation work in the park. Volunteers are now inviting the public not only to lend a hand but also to offer their own theories on how the airborne waders came to rest in their lofty perch.

The Killarney Mountain Meitheal meets twice weekly and welcomes new volunteers of all backgrounds. Whether drawn by the physical work, the scenic surroundings, or the chance to investigate woodland oddities, all are encouraged to join.

Volunteer Details:

When: Every Sunday and Tuesday, 9:00am–12:30pm (weather permitting)

Where: Meet at Dundag Car Park, Killarney National Park

Tea break: 11:00am

Directions to Dundag (Dromrower site):

Take the first left after entering the main Muckross House gate. Drive to the end of the road to Dundag car park. Enter the site through the fence opening - the group can usually be seen and heard from there.

Luke Sills and Donal Walsh Remembered as Tralee CBS Capture Corn Uí Mhuirí Title

Tralee CBS claimed their 17th TUS Corn Uí Mhuirí title with a nine-point victory over High School Clonmel in a thrilling final played in Mallow.

While the win was widely celebrated by players, staff and supporters, thoughts on the day were also firmly with two past pupils whose memories remain deeply woven into the fabric of the school community - Luke Sills and Donal Walsh.

Luke, who tragically lost his life in a drowning accident just before the Leaving Certificate examinations last May, had played alongside many of the team throughout their school years, despite being a year ahead of them. His presence was keenly felt as the team took to the field for one of the most important matches in the school's sporting calendar.

The late Donal Walsh was also remembered on the day. A former pupil of Tralee CBS, Donal is widely remembered for his courageous cancer awareness and anti-suicide advocacy, which touched lives across Ireland.

As celebrations took place after the final whistle, the team and school community took time to honour both Luke and Donal. A commemorative flag, organised by Killarney man, Anto Cronin, a teacher at the school, was displayed to ensure their memory remained part of a proud and emotional occasion for the school.

€2,500 Raised for Palliative Care at Fáilte Hotel Fundraiser

A recent fundraising event featuring a night of theatre, music and entertainment at The Fáilte Hotel, Killarney raised €2,500 for Palliative Care services.

Guests enjoyed performances from the West End House School of Arts along with live music on the night, while a raffle and bucket collection also contributed to the total raised for the worthy cause.

Presentation Monastery Killarney to Host Community Quiz Night

Presentation Monastery Killarney is inviting the local community to put their knowledge to the test at a lively Quiz Night taking place later this month in the Killarney Avenue Hotel.

The event, scheduled for 7:30pm on Wednesday, 26th February, promises an evening of fun, friendly competition and fantastic prizes, all in support of the school. Organisers say the quiz is designed to be a welcoming night out for families, friends and neighbours, with everyone encouraged to take part.

Renowned local quizmaster Cathal Walshe will be on hand to challenge teams with a wide range of questions covering general knowledge, sport, history, entertainment and more. A selection of top raffle prizes will also be up for grabs on the night.

Admission is priced to make the event accessible to all, with adults €10 and children €5, and the organisers are keen to see a strong community turnout.

ALONE Urgently Seeks Volunteers

Make someone feel amazing.

Volunteer with ALONE today.
Visit alone.ie/volunteer

ALONE, the organisation that enables older people to age well at home, is urgently seeking volunteers for their Support and Befriending services in Kerry.

Demand for our services continues to grow in the Kerry region. Many older people in our communities are experiencing loneliness and isolation. ALONE's volunteers play a vital role in offering companionship, practical support, and a friendly voice to those who need it most.

In 2025, ALONE supported almost 46,500 older people across our services. Almost half of this group reported feeling lonely while 16% had not been out socially in the last six months.

Sean Moynihan, CEO of ALONE, said: "Loneliness can have a profound effect on a person's health and wellbeing. Every day, ALONE volunteers make a life-changing difference for older people across the country, and we are deeply grateful for their dedication. Just one hour a week can transform an older person's life. By volunteering, you help build stronger, more connected communities where no one feels alone."

Volunteering involves calling or visiting an older person regularly for companionship and practical support, providing help to solve everyday problems and linking them in with local events and activities.

Volunteering with ALONE is flexible, rewarding and has huge benefits for both the older person and volunteer. Our latest volunteer and older person surveys show that:

· 93% of older people said that the Support and Befriending Service positively impacted their lives

· 84% of older people believed that their loneliness had decreased and their happiness had increased

· 98% of volunteers said they enjoyed the social interaction,

· 96% felt they were contributing to their community,

"Just putting a smile on the person's face I visit is enough for me to know I am making a difference," said an ALONE Volunteer.

If you would like to volunteer or learn more, please visit www.alone.ie/volunteer or call 0818 222 024. Together, we can ensure no older person feels alone.

What is a primary health centre?

An open letter

What is a primary health centre and what is its function? It is surprising that this question has not been asked even once in the last year or two considering the needless turf war that has existed in regards to the redevelopment of the Aras Pádraig site in Killarney. A dispute that has completely blindsided many involved and led to a real possibility of Killarney rejecting €16 million in targeted funding due to it being tied to specific rules and plans that show a high socio-economic return. Funding that any other town would bite your hand off to receive.

Not one councillor spoke about the vital role that a primary care centre plays in a community. Opinions from elderly, people with disabilities and young parents navigating parenthood for the first time were not specifically sought. Not one journalist sought to investigate the role of a primary health centre or visit current community nursing, early intervention or other cramped health facilities that are scattered around the town or further afield in Tralee or Cork causing unnecessary and difficult travel for people whose comfort is a necessary component in their care.

I am a father of a child with complex medical needs who turns 10 years this April. I have ten years of experience of navigating the health system both locally and nationally. It is not always a pretty picture especially when it is mixed with politics, most notably parish pump politics. I do know one thing more than anything and that is that those with a disability are the voiceless. As a father it is my civil duty to speak about this and the whole sorry saga which in my humble opinion has been led by fear and mistrust and shown the voiceless being cast aside yet again.

On behalf of my daughter Alexis, I ask that the rhetoric of "the Aras Pádraig is for the people of Killarney" be immediately dropped. It is an insulting phrase that completely dismisses the immediate needs of the most vulnerable in our society, People that rely on primary care centres and their services are also "people of Killarney" and their needs should not be cast aside. As the long wait for a modern and necessary primary care centre continues we ask that councillors act in a more proactive rather than reactive way. We ask that journalists act with more balance and integrity and investigate the immediate need for such a centre in Killarney. It is obvious that the pens have gone dry seeing the witch hunt in regards the Aras Pádraig site has subsided. The silence is deafening. If half the energy devoted to this story was reinvested in the need for such a centre in our town we would all be smiling. Maybe such a story may not generate the online and social media likes and clicks that are the bane of our society. A primary health centre and the services it provides is a lot more than a physical building. If you want to know more, we await your questions.

Regards,
Steve O'Mahony.

Mystery Birthday Sign Found Blowing Along Killarney Estate Road

A wandering birthday sign spotted along an access road behind McDonald's in Killarney may hold the key to reuniting a local woman with a memento from a milestone celebration. The sign, which appeared about a week ago, was seen blowing freely along the roadway serving several housing estates before eventually coming to rest on a green area beside Burr Ridge estate. Residents believe it may have escaped from a recent birthday party and are hoping its owner - a woman named Sheila - might be traced and reunited with the wayward decoration. It is thought that someone who attended the celebration may recognise the sign and alert Sheila to its current resting place.

While the incident has prompted some amusement, locals note a more serious concern. Residents say green areas around the estates are increasingly being used as dumping grounds for various unwanted items, detracting from the appearance of the neighbourhood and creating unnecessary litter.

For now, the birthday sign remains in place, awaiting collection - and perhaps the happy return to the birthday girl it once celebrated.

Community Spirit Shines at Davey's Walk for Kerry Hospice Foundation

St. Stephen's Day once again brought the local community together in remarkable fashion as walkers gathered for Davey's Walk from Blackwater Tavern to Loughbrin Lake in aid of the Kerry Hospice Foundation (KHF). The annual event, which has become a cherished tradition, saw friends, families, and supporters unite in a shared effort to raise funds for the vital services provided by KHF to families across County Kerry. The day was marked by generosity, kindness, and a strong sense of community spirit that has come to define the walk each year.

This year's event raised an impressive €33,429.50 for the foundation. The funds come at a crucial time, as KHF is currently expanding its palliative care unit with the addition of five new rooms and other enhancements to ensure continued high-quality care for those who need it most.

Support for the walk came from near and far. Donations were received in person, online, and from those who were unable to attend but wished to contribute. A special acknowledgment was extended to friends and supporters in the United States, whose generous annual donations continue to make a meaningful difference.

Carmel and Davy Breen expressed sincere gratitude to everyone who contributed spot prizes, purchased raffle tickets, and supported the fundraising efforts in countless ways throughout the day.

Special thanks were paid to Teddy, Mary and Kieran O'Neill of Blackwater Tavern for their hospitality and support, as well as to Mossy O'Leary, Timothy Clifford, Dan Sullivan, and

Colm Breen for their time, commitment, and hard work behind the scenes, all of which helped make the event run smoothly.

Cathal Walsh from the Kerry Hospice Foundation was also thanked for his continued loyalty and support of the walk each year, and for speaking so sincerely on the day about the importance of community involvement and charitable work in ensuring these essential services remain available.

As the day drew to a close, organisers Carmel and Davy Breen expressed their heartfelt appreciation to everyone who played a part in the success of the event, noting how much every donation, message of encouragement, and kind gesture meant to them.

With another successful year complete, the community is already looking forward to Davey's Walk returning again in 2026.

AGE & OPPORTUNITY AT ST. BRIGID'S

On Thursday, February 5, St. Brigid's worked alongside Age & Opportunity and Kerry Recreation and Sports Partnership to support the inaugural Regional Go for Life Game Day at Killarney Sports and Leisure Centre.

Transition Year students assisted with registration and scorekeeping and led a lively group warm-up to begin a day filled with fun, activity and friendly competition. The Go for Life Games celebrate participation in sport for older adults, with teams taking part in adapted games such as Flisk, Scidil and Malaí. The event concluded with chair aerobics and stretching, leaving participants energised. Staff expressed pride in the enthusiasm and kindness shown by the students throughout the day.

To ask Kerry County Council to improve the lighting at the pedestrian crossing adjacent to the church in Rathmore. This crossing is surrounded by community services, amenities and businesses and is currently substandard. Furthermore, Kerry County Council previously committed to upgrading this crossing and the others further on in Rathmore town; what is the current update on this?

Reply: An application will be made to the Defect Management Section of Transport Infrastructure Ireland to seek funding to upgrade the public lighting at this pedestrian crossing. Proposals in relation to upgrading the pedestrian crossings in Rathmore town are progressing through the design phase to enable a technical approval and funding application to Transport Infrastructure Ireland. Subject to receiving that approval the necessary statutory process will commence. Also, I allocated in full to the provision of a new public light at Station road, Rathmore.

Money Matters

By Dermot Cronin
Financial Advisor

WHEN CAN YOU ACCESS YOUR PENSION & WHAT ARE YOUR OPTIONS WHEN YOU WANT TO RETIRE?

You can normally get access to your pension from age 60, a lot of the rules depend on whether you are an employee or self-employed. If you are coming close to retirement then you are probably wondering what options you have when you want to get access to your pension. It depends on what type of pension you have but generally there are four options:

Tax Free Cash: Most people will be entitled to a tax free lump sum, the amount varies however generally you will get at least 25% of the value of your pension in a tax free cash lump sum.

Taxable Cash: You may also be able to take a sum of your pension in taxable cash.

Annual Pension: This is a guaranteed income usually paid monthly for the rest of your life that is purchased with the money left after your tax free lump sum, this is subject to taxation.

Approved Retirement Funds: You may be entitled to keep some of your money in an approved retirement fund, money can be taken from the fund to give you a regular income, usually monthly. This is subject to taxation also. Taxation at retirement is often much lower than when you are working.

It is extremely important that you take your time and have all the options explained to you in plain simple English and that you understand all your options clearly before you make your final decision. As well as the above there is much more to be discussed about your pension. You should discuss your retirement options with a financial advisor who has access to a number of different pension providers before making any decisions, he or she will help you with the above options and any other queries you may have.

To discuss the above or any other matter Dermot Cronin QFA can be contacted at 0646622775 or info@dermotcronin.ie

Local Cheerleaders Set Their Sights on the World Stage

A team of athletes from Scorchers Killarney is preparing to compete at the All Star World Championships in Orlando, Florida this April and is appealing for community support to help make the journey possible. The group, representing a wide age range, trains for approximately six hours each week while balancing school, work and family life. Their preparation combines strength, flexibility, technical skill and precise teamwork.

Head Coach Katlyn Moynihan brings significant experience to the role. Holding a BSc in Coaching & Sports Performance, she has represented Ireland at World Championships four times. She placed 6th at the 2023 ICC World Cup in Orlando and achieved 3rd place at the 2024 World Championships with Alliance Cheerleading. An ICU-qualified coach, Katlyn retired from competition in 2025 to focus on developing athletes and creating world-level opportunities in Killarney.

Scorchers has a strong history at international level, with athletes previously competing at the All Star World Championships in 2019, 2024 and 2025. The club now has over 70 members and trains in its own gym on Muckcross Road, catering for children from age four through to senior athletes.

Competing at this level involves significant costs including travel, accommodation, uniforms and entry fees. The team is running fundraising initiatives and has set up an iDonate page to support the effort. A Quiz Night will also take place on March 27th at the Killarney Avenue Hotel.

Club owner Jackie Jeal emphasised the importance of local support, noting that every donation and gesture of encouragement helps the athletes move closer to their goal.

Updates on the team's journey and fundraising efforts can be followed on Instagram at codeblack_scorchers and on Facebook at Scorchers Killarney.

Presentation Secondary School, Castleisland marked Safer Internet Day 2026 with an engaging and interactive programme focused on this year's theme of Artificial Intelligence and its impact on young people's online lives. The event welcomed sixth class pupils from Gaelscoil Aogain and Muire gan Smál, who took part in a series of workshops led by Webwise youth panelists Saoirse Collins and Gracie Mills.

Saoirse and Gracie, who attend regular meetings and training days with Webwise throughout the year, shared their knowledge and experience of online safety, digital wellbeing, and the growing role of AI in everyday technology. Supported by a committed group of Transition Year students, the workshops explored how AI is used online, its benefits, and the potential risks, helping pupils to develop critical thinking skills in a rapidly changing digital world.

The sessions combined informative input from the girls with fun activities and games, keeping pupils actively involved throughout. The interactive approach encouraged discussion, questions, and reflection in a supportive environment.

The event was coordinated by Annette Leen, Leader of Digital Learning in Presentation Secondary School, Castleisland. "Gracie and Saoirse did a fantastic job educating their peers about the benefits and challenges of Artificial Intelligence. They showed great leadership and teamwork skills throughout the organisation process" said Ms. Leen.

"Safer Internet Day is celebrated nationally and internationally and is a very worthwhile event. It highlighted the value of student voice, making the celebration both educational and inspiring, while reinforcing the importance of staying safe, critical, and curious in an increasingly AI-driven online world."

KEEPING YOUR DREAMS ALIVE: A DAILY PRACTICE OF BELIEF

Keeping your dreams alive is not about grand gestures or sudden breakthroughs; it is about quiet, consistent commitment. Dreams fade when they are treated as fantasies rather than living possibilities. To keep them breathing, you must give them regular attention, just as you would a relationship or a skill you value.

Life will offer distractions, disappointments, and practical reasons to give up. These moments are not signs that your dream may be unrealistic; they are invitations to refine it. Dreams evolve as you do. When you allow them to adapt to new seasons of your life, they become more resilient and more authentic.

One powerful way to protect your dreams is to create space for them in your routine. Even ten focused minutes a day can reconnect you to what matters most. Small actions build into momentum, and momentum restores belief.

Coaching tip: Instead of asking "Is this dream still possible?", ask "What is one small step I can take this week to honour it?" This shifts your mindset from doubt to doing. Write that step down, schedule it, and treat it as non-negotiable.

WHAT WOMEN WANT

answers your beauty questions...

GREAT SKIN NEEDS CONSISTENCY

Professional treatments are powerful, but they are only one piece of the puzzle. A facial can ignite transformation boosting your skin's circulation, accelerating renewal, calming inflammation and correcting skin concerns. What happens after your appointment is what determines whether these results fade or flourish. Your daily routine is where progress is protected. Consistent cleansing, barrier repair, hydration and SPF are what allow your skin to heal, strengthen and respond better to future treatments. Without this support, even the most advanced facial becomes a short-term glow rather than long term improvement. This does not mean having a 12-step routine or being perfect but it is about using the right products regularly to support your skin's barrier and biology between visits. Think of in clinic treatments as a catalyst and your home care is the commitment. When both work together, your skin will look better, behave better, age better and stay healthier for longer.

RECOVERY TECHNIQUES AND INJURY PREVENTION

Recovery Techniques and Injury Prevention are vital components of a comprehensive fitness routine. Recent advances have introduced innovative methods and tools to optimise recovery, reduce injury risk, and enhance overall performance. Here are some key trends and techniques:

Foam Rolling and Self-Myofascial Release

Foam rolling helps release muscle tightness and improve blood flow.

Newer tools like massage balls, foam rollers with vibration, and percussion devices offer targeted relief.

Percussion Massage Devices

Handheld devices like Theragun or Hyperice deliver percussive therapy to reduce soreness and speed up recovery.

Recovery Apps and Wearable Tech

Apps track sleep quality, hydration, and activity levels, offering personalized recovery plans.

Wearables monitor heart rate variability (HRV), sleep patterns, and activity, guiding optimal rest and activity cycles.

Sleep Optimization

Techniques include sleep tracking, blue light management, and sleep environment improvements.

Some devices and apps analyse sleep data to recommend adjustments for better rest, crucial for muscle repair and mental health.

DIARMUID O'SULLIVAN OPTOMETRIST

SHOW YOUR EYES SOME LOVE THIS VALENTINES.

It's easy to overlook your eyes when it comes to caring for your health, but there are simple things you can do every day to help keep your eyes in shape.

Here are some easy ways to get started.

Have regular sight tests

As well as an eye health check, a sight test might help detect signs of underlying general health conditions, such as diabetes, high cholesterol and high blood pressure.

Eat healthily

Eating a healthy, balanced diet reduces your risk of eye disease. Include lots of omega-3 fats, found in oily fish, and lutein, found in dark-green, leafy vegetables such as spinach and kale. Vitamins A, C and E are also helpful, so eat at least five portions of fruit and vegetables a day.

Stop smoking

Many people are unaware of the link between smoking and eye disease. If you smoke, stop. Smoking significantly increases the risk of developing eye diseases, such as cataracts and age-related macular degeneration.

Wear prescribed glasses

Many eye and vision problems develop or increase as we get older. Contrary to the myth, wearing glasses and contact lenses doesn't make your eyesight worse – they help your eyes work more efficiently.

Take regular breaks

When you work on something close up, such as a computer, tablet or smartphone, your eye muscles are active. Follow the 20/20/20 rule – every 20 minutes, look at something 20 feet away, for 20 seconds. And don't forget to blink, as this helps prevent your eyes drying out.

Wear sunglasses

As well as making your vision more comfortable in the sun, sunglasses protect your eyes from UV light. When choosing sunglasses, you should always make sure that they carry the CE mark. Exposure to UV when young does most harm, so protect children with sunglasses, as well as a hat and sunblock.

Avoid dry eyes

Eyes become dry, tired and sore if you are not producing enough tears or you have poor-quality tears. Lubricating eye drops can soothe irritation and reduce discomfort. You may find taking omega-3 supplements helps over time. Drink plenty of water and remember to blink often. If your eyes are persistently dry, tell your optometrist.

Research your family history

Many eye conditions run in families, from simple long and short sight to more serious diseases, such as glaucoma. Knowledge of problems with sight can help detect a condition before it becomes serious.

Remember your optometrist is the first person you should visit if you have any eye concerns. They can assess the problem and, if necessary, refer you to the right place for treatment.

Insurance Worries

Those of us who depend on Insurance to protect our health, property, etc, can be very concerned and rightly so, as to what exactly is covered, according to Kerry Fianna Fáil TD, Michael Cahill.

"Many properties are quoted as being covered for flood cover until one delves deeper and checks the in-depth Policy Document, now being brought to light due to the enormous interest following renewed flooding throughout the country" stated Deputy Cahill.

"Today in Ireland, there are hundreds and hundreds of families who can not get insurance against flooding in respect of their homes and properties. I am aware of cases in Cromane and elsewhere where homes were flooded and the homeowners were not able to obtain Insurance against flooding afterwards. I am aware of a case whereby a family had been paying House Insurance for almost 40 years, who along with their neighbours spent tens of thousands of euros and they now for the first time, cannot procure insurance and this is so wrong" said the Fianna Fáil Spokesperson on Tourism and for Older People.

"I have raised this issue directly with An Taoiseach, both in the Dáil and personally and he is well aware of issues pertaining to insurance. I am also prepared to bring a delegation to Dublin to ensure that an Insurance Scheme is available, not just to cover businesses, but to also cover family homes. Personally, I am of the view that the Insurance Companies need to get more positive with their input into this major issue that affects us all so very much. They must play their part and not expect the Government to cover the entire cost of introducing such a scheme" said the Rossbeigh based TD.

"I have also raised this matter with Robert Troy, Minister of State at the Department of Finance with special responsibility for Financial Services, Credit Unions and Insurance. Minister Troy is currently looking at a scheme for businesses across the country who are experiencing difficulty in obtaining insurance and I have requested that a scheme for homes and properties be included" stated Deputy Cahill.

"We are all aware that the number of incidents of flooding is very much on the increase. Many homes and properties across County Kerry and throughout the country are being flooded for the first time ever. Families should be allowed sleep in peace in their beds without the added burden of worrying about insurance, each time it rains heavily or when there is a high tide, storm or both. We must get this flooding plague sorted out sooner rather than later and to the satisfaction of home owners. Insurance must be available to all existing residents. Insurance companies need to be more responsible to their clients and should not be allowed pick or choose" said the Fianna Fáil man

"I will pursue this important issue and ensure that the Government introduces a scheme for all affected homeowners" added Michael Cahill TD.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

LIFTING CAPS ON DIFFERENTIAL RENTS IN KERRY AND DUBLIN CITY

It appears some local authorities are implementing a policy whereby any tenant on a maximum rent under a nation wide differential rent scheme, are going to raise the maximum rent by decree of the authority.

This means, a tenant of say fifteen, twenty twenty-five years or more who are paying the full economic cost of the house or unit, which was always equated to the maximum rent, over the years, will now have a new criteria which will be in excess of the original cost, can be continually be increased as the years pass by.

God knows the chicanery and downright immoral, if not illegal practices the financial institutions tried on over the past fifteen or twenty years but if they tried to rewrite the caps on mortgages by just declaring it to be so, they the banks or institutions, would have to make a rather hurried exit from the country.

Kind Regards,
Sean O'Grady, former mayor Killarney.

Minister Michael Healy-Rae Secures More Balanced Approach on Short-Term Letting Restrictions

Minister of State Michael Healy-Rae has welcomed today's Government agreement in principle on the next phase of short-term letting reform and confirmed that, following his engagement at Government level, the approach will now focus restrictions on larger towns with populations over 20,000, ensuring rural and tourism-dependent communities are not unfairly caught by a blanket measure. Minister Healy-Rae said: "I want to be very clear, I pushed hard for this change because the earlier population threshold being spoken about would have hit too many rural towns and communities that rely on legitimate, family-run self-catering to support jobs and local income. Moving the focus to towns over 20,000 is a fairer, more targeted approach and it's the right balance between supporting housing supply, while protecting rural economies in Ireland." The Minister said the outcome underlines the importance of rural Independent voices being in Government:

"This is exactly why rural Independent voices matter in Government, to make sure policies are grounded in reality and that rural Ireland is not treated as an afterthought."

Minister Healy-Rae also acknowledged the role of An Taoiseach Micheál Martin in progressing the matter at Cabinet level:

"I also acknowledge the Taoiseach's leadership in bringing this to agreement. Housing is a national priority, but so is protecting livelihoods in rural Ireland and this approach reflects that balance."

Minister Healy-Rae added that the move towards stronger regulation and better data including a national register and stronger enforcement must be used to target non-compliance fairly and effectively, while recognising that tourism accommodation remains vital to many local economies.

DEPUTY DANNY HEALY RAE RAISES THE ISSUE FLOODING IN KERRY IN DAIL EIREANN

Deputy Danny Healy Rae has raised the issue of flooding in Kerry in Dail Eireann this week. He thanked the Minister for his involvement and assistance with funding to clear the Flesk river at Glenflesk in 2018 which made a dramatic improvement to the problem with flooding there. It is important that more rivers are cleared out to prevent flooding and I also asked him to address the issue of courthouse bridge in Kenmare and the pipe that is crossing the eye of the bridge and appealed with him if there is a quick way of dealing with this to alleviate flooding in the town of Kenmare area.

Here is Deputy Healy Rae's full speech

I thank the Minister of State for being very hands-on and for coming to Kerry again recently. Back in 2018, he gave us funding to clear the Flesk river. For ten years before that, we were constantly being told that it would make no difference to clear the river, that it would only make 10 mm of a difference. The highest flood that has been there in the last eight years did not come within 8 ft of the road level and it used to be 3 ft on top of the road before that. They wanted to raise the road and do everything else but the fact is, as Deputy McGrath said, we need to clean the river. That was what always happened until 2002, until some genius decided that farmers could not touch the river any more, clean it out or do what they had been doing for centuries. If they did, they would lose their farm payments. That is why the thing is getting worse and worse. Many of our rivers are still in desperate need of being cleaned. Like Deputy McGrath says, everything comes down from the hills - silt, sand, gravel and every other kind of muck - and lands in the river. If the river is not cleaned out, where is it going to go only spill out over the banks onto roads and into houses? That is the trouble we are having.

Minister in your last visit to Kerry you saw the courthouse bridge and the pipe that was crossing the eye of the bridge. That is what has been flooding the town of Kenmare for many years. I am appealing to the Minister of State to see again if there is any quick way of removing that. Whatever other work needs to be done can wait. Removing that would alleviate the serious problem in Kenmare at the present time. There are other ideas in other towns and places about holding back the water and creating flood plains. The Minister of State must get himself stuck into them and tell them that the easy way of sorting it out is to clear the rivers. There are no two ways about it.

GREAT START TO 2026 AT BEAUFORT GOLF CLUB

Beaufort Golf Club Members at Drive In

Tee it high and let it fly – must have been the thought going through Lady Captain Mary Garvey's head as she made her way from Glenbeigh to Beaufort Golf Club on Sunday last for her official drive in. And while the sky was dry and blue, it reflected on the course when a large turnout of lady golfers donned their official ladies club blue tops in support of their new leader for the 2026 golf season. Lady Captain Mary was at the clubhouse bright and early to welcome each and every lady and distributed her fully detailed and well-planned calendar to everyone. And the fantastic news is that with all the new vibrant changes at Beaufort Golf Club with the change of Management that this year Lady Captain Mary is delighted to announce that Beaufort Golf Club will host a Ladies Open Day. She promised plenty more details on that big event to come. There was a large gathering at the clubhouse with old golf friends catching up and new faces mingling and get acquainted with the members. Lady Captain Mary bravely stood up first and teed off like as if she was on the first hole in Augusta to launch the start of her year as honourable Lady Captain. Following that Captain Charlie McAuley and President Michael Lynch each teed off to also start their season in their honourable roles. Following that the three honourable dignitaries enjoyed the champagne, before the large number of golfers braved the fairways to enjoy a fun filled scramble.

The prize winners on the day were :

1st Place : Geraldine Collins, Vincent Hussey, Michael A. O Sullivan & Alan Smith.

2nd Place : Mike Gleeson, Paudie O Shea, Pat Quill & Timmy Brosnan

3rd Place : Karen Tess, Captain Charlie McAuley, President Michael Lynch

& Manjit Gill.

And Lady Captain Mary concluded her day by thanking everyone for showing up, wishing her well and participating in the Golf. She also took the opportunity to wish the new management at Beaufort Golf Club every success for the future.

WORKMAN'S ROWING CLUB

A welcome respite in last week's challenging weather conditions allowed our crews to take to the water and compete at the St. Michael's Head of the River, held at O'Brien's Bridge, Co. Clare. The event provided an excellent early-season opportunity to test ourselves against a strong field of crews from across the country.

Our MJ16 crews delivered another outstanding performances throughout the day, racing with determination and composure against a wide range of highly competitive national opposition. Their results and racing standard were extremely encouraging and offer very positive indicators for continued success/progress as the season develops.

The WJ16 crew also produced an excellent performance, rowing with confidence, cohesion, and intensity. They exceeded expectations in both execution and outcome, highlighting the crew's hard work and commitment and marking a very promising step forward for the club.

LOOKING AHEAD

The Cork Head of the River is scheduled for later in the month, and all crews are very much looking forward to the challenge ahead. Preparations are well underway, and fingers are firmly crossed that the weather will be as accommodating as it was last weekend, allowing for another strong day of racing and continued progress on the water.

ONGOING TRAINING

Regular training sessions continue as scheduled throughout the week and consistency remains a cornerstone of our progress, as each session builds the fitness, technique, and resilience needed for the challenges of the season ahead.

MUCKROSS ROWING CLUB

ST. MICHAEL'S HOR

Well done to all our crews who competed in the St. Michael's Head Of the River on Saturday last. Following the heavy rain in the days and weeks prior, there was a reprieve in the conditions for the event and competitors were able to enjoy calm water albeit against a strong river flow over the 3.2km course. The club was represented by 15 crews with four top three finishes. Congratulations to John Buckley, Paul Kennedy, Brendan O'Neill and Siobhan Galvin (cox), winners of the Mens Masters Eight as part of the composite crew with Castleconnell, Fermoy and UL. Three Muckross crews also placed second. Well done to the Womens Masters Double (Denise Casey, Meadhbh Terry), Mens Masters Quad (Danny Lyne, Noel Kelliher, PJ Walsh, Ed Lyne) and Mens Masters Four (Tim O'Shea, Marko Tot, Jeremy Kenny, Maurice Coffey). Well done also to the Mens J18 Double of Diarmuid Moynihan and Finn Moloney on

Double Gold for Keelie O'Connor as Killarney Valley AC Women Shine at Munster Indoors

There is something special happening at Killarney Valley AC, with the club's women athletes delivering standout performances across the board.

Keelie O'Connor is a prime example of how talent, consistency, belief and hard work can produce exceptional results. Competing in Athlone this weekend in the National League, she set a new personal best of 7.79 seconds in the 60m.

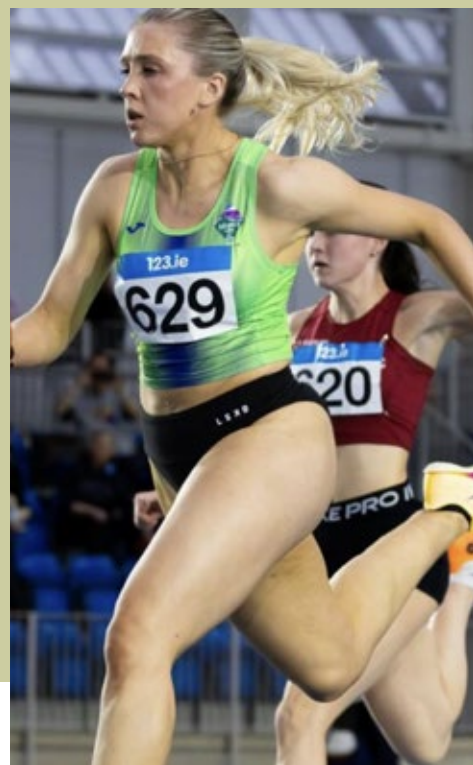

The previous weekend in Nenagh, Keelie claimed double gold in the 60m and 200m to be crowned Munster Senior Indoor Champion for 2026. Her recent success builds on an impressive 2025 season, where she won Munster gold in the 60m indoors and followed it up with 100m gold during the outdoor championships in the summer.

On current form, there is every chance Keelie could join fellow Killarney Valley AC athlete Sarah Leahy in the women's 60m final at the National Championships, which take place in less than three weeks at the National Indoor Arena in Abbotstown, Dublin. Having two athletes from the club in such a high-calibre final would be a fitting reflection of the outstanding work being done at Killarney Valley AC.

The club's future also looks bright. Young athlete Lauren McEvoy secured gold in the women's U20 60m at the Munster Championships and is already being recognised as one to watch.

Lauren was also part of the Killarney Valley AC 4x100m relay team that captured senior gold at the Munster Championships on what proved to be a memorable day for the club. The winning team consisted of Megan O'Reilly, Lauren McEvoy, Béibhinn O'Donoghue and Naoise Cronin.

KILLARNEY RUGBY CLUB

MATCH RESULTS

U18.5 Girls: KILK 34 – 48 Clonakilty RFC

Our KILK girls (Killarney, Iveragh, Listowel, Killorglin) gave it their absolute all in the Munster

League Final at Rockwell College on Sunday. In a high-scoring, thrilling encounter, the girls fell just short against a clinical Clonakilty side. Despite the result, this group should be immensely proud. Reaching a provincial final is a testament to the miles traveled and the incredible work put in on the training pitch all season. The future is exceptionally bright for this squad.

Mens Senior J1: Killorglin RFC 26 – 22 Killarney RFC

It was "Derby Day" at Ballymalis as our Seniors took on neighbors Killorglin in the Munster Junior League. In a physical, end-to-end battle, Killarney secured a narrow but vital 26-22 win. The pack laid the foundation in a tough away environment, and the result keeps our momentum building in Division 3.

U14 Boys: Killarney RFC 10 – 38 St Mary's/Richmond/Thomond

Our U14s hosted a combined Limerick powerhouse at Aghadoe on Sunday morning. Despite some fantastic individual tries and a resilient defensive effort, the visitors' clinical edge proved the difference. The boys showed great heart until the final whistle and will look to bounce back in their next Shield fixture.

MINIS RUGBY

Our U8s, U10s, and U12s had a fantastic day out in North Kerry on Saturday for the Listowel Blitz. Great skills were on display across all age groups. A reminder that because of the travel, there was no Fawns training this past weekend, but we look forward to seeing everyone back at Aghadoe next Saturday!

St. Brigid's Presentation Secondary School also recently celebrated Ceiliúradh CEIST, joining 107 CEIST schools across Ireland in reflecting on their shared ethos rooted in Catholic faith and Gospel values.

The day, linked to the spirit of St. Brigid's Day and its themes of care, community and faith, was marked with a prayer service broadcast throughout the school. A sixth-year student led the CEIST prayer, The Calling, while a first-year student lit the CEIST candle as a symbol of the school's commitment to its values.

The school extended thanks to the Amber Flag team for hosting a tea and coffee morning, the Ethos team for organising the prayer service, and the Irish musicians and dancers whose participation helped make the day memorable for the entire school community.

EAST KERRY SUPERLEAGUE

The senior team began their superleague campaign away to Gneeveguilla on Sunday morning. Played in bright winter sunshine, this was a very good workout for both teams who served up a fine game of football, considering it was their first competitive action of the year. Fossa started very well and were three points up through scores from Ted O'Gorman, Cathal Breen and Harry Buckley before Gneeveguilla equalised with a goal in the 11th minute. A clever flick by Cian O'Shea ended up in the net for a goal in the 15th minute, it was nip and tuck to the half time break with scores from Jack Clifford and Harry Buckley keeping Fossa in touch and they trailed at the break, 1-08 to 1-07. Fossa started the second half with the wind to their backs and they made it count with three points from the impressive Jack Clifford and a point from play by Ted O'Gorman in the first seven minutes. Gneeveguilla did fight back and Shane O'Sullivan pulled off a point blank save to deny them a goal, however two excellent long range scores from Harry Buckley and a fantastic two pointer from Tadgh O'Shea left Fossa winners on a score of 1-15 to 1-11. They are at home to Kilcummin in Round 2 next Sunday morning at 12 noon.

KILLARNEY LEGION

EAST KERRY LEAGUE

Last Sunday saw the return to action of our senior team as we hosted Firies in round one of Div 1A at Derreen. A closely fought first half saw us ahead 0-07 v 0-05 at halftime but a well converted Ryan O Grady penalty at the start of the second half put us into a commanding position that we held until the final whistle. Final score: Killarney Legion 2-15 v Firies 1-06

Utility Trust St Pauls Lakers vs Team North West Report

Dominos Men's National League
Saturday February 7th
Killarney Sports and
Leisure Centre

Utility Trust St Pauls Lakers 109
Team North West 69

Preview by Enda Walshe

A glance at the league standings would tell you this game would only be a matter of form as the basement team Team North West had found wins hard to come by this season. Utility Trust St Pauls Lakers on the other hand were on the lookout for their tenth win in a row, their thirteenth of the season and intent on keeping their position at the top of the Southern Conference. And so it proved as Luke O Heas side went about their business in an efficient manner, running out 109-69 winners.

They did so as they entered the game with the right mindset and those who had been performing all season did so again. Steve Kelly was agonisingly short of a treble double, netting 25 points, dishing out 15 assists and pulling down 9 rebounds. Eoin Carroll shot 19 points, pulled down 12 boards, Sam Grant matched his scoring return, Jack O Sullivan hit 15 points and was also a huge factor under the boards while Mark Sheehan went inside and out for his 17 points. Pablo Murcia, Marko Bencic, Oisín Spring and Dara O Sullivan also contributed on the scoresheet while Adam O'Neill and Cathal Spring also got court time. Hard to find a negative in the night and credit also must go to Team North West who travelled the length of the country to compete.

The win keeps the Lakers in pole position in the Southern Conference but a massive week lies ahead with the Killarney Derby on Thursday night in the Presentation Gym and the visit of Conference chasing and National Cup champions Limerick Sport Eagles. It's the most pivotal week in the Lakers season to date but fair to say they face it in the best possible mindset, winning and full of confidence.

They had their feet in the stirrups early in this game despite Thomas Dirienzo and Chuk Anene netting early for the visitors. Thomas REynolds added an early three as well to put the Donegal side 7-6 up with Jack O Sullivan and Eoin Carroll getting the Lakers points. Sam Grant, Mark Sheehan and Steve Kelly were next on the scoring list, pushing their side 16-9 clear. Grant and Sheehan netted from beyond the arc as Kelly's incisions into the arc continued to reap dividends for him and others. Dirienzo, Cassidy and Anene tried to carry the fight but Sheehan's accuracy was stalling them, his two outside shots helping the Lakers 34-18 in front at the end of the first.

Team North West enjoyed the better of the early exchanges in the second quarter, Dirienzo and Cassidy closing the gap to 36-25 momentarily but O'Sullivan, Grant and Carroll opened their legs again to push their side 49-29 clear. Dara O Sullivan now joined brother Jack on the floor and wasted little time finding his range, as did Bencic and that helped the Lakers 54-34 ahead. Kelly and Grant ensured the gap was stretched to 22, 58-36 by the halftime buzzer, Grant nipping in at the death.

With a full squad at his disposal O Hea ran it as much as he could as Carroll and O Sullivan answered Anene early riposte. Carroll was working tirelessly inside with Kelly pulling the strings, a Grant three encapsulating a nice period of play for the Lakers. Noah Martin climbed off the bench to hit a three for his side but Kelly replied almost immediately and despite Dirienzo's urgings the Lakers had driven on, 81-54 to the good.

The result was never in doubt and with two big games ahead Grant sat it out while Kelly participated in four minutes of it. There was still time for Mark Sheehan to skip inside the arc and finish with effect, Oisín Spring nailed a three, Pablo Murcia hit five of his own with Marko Bencic also profiting. Six points a piece for Kelly and O'Sullivan brought the Lakers total to 109 while Dirienzo, Anene and Cassidy helped their side reach 69. A comfortable night for the Lakers but tougher tasks lie ahead.

Steve Kelly hit 25, Sam Grant 19, Eoin Carroll 19, Mark Sheehan 17, Jack O Sullivan 15, Pablo Murcia 5, Marko Bencic 4, Oisín Spring 3, Dara O'Sullivan 2. For Team North West Thomas Dirienzo had 24, Chuk Anene 15 and Luke Cassidy 11.

With the Thursday Derby date on the agenda against Killarney Cougars, 8pm tip off in the Presentation Gym, there will be little time for reflection as the Limerick Sport Eagles come to town on Saturday night. That game tips off at 7.30pm and could well be the deciding game in the Southern Conference.

Utility Trust St Pauls vs
Trinity Meteors Report
Dominos Womens
Superleague
Saturday February 7th
Killarney Sports and
Leisure Centre

Utility Trust St Paul's 65
Trinity Meteors 55

Preview by Enda Walshe

A storming third quarter built on a defensive intensity went a long way towards helping Utility Trust St Pauls overcome the challenge of a stubborn Trinity Meteors who held a 39-32 half time lead. The Dublin side had the upper hand in that first half, thanks in part to the performances of their professional duo of Ava Learn and Kylie Horstmeyer. The home side were thankful for the contribution of Maisie Burnham in that period as her scoring kept them in the contest and throughout the game her ability from the free throw line was key. At the defensive end the limiting of Irish international Hazel Finn was another big factor in the final analysis as it blunted the Meteors' rise. It was their sixth win in a row and with two big games in the coming weeks against Flomax Liffey Celtics and Killester it promises to be a fascinating end to the season.

It was the visitors who made the sharper start to the game with Aisling Moran and Ava Learn converting. Maisie Burnham was causing the Meteors trouble and she opened her side's account from the free throw line. Tara Cousins and Learn traded further scores but Burnham was still profiting from the charity stripe. The Meteors owned the next few minutes with Catherine Connaire and Hazel Finn alongside Learn pushing it out to 15-12 but that stirred the hosts with Leah McMahon and Lovisa Hevinder accurate from outside. A Hevinder two pointer was the final basket of the quarter, making it 22-19 to her side.

The second quarter wasn't the best for St Pauls as they struggled offensively and Meteors reaped the rewards. Burnham and Siofra O'Shea had given them a solid start but Helena Keane and Horstmeyer were in full flow, the latter from long range, and that helped push her side 33-26 clear with three minutes to go. Martina Destro extended it further but Burnham helped steady her side's ship, again drawing fouls and converting. Tara Cousins had the last word in the half and it left the deficit at a manageable seven, 39-32.

The roles were very definitely reversed in the third quarter as St Pauls put the squeeze on Meteors. It didn't start according to plan as Moran hit the Dubliners opening basket. But the worm was starting to turn with Cousins, Lorraine Scanlon and Burnham halving the deficit. Moran struck again prompting a Horstmeyer flurry and with 3.36 to go in the quarter the Meteors halftime advantage had been restored. But they didn't count for a rousing finale, inspired by a Hevinder three and with Burnham in tow the duo helped their side in front, 48-47, as the team took the three quarters break.

With momentum on their side Burnham hit the opening four points of the final period and it was also noticeable that the home defence had got to grips with the Meteors weapons. Learn did temporarily gain a foothold but the likes of McMahon, Scanlon and Burnham were having none of it and midway through the quarter the lead was now 58-49. Again Learn threatened a comeback but Scanlon, with some nice work under the basket, closed off that avenue. Finn did break free of the shackles but St Pauls were not to be denied with Burnham, Scanlon and Cousins putting the gloss on a 65-55 triumph. Maisie Burnham was the undoubted star of the show with 29 points, Tara Cousins had 12, Lovisa Hevinder 10, Leah McMahon and Lorraine Scanlon 6, Siofra O'Shea 2. Kylie Horstmeyer 14, Ava Learn 13, Catherine Connaire 8, Hazel Finn and Hazel Moran 6.

The big games keep on coming with Flomax Liffey Celtics visiting the Killarney Sports and Leisure Centre this Saturday February 14th at 4pm. The Kildare side have a 50% win record in the league and had a moral boosting win over Brunell last time out. Irish International Sorcha Tiernan would be their star turn while Kate Williamson and Brooke Kane would be their major assets. This is St Pauls last home fixture of the regular season so all support is welcomed!!

Tolka Rovers 100 Killarney Cougars 69

Killarney Cougars travelled to the capital on Saturday evening for a clash with Tolka Rovers at the Tolka Sports Complex on Saturday night in Round 18 of the National League Div 1.

The Cougars made an encouraging start and showed real composure in the opening exchanges to lead in the opening minutes.

A strong first quarter performance saw the visitors competitive throughout, with the Cougars holding the lead, looking sharp at 22-20 after seven minutes with Josh Vermiglio and Simon Olanipekun finding their range early in the game. However, Tolka finished the quarter strongly, going on a decisive 17-1 run, as Derek Murphy and Stephen Commins caught fire from long range with five three pointers. The home side closed the quarter ahead 35-25.

The second quarter remained competitive, with the Cougars enjoying a good spread of scoring and working well to create opportunities. However, Tolka's accuracy from beyond the arc proved costly, as they added a further four three-pointers to extend their advantage. Despite good looks at the basket, the Cougars were unable to convert key chances, and Tolka went into the break leading 60-43 with Paul Adedeji and Joshua Phillips enjoying a strong period.

A similar pattern unfolded after halftime. The Cougars continued to work hard and match Tolka for stretches in the third quarter, but again struggled to capitalise on opportunities created. Tolka's consistency from the perimeter saw them maintain control, edging the quarter 21-15 to push their lead further.

Fatigue began to show in the final quarter as Tolka's depth off the bench came to the fore. The home side closed out the game efficiently, with their total of 14 three-pointers proving decisive in an entertaining contest.

Derek Murphy delivered a standout all-round performance for Tolka Rovers, finishing with 25 points, 16 rebounds and 9 assists, while Stephen Commins was deadly from long range, knocking down five three-pointers. Sean Commins (20), Daniel Ayoade (12) and Sean McManus (11) also contributed well for the hosts.

For Killarney Cougars, Paul Adedeji led the scoring with 21 points, followed by Simon Olanipekun (18), Kenny Shimwa (14) Joshua Phillips (11) and Josh Vermiglio (5) in a spirited team effort. Next up on Saturday a meeting with Maree Galway.

Tuam Celtic 1 - 2 Killarney Athletic

Sean Quill x1, Max Moynihan x1

Our young Blues had a fantastic hard fought win this afternoon in Tuam. A very tightly contested game from start to finish with Tuam pushing us all the way. We opened the scoring after 15 minutes. Max Moynihan low driven shot was saved, Sean Quill reacted quickest and slotted the ball into the corner of the goal. 1-0 at the break. Into the second half, with both teams attacking without much joy. It took a piece of magic to score the all important next goal 10 minutes into the second half. Great play down right wing from Shéa Driver who passed to Max Moynihan outside the penalty area. Max curled a beautiful shot into the top corner to give us some breathing space. This did not discourage Tuam, and to their credit they put us under serious pressure for the rest of the game. They got a deserved goal in injury time to make it 2-1 but we held out to secure our place in the next round. Thanks to Tuam for a very tough, good game and for their hospitality after the game, with plenty of food and refreshments both players and parents. Well done to all the squad today. They dug in, left it all out on the pitch get the win. Well done boys on Saturday morning. After a tight start to the game, Trey Hurley opened the scoring with a superb long range free kick all of 40 yards out from goal after 15 minutes. The first half ended 1-0. The second half was more open. Athletic continued to press and came close on a couple of occasions, hitting the inside of the post from a corner. Celtic pulled a goal back 5 minutes from time with a well-taken finish. However Athletic kept up the intensity and were duly rewarded with 2 minutes left. Athletic won the ball back through a high press and it broke to Cillian Sheahan on the edge of the box who glided past two defenders and calmly finished into the bottom corner. Great effort all round.

BOYS U12 PREMIER RESULT

Killarney Athletic A 4 - 0 Listowel Celtic A

Our in form u12 team welcomed Listowel this morning to Woodlawn for a very entertaining league game. We started well and had a number of chances before Leon got the opener when he got across his man at the front post to convert with a tidy finish from a corner. It could have been 1 all going into half time if it wasn't for an excellent save from Fionn Herlihy. Listowel made a strong start to the second half with our defence under pressure but the defended brilliantly. Our second goal came when Rian O'Reilly dropped the shoulder at the edge of the box and thundered the ball into the top corner to put us 2 up. Rian got our third after great work from Joe O'Shea on edge of the box setting up Rian to curl it into the bottom corner. The in form Joe O'Shea got the goal he deserved when he was played through by Rian on the half way line and he outpaced the defender and converted his 1 v 1 to make it 4-0. This was this team's fifth clean sheet of the season with all our defenders outstanding today. It was a squad effort with notable contributions from all our subs who came on. Thanks to Listowel Celtic for such a sporting game and we wish them luck for the rest of the season. Best on the day were Conor Scannell, Joe O'Shea and MOTM Rian O'Reilly.

U13 GIRLS DIVISION 1

Killarney Athletic 0 MEK 3

Two very evenly matched teams where the score doesn't reflect the actual game. In the first half both teams had their chances but MEK were able to finish theirs. The first from a corner where the ball reflected to MEK who slotted home with a fine shot. Just before half time MEK grabbed their second due to a bit of confusion between the Athletic keeper and the backs allowed MEK to grab a quick shot into the bottom corner. The second half was much the same with Athletic pushing and creating some chances. MEK grabbed the third from a break with MEK striker running onto a through ball. However Athletic had a good reason to question as it looked very much MEK off side. The rest of the game was Athletic pushing and created a lot of chances but could not find the back of the net. Thanks to MEK for a good game

Listowel Celtic 3-1 Killarney Athletic A

Abbey O'Leary x 1

Captain for the day- Rebecca Coffey

Listowel Celtic avenged their 2-0 defeat in the reverse fixture, with a win today. The opening 20 minutes were tightly contested, with both sides sharing possession. Listowel Celtic struck first in the 22nd minute when a ball broke to a lone striker, who finished superbly into the bottom right-hand corner. Killarney Athletic responded well and equalised five minutes later through Abby O'Leary, who fired low into the bottom right-hand corner from just outside the box to make it 1-1 at halftime. Celtic made a blistering start to the second half, regaining the lead just 30 seconds after the restart to go 2-1 up. Athletic pushed for an equaliser and came close when a through ball from Flora Walsh sent Julie Quinlan one-on-one with the keeper, but her effort was saved. Despite continued pressure from Athletic, listowel Celtic extended their lead in the 17th minute of the half when a corner led to a third goal. Athletic continued to press, with Clara O'Donoghue forcing a fine save, but no further goals followed. The game finished 3-1 to Listowel Celtic.

Despite the loss, Killarney Athletic Captain Rebecca Coffey delivered a superb defensive display and is our Player of the Match. A good tough match for the girls, and they showed great fight and spirit looking for their equalisers.

Jack Looney x 3, Fionnán O'Connell x 1, Ciro Rodolfo Neumann x 1

Our young blues travelled to Killorglin this morning for an early kick-off and started brightly, taking a deserved 1-0 lead after about 10 minutes. Killorglin responded well and gained control for spells, scoring twice before half-time to lead at the break. The second half was a completely different story. The lads kicked into gear both offensively and defensively, showing great intensity, teamwork and focus throughout. The lads had to stay switched on, particularly against a very lively Killorglin No.12 and they dealt with the challenge superbly. A brilliant all-round team effort and a fully deserved win, which sees us progress to the next round of the Bowl. Thanks to Killorglin for a competitive game and to the referee.

MASTERGEEHA

U13 GIRL'S PREMIER

Park 1 v Mastergeeha 2 5/2

Laura Breen, Aine Herlihy

Mastergeeha took on the league leaders in another thrilling encounter and it certainly lived up to expectations. We started the game on the front foot, creating plenty of early chances, though the Park goalkeeper was in excellent form. The breakthrough came after six minutes when Gracie Maher's bullet of a shot was saved, but Laura Breen was quickest to react, blasting the rebound home to give us a deserved lead. Five minutes later, Captain Aine Herlihy took advantage of a defensive error and doubled our lead to make it 2-0. Park responded well and, two minutes before half time, pulled a goal back to leave the score at 2-1 going into the break. The second half saw Park come out guns blazing, piling on the pressure in search of an equaliser. However, Lucy Devane, Clodagh O'Sullivan, Olivia O'Connor and Lily O'Donoghue worked tirelessly at the back to keep them at bay. Between the posts, Mia Doherty pulled off some great saves when it looked like the equaliser was inevitable. Further up the pitch, Laura Breen, Annie Mai O'Donoghue, Sophie Moynihan and Aine Herlihy ran their legs off to help maintain our narrow lead. Gracie Maher was unlucky not to get on the scoresheet, as she was closely marked throughout the half. Park continued to push right until the final whistle, but there was simply no way through, and we held firm to secure a very important three points. Thanks to Park for a very sporting and competitive game, we wish them the best for the rest of the season and no doubt we'll meet again very soon. Thanks also to Adrian Quirke for officiating the game fairly throughout.

BOYS FIXTURES

U12 JOHN MURPHY BOY'S SHEILD / TROPHY ROUND 1

Mastergeeha D 0 v Iveragh A 5

Our Mastergeeha D Team welcomed Iveragh A to Kilbrean Park on Saturday morning for the first of 2 games involving ourselves and Iveragh at U12 level. It was a game that our boys gave it their all to the final whistle but facing Iveragh A was always going to be a difficult task. We wish Iveragh the best in the next round of the competition.

Mastergeeha B 1 v Iveragh B 0

A great win for the boys in Mastergeeha. From the first whistle they were flying, huge work rate and great football. The breakthrough came when Dara Sheahan slipped Jake Kelly through, and he was taken down in the box. Jake stepped up and buried the penalty for a fully deserved 1-0 lead.

At the back, the lads were rock solid. Daniel O' Keffe and Cillian O'Dwyer were calm and commanding, with Zach Moynihan outstanding after switching to the left. Dylan O'Sullivan was superb too, quick off his line and pulling off some fantastic reaction saves.

In midfield, Kyle Morrissey (Man of the Match) was immense, driving us forward while Jack Sheahan was everywhere, breaking up play and picking out some super passes. Out wide, our captain Dara Counihan, John Leahy and Dara Sheahan worked tirelessly all game.

A big shout-out to Cillian Brosnan who put in a great shift. And up front, Jake Kelly was a constant threat with his strong, direct running. Credit to Iveragh who never stopped trying and for a sporting game. Thanks to Dan Clifford for refereeing.

Mastergeeha C 0 v Listowel Celtic C 1 (AET)

Mastergeeha U12 C team welcomed Listowel Celtic C to Kilbrean Park on Saturday afternoon in the second round of the cup. Defences were on top throughout the game with Michael O'Connor, Jerry Gallivan and Jack Lucey defending strongly and Jack O'Shea dealing comfortably with any efforts that breached the backline. Jack Rogan came closest to breaking the deadlock when his half volley from distance went just wide of the post. In the second half, Listowel had several shots on target, all confidently dealt with by Ben O'Leary. With the game remaining scoreless at full time, extra time was necessary. Unfortunately, with just two minutes left, Listowel scored from a deflected shot, securing their place in the next round of the Cup.

Captain: Ryan Dewhurst

Best for Mastergeeha: Michael O'Connor, Jerry Gallivan, Jack Lucey, Jack O'Shea, Ben O'Leary

takes a look at all things sport...

ALL THINGS SPORT

I always like to have a look back at East Kerry's kind of sporting past in this column every now and then. Nowadays, of course, you'd fill a column just with the sporting events of that week, and probably much better than I do, but I just think that every now and again, a bit of breathing space is grand for all of us. I also think that generations before us put a lot into making sure that their children and children's children have sport in their communities, and that social debt should be acknowledged.

I thought that this would be a good week to look back at a hundred years ago. Normally I'd have a bit of a match report and my opinion on Ireland's opener in the Six Nations. Yeah, nobody wants that this week. I'm nervous about Italy, to be truthful. Italy? Look, I'm well aware of Wales' travails, and I'd be worried about the Welsh game. That's where we are. And as for the nonsense about the selection at out half? Oh yeah, sure if we had started somebody other than Prendergast, we'd have been blowing the likes of Antoine Dupont out of our way. See, Hollywood? Fantasy movie plots are not hard, people, start doing better.

Kerry didn't have a National League mens' game this week. I honestly didn't expect Kerry to be put to the pin of their collar to beat London in the hurling. No disrespect to London, in fact every credit to them for keeping our games and culture alive and helping many an Irish person through tough times in what can be a very tough city, but I think they will struggle in both league and championship. I had not expected the Kerry minor hurlers to win the Todd Nolan Tournament; that's a much bigger win than most of ye realise.

I was in Mallow at the time for the Corn uí Mhuirí. Radio Kerry had the hurling commentary online; highly enjoyable. We all know that Timmy and Ambrose call the football matches as they see it, Andrew Morrissey and Mike O'Halloran don't pull any punches in the hurling either! The Corn uí Mhuirí was actually a tougher contest than I expected. Clonmel made a great start but faded rapidly at midfield and it looked like one way traffic. Then Clonmel's Luke Foley started popping those big two pointers, they got in for a goal, and suddenly it was a thriller. Gearóid White settled things with a great goal and the Green pulled away, but it was a highly enjoyable outing.

The Kerry ladies seem to be getting dragged from pillar to post when it comes to their away fixtures. Allowances can be made for time of year and weather. I know it's annoying, but I think people are doing their best. Regardless, that's a good win for Kerry and a really impressive first start for two goal Leah McMahon.

The domestic soccer season hasn't really kicked off, so that can be safely skipped. As for across the water....I'm fond of an occasional cliché myself, but Premiership pundits no longer seem connected to reality in any way.

How about the big one? The US Superbowl? That one time where sports lovers around the world gather in the middle of the night to drink beer (domestic, not American. Let's get real here), eat snacks (American, but with slightly less sugar and slightly more nutrition) and watch....everything except the actual game. Don't deny it; I've often been the soldier in that particular trench.

I have neither the energy nor the interest any more. Apparently the game itself was a blowout, the Seahawks didn't have to be at their best to see off the New England Patriots (I bet there are a lot of native Americans who wish that sentence was historically accurate). No, this year all the interest was around America's slide under MAGA towards the farthest extremes of the right. At the NFL's main event, nobody was really interested in the actual NFL bits. They were just interruptions to the real show. Green Day were anodyne enough, to be honest, softening lyrics to be very carefully politically correct. No surprise to me; they have always struck me a little bit as a boy band pretending to be punk rockers. It was always a little bit too polished, a little bit too forced. Bad Bunny, on the other hand, was brilliant. Not that I have a word of Spanish, but the sheer fact he looked both proud and happy to be on that stage..... America, despite everything, still might be a lot more Minneapolis than Mar-a-Lago.

I didn't see the 'other' half-time show. The.... how do I put this? The....caucasian one? Kid Rock....I think there comes a time where you should stop calling yourself 'kid'. There's a bit of a 'Stranger Things' timeline going on there. Is it true that twitter couldn't show it because of copyright? Did Darth Vader really make a guest appearance? Is it true that ICE almost arrested some people, but it turned out that an Ivy League fraternity had picked up a suntan while skiing in Aspen?

This week's column is not going to answer any of these hard questions, because this week's column is going all the way back to 1926. Where, to be honest, if Donald Trump had turned up in Kerry, they would most likely have mistaken him for some kind of foodstuff.

IRELAND IN 1926

A fledgeling nation was beginning, just about, to find its feet. Veterans of the Great War, the War of Independence, and most bitterly, the Civil War were tentatively eyeing each other in a new found peace. The gunsmoke had just about cleared, but not the tension. Ireland was intent on glorifying its ancient past but erasing its more recent one. Seán O'Casey's 'The Plough and the Stars' refuses to play that game and is not greeted with acclaim, far from it.

Cosgrave was a sure hand on the nation's tiller, encouraging a National Census among other things (Ireland had almost 3 million people), but Eamonn De Valera, having resigned as President of Sinn Féin, was in the process of founding a Fianna Fáil party in May to challenge. Among other things, he was no fan of our huge economic ties to England; though he was astute as any Irish politician ever, I'm not sure De Valera ever fully understood that Ireland was mostly a nation of small farm holdings with very little real industry. Electrification was still a lot of a decade away for many people. Our biggest export for many years would be our young people.

Ireland did have a strong educational base and a lively youth culture. This was the Jazz Age in the US and Ireland had plenty of people to dance the Charleston as well. F. Scott Fitzgerald and P.G. Wodehouse have both written well, albeit from very different perspectives, on the hedonistic habits of the upper classes. That didn't affect most Irish people, though, and certainly not in Kerry, where you would have been rightly accused of having 'notions'.

KERRY SENIOR TEAM NATIONAL LEAGUE

This was only the second year of the National League and it certainly hadn't been an instant success, with a majority of counties unwilling to contemplate a year round competition. Kerry was an exception, and they had a strong opening win away to Clare, 3-6 to 1-4, John Joe Sheehy and Jmaes Bailey doing most of the damage.

It was even easier at home against Cork, whose focus was really on winning the inaugural Hurling League. Their footballers failed to register a single score against Kerry, who clocked up 2-6.

Waterford did get a goal, but John Joe Sheehy himself had 0-7 as Kerry ran out winners on a 0-12 to 1-0 scoreline.

Limerick did score three goals in Listowel, but Kerry had four and another comfortable win.

First game outside of Munster, and Croke Park was the venue as Kerry played Laois. This was an absolute cracker, Laois prevailing over a full strength Kerry by 1-6 to 1-5.

Back to Tralee, back to Munster opposition, and back to winning ways as Kerry beat Tipperary by 0-5 to 0-2.

It was Laois who qualified to meet Dublin in the Final, and they beat the Metropolitans by 2-1 to 1-0.

There would be no National League played the following year, but as the GAA's popularity grew, it would return a year later, a famously all-conquering Kerry team claiming four in a row.

CHAMPIONSHIP

It is impossible to talk about the 1926 Championship without referring to the 1925 one. Which was, frankly, the worst one ever. Dublin reacing four finals on the trot and winning three (Kerry won in 1924) prompted a motion to have Dublin-resident players available to their 'home' counties. The Dubs were promptly dismissed in the first round of the Leinster Championship. Kerry went on to play Cavan in the semi-final. Cavan objected to Phil O'Sullivan because he had played in the Dublin county championship, meaning that he had 'committed' to Dublin. Kerry promptly objected to Cavan star James P. Murphy on similar grounds. Kerry wanted a Special Congress to debate the matter. Central Council, under new President Liam Clifford (he spearheaded the development of facilities in particular) decided that both sides were correct....so they threw them both out. Extremely messy, but I'm fine with it. Objection and counter-objection were becoming de rigueur; the practise had to be discouraged.

Only it got worse. Wait for this....Mayo were the 1924 Connaught champions. The 1925 one wasn't finished by the All Ireland semi-final against Wexford, so Mayo were allowed to represent Connaught and beat Wexford. With Kerry and Cavan thrown out, Mayo were All Ireland champions. Except that Galway then defeated Mayo in the 1925 Connaught Final. They claimed the Sam Maguire. At a Central Council meeting to decide the issue, the Galway delegates were staying overnight – but the Mayo delegates had to get the last train home. So, at a long and protracted meeting, Galway prevailed and were declared champions. It was embarrassing nonsense from start to finish.

Obviously, there was pressure on the 1926 Championship. It had to – literally had to – be better.

Kerry saw off Clare in a dull opener by 0-6 to 1-1. Not particularly impressive. John Joe Sheehy kicked 0-4, but teams and scorers are not properly recorded.

Cork were very much underdogs going into the semi-final (the final against Tipperary was advertised even before the semi-final was played!), concentrating more on hurling (they won the inaugural National Hurling League this year) but actually hit Kerry for two early goals. However, Paddy Farren from Ballybunion pulled a goal back and Kerry pulled away to win by 1-9 to 2-1.

Tipperary in the Munster Final, played in the Athletic Grounds (it became Páirc uí Caoimh in 1976). A contemporary match report mentions an early 'fracas'. Now, these are people who would later refer to World War II as an 'Emergency'. I'd say a 'fracas' meant blue murder altogether – and don't be trying to tell me that the likes of Joe Barrett or Jack Walsh were holding back! Kerry won by 0-11 to 1-4, John Joe Sheehy with 0-7.

Cavan in the semi-final. After the previous year, I'd say both sides wanted a go at each other. No love lost. And Cavan were good, make no mistake about that. Jim Smith was one of the greats. His first appearance in Croke Park had not been a happy one; he had played on Bloody Sunday when Michael Hogan was killed. Johnny McGorry, Patsy Lynch, Frank Boyle, Louis Blessing....those lads wanted to meet Kerry on grass, not any boardroom meeting, and the feeling was mutual.

Cavan were coming, but they weren't quite ready yet. In fact, they only scored a single point, while Jackie Ryan kicked 1-4 as Kerry won surprisingly comfortably.

Kildare in the final. An entire generation had grown up on stories of Kerry v Kildare. Their four game saga in the 1903 championship had been the making of the GAA. Paul Doyle, Mick Buckley, Moreover, high jumper Larry Stanley had transferred back from Dublin to Kildare, and Stanley was a national superstar. The high jumper was Ireland's first ever track and field competitor at the Olympic Games. Kildare's best footballer ever – and yes, I did see the likes of Glenn Ryan and John Doyle. I repeat with confidence; Larry Stanley was Kildare's best ever footballer.

And this was his finest hour. Con Brosnan, Bob Stack....arguably the greatest midfield pairing ever, but they couldn't contain Stanley. This was one of the great all-time displays. Kerry were completely under the cosh. They would have been swamped entirely but for Jack Murphy at corner back. The corner back was a colossus, and nothing less was required. Time and again he burst clear with the ball. Nonetheless, Kildare were leading by 0-6 to 0-3 in the closing minutes. With time almost up, Con Brosnan sent in a high ball. Bill O'Gorman salmon-leaped to gather, pivoted, and blasted a rocket with his left leg. A goal, and a draw. We were lucky enough.

Jack Murphy, man of the match, had kept Kerry in the game almost single-handedly. He just threw his clothes on over his playing outfit and exited the dressing room. Unfortunately, walking around in the still damp clothing gave him pneumonia, and by the time of the replay, the Cahirsiveen giant had passed away. The South Kerry Championship Trophy is named after him to this day.

Kerry back against Kildare. Sigerson Clifford was unquestionably the Bard of Kerry Football, and his poem about travelling to that Final on the train is my personal favourite, even before 'I Am of Kerry' or 'The Boys From Barr na Sráide'. The poem is called 'Goal for Kerry' but it's proper title was 'The Ghost Train to Croke Park' and it is truly evocative of a communal experience through a child's eyes. The Ghost Train....arrah, a thousand stories could be told on that one subject alone.

Once again, there was almost 38,000 in Croke Park, including on a one year old 'Hill 16'. Supposedly it was made with the rubble from the 1916 Rising – nonsense, but good marketing.

It was another tight and tough affair, but Tom O'Mahony's second half goal was to prove crucial as Kerry won the All Ireland. Tralee native Paddy Whitty donated his medal to Jack Murphy's family.

Kerry: Johnny Riordan (Boherbue) goal, Pat

Clifford (Ballymac), Joe Barrett (Rock St.), Jack Walsh (Craughdarrig), Paul Russell (Dr. Crokes), Jerry 'Pluggy' Moriarty (Rock St.), John Slattery (do.), Con Brosnan (Newtownsandes), Bob Stack (Doon), Jackie Ryan (Rock St.), John Joe Sheehy (Boherbue) capt., Denis Rory O'Connell (Rock St.), Tom O'Mahony (Newtownsandes), Bill Gorman (Rock St.), Jim Bailey (Rock St.). Subs: Dan Joe Conway (Strand St.), Mike Coffey (Beaufort), Paul O'Sullivan (Finuge), John Bailey (Ballymac), Paddy Whitty (Tralee).

The selection committee consisted of Tom Costello (Tralee) chairman, Humphrey Murphy (Currow & Killarney), Dick Fitzgerald (Killarney), Patrick Foley (Dingle), Jack McCarthy (Tralee), Tom O'Connor (Tralee), Jack Walsh (Asdee), Bob Stack (Doon), Jerry McEllistram (Tralee), John Joe Sheehy (Captain) and Den Joe Bailey (Co. Secretary).

JUNIOR

The Kerry Juniors had comfortable wins over Clare, Waterford, and Tipperary to win Munster, but came a cropper against Dublin in an All Ireland semi-final that was delayed until June 1927.

There were some very interesting names of that Kerry Junior team. Miko Doyle and John Joe and Tim Landers (I believe Bill was playing with the Kerry team that won the New York Championship at the time), Ned 'Pedlar' Sweeney, Dan Ryan, JJ McCarthy, Tommy Barrett, Paddy Whitty, Bill O'Gorman....Kerry had plenty of talent coming through. Other names should sound familiar....Eugene Powell, Sammy Locke, Frank Sheehy (future County Board Chairman; the Listowel Emmets' ground is still named after him), Jack Sewell....

RADIO

It was actually the hurling championship that had the nation transfixed. A three game saga saw Cork finally see off Tipperary after a second replay in Thurles. On the other side, Kilkenny had come through Leinster and faced off against Galway. Such was the interest that a fledgeling 2RN decided to broadcast the game on radio, and incredibly ambitious feat. Paddy Mehigan, known by his byline of 'Carbery' or 'Pato' was the best GAA correspondent of his generation (nobody else comes close) was the chosen commentator. It was one of the first ever live sports broadcasts in Europe (it was actually fairly common in the US, but don't let that spoil a good story) and was a huge success. In fact, the popularity of gaelic games was a huge factor in the rapid growth in radio popularity and communal gatherings to listen to games being broadcast would become social highlights in the coming decades. Not quite De Valera's famous (and mostly misquoted) 'dancing at the crossroads', but not all that far away either!

For the record, Cork would go on to achieve a league and championship double.

COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIPS

Only four teams entered the County Football Championship. Tralee beat Killarney by 3-4 to 1-1 in one semi-final, while Listowel had a comfortable win over Dingle in the other.

Listowel had a lot of good footballers. Jack Walsh, Standish Kerins, Roger Aherne, Tom O'Mahony, Pat Farran, John Bailey, Tom O'Mahony....the famous midfield pairing of Bob Stack and Con Brosnan. They would all grace the green and gold.

Even so, everyone knew who were raging favourites going into the final, and Tralee duly obliged with a 7-7 to 2-1 victory over Listowel. Sammy Locke had a hat-trick, Pedlar Sweeney had a brace. The team reads like a who's who of Kerry football of the era. Tralee players who didn't even play in the final, having appeared in the semi-final, included Paddy Whitty, Dan Joe Conway, Patsy Curtin, Miko Doyle, Jackie Ryan.....no team in Kerry had a chance of even coming close.

There was actually far more interest in the hurling. Twelve teams entered. Strand Road, Boherbee, Abbeydorney, and Listowel saw off Kenmare, Killarney, Lixnaw, and Causeway. In the second round, Kilflyn, Rock St., Listowel, and Boherbee prevailed against Killorglin, Rathmore, Strand Road, and Abbeydorney.

Rock St. beat Kilflyn 4-3 to 2-1 in the first semi-final, while Boherbee beat Listowel by 6-3 to 2-1 in the other.

Rock St. versus Boherbee. An all-Tralee Final. Best of friends, best of enemies. Joe Barrett captained Rock St., John Joe Sheehy captained Boherbee. Rock St. won out by 4-2 to 0-2, though Pat O'Shea notes in 'On The Ball' that the play was much closer than the scoreline, the Boherbee forwards spurning a number of opportunities.

The truth is that Tralee were so dominant in Kerry GAA that it was dissuading other teams from even entering. Even a County Board completely dominated by Tralee (each County Championship team had two delegates, which meant that Tralee had 12 delegates while the entirety of South Kerry had none) could see the problem. Within two years, after much negotiation behind the scenes, Tralee were convinced to split into three clubs, Rock St. (it would become Austin Stacks), Strand Road (it would become Kerins O'Rahillys) and John Mitchels.

COLLEGES GAA

Education in 1926 in Ireland was not quite the force it would become. 12% of the population were illiterate. Secondary school was expensive, socially stratified, and largely urbanised. The curriculum had a heavy emphasis towards academic subjects like latin and greek, and even more so towards Irish language and culture (the GAA was among Irish institutions trying to promote and Irish version of Santa Claus, Finn Varra Maa, 'Fiobharr Maith' based on a Thomas Nally play. It actually leaves me speechless. Just google it. Suffice to say, it didn't catch on; Santa Claus made his first appearance in Irish stores in 1926). Frankly, Irish history was frequently mythologised. Corporal punishment was standard. But, tyrannical as it might sound nowadays, Ireland's primary school system actually had a very high standard, and was greatly strengthened by the 1926 School Attendance Act which mandated education for all 6 – 14 year olds.

Dr. Eamonn O'Sullivan was already making waves as an innovative trainer of the Kerry team, though not that long out of college himself. His influence extended much further in the GAA, and indeed in community life in Killarney in particular, than is generally acknowledged. One of the things that he strongly promoted was more games for young people – I suspect that the English pubic school motto of 'mens sana in corpore sana', healthy mind in a healthy body, was a core belief of the man. He wasn't the only advocate of gaelic games being advanced through the school system, but he was the most influential, and in 1926 a proper Kerry Colleges Committee was established. Canon John Breen (the Sem) was President, Br. Turner (Tralee CBS) was Vice President, and Dr. Eamonn was Treasurer. 'Public Relations Officer' was a concept for the future, but The Kerryman's 'P.F.' (Pádraig Foley) strongly endorsed the idea in print – and newspapers back then were as influential as all of social media combined nowadays. 'P.F.' did not write 'news' per se; he issued pronouncements.

It was decided to play a Kerry Cup competition, with Bishop Charles O'Sullivan donating a Cup. It's interesting now to look back and see the participating teams – St. Brendans Seminary, Tralee CBS, St. Michaels Listowel, Tralee Technical Schools, Jeffers Institute Tralee (Bishop Dr. Moriarty had brought the Sisters of Mercy to open a school for the poor in Moyderwell in a property rented by a Mr. Jeffers. Opened in 1861, it was demolished in the 1960s when the school became the St Marys Primary School (The Mercy), built using the original sandstone. The Kerry County Library stands where the original Jeffers Institute stood.), and the The Monastery, Killarney (yes, they competed in post primary competitions). In the final, St. Brendans Killarney, captained by Denis Curran (he became a priest, and I do know that a Fr. Denis Curran was parish priest down in Sneem in the late 1930s) and including one of Kerry's greatest players and administrators in Johnny Walsh from Ballylongford, beat Tralee Technical Schools by 2-3 to 0-2.

A Dunloe Cup costing £20 (serious money back then, very serious!) was presented by a Mr. Harrington for a U15 competition. As well as the O'Sullivan Cup teams, Killorglin, Cahisrisveen, and Dingle also entered, but in the end it was Tralee CBS who defeated the Sem by 1-7 to 1-1 in the first ever final. A hundred years later, Pres. Milltown would win their first ever Dunloe Cup, beating none other than the Green in the final.

While it was played informally in Kerry, any suggestion of establishing soccer as a rival to GAA in Kerry had far less of a chance than any snowball in hell. Cork was the only Munster county where the game had a foothold (Fordsons entered a factory team into the league of Ireland), and even then it was only a distant cousin to Dublin, which was itself supposedly subordinate to Belfast. Soccer in England had its roots in industrial cities and Belfast had stronger ties, but already there was huge resentment. The FAI (Dublin) had split from the IFA (Belfast) in 1921, but both sides were selecting 'Irish' teams (sometimes with the same players). The FAI had only been formally recognised in 1924, and reluctantly at that. Not only that, but there were already strong rumours about secretarial maladministration and some strange accounting. The FAI had sent a team to play two games at the 1924 Olympics and had played two other amateur games, but it was in 1926 that they played their first ever full international, taking on Italy in Turin and losing 3-0. Domestically Shelbourne beat Shamrock Rovers to the title, but here awww something of a shock in the FAI Cup as Fordsons beat Shamrock Rovers 3-2 in Dalymount Park on St. Patrick's Day.

The GAA was gradually taking its place in popular affections, but only just. Ireland had a great rugby history and Kerry had produced a number of internationals itself. In 1926 they came agonising close to glory, beating France and England (19 to 15) to set up a meeting with reigning champions Scotland. Ireland won out by 3-0 in Edinburgh (Jack Gage got the only try, which was worth three points at the time) and suddenly there was a Slam (a 'Quadruple Crown' as it was called at the time) as well as a Triple Crown (our first since 1899) on the table against Wales. 6000 Irish fans made their way to Swansea – almost unfathomable numbers for the era. There was an estimated 50,000 spectators. Apparently the majority of the crowd sang 'God Save the King' with gusto according to newspaper reports – I suspect that the word 'apparently' is doing a bit of heavy lifting there! It was a cracking game, by all accounts. Ireland led by 8-5 at half-time, but Wales came back to snatch a lead through Rowe Harding. A drop goal was worth four points at that time and Tom Hewitt had one last, late attempt to snatch victory....but the attempt fell just short. Ireland shared the championship with Scotland, but it could have been so much more.

Spa GAA held its Annual Awards Night on Saturday, 7th February, in Hilliards, Killarney, with a large crowd in attendance for one of the club's most important social events of the year.

The night featured a distinguished list of guests, including GAA President Jarlath Burns, Kerry GAA Chairperson Patrick O'Sullivan, All-Ireland champion Dara Moynihan, Noel O'Sullivan, Great Britain GAA Delegate to Croke Park, and Spa's three-in-a-row All-Ireland Scór Set Dancing champions (Katie O'Connor, Anna O'Connor, Meghann Cronin, Katie Cronin, Liam Spillane, Kianan Doherty, Darragh Brosnan and Diarmuid Donovan).

Addressing the gathering, Patrick O'Sullivan praised Spa GAA's contribution to the local community and acknowledged the enormous work carried out by volunteers behind the scenes. GAA President Jarlath Burns delivered an engaging address, highlighting the importance of the GAA to Irish life and commending Spa GAA for its involvement across all strands of the Association, with particular reference to the club's cultural and Scór successes.

Club Chairperson Tadhg Hickey hosted the event and paid tribute to the volunteers and members who continue to drive the club forward before presenting the awards.

Player awards were presented to Niamh Daly (Young Ladies Player of the Year), Darragh Brosnan (Young Men's Player of the Year), Michael Horgan (Junior Player of the Year), Gary Vaughan (Men's Player of the Year) and Saoirse Kelly (Ladies Player of the Year), all recognised for their excellent performances throughout the season. The Cultural & Social Award went to Eileen Aherne for her long-standing service to the club, while the Lifetime Achievement Award was presented to Michael Cronin in recognition of his decades of dedication to Spa GAA. Spa GAA also extended thanks to Hilliards Killarney for hosting the event and to the Awards Night Committee for organising another successful and memorable evening.

Killarney Businesses Take Part in 'Killarney's Fittest Business' Health Initiative

Local companies are in training for the being encouraged to get involved as "Killarney's Fittest Business" enters its final week ahead of next Friday's finale event.

The free six-week team challenge was designed to bring workplaces together in a fun and inclusive way while promoting healthier habits, will conclude alongside the Grand Opening of the new Activate and FORM facilities on Saturday, February 21st from 10:30am to 1:00pm.

Inspired by the spirit of Ireland's Fittest Family, the initiative is aimed not at elite athletes, but at ordinary workplaces and colleagues of all ages and abilities. Businesses can enter teams of three or four people, with larger companies welcome to register multiple teams.

"The goal is to create momentum, camaraderie and a positive start to the year for local businesses, while supporting their wider mission to improve and prolong the lives of 10,000 people living in and around Killarney", Brian Foley, owner of Activate Gym said.

"We want this to be more about team-building than hardcore fitness," a spokesperson said. "This is for everyone - not just sporty 20 or 30-somethings. We'd love to see teams made up of colleagues in their 50s, 60s or 70s taking part and enjoying it together."

Each participating team has been paired with a coach from Activate or FORM, with weekly challenges including step targets, basic fitness tasks and small habit changes designed to keep teams motivated and accountable.

The programme will culminate in a lively "finale day" next Saturday where teams will take part in light-hearted stations featuring simple cardio challenges, strength tasks and teamwork exercises involving balance, coordination and problem-solving, all set in a supportive and energetic community atmosphere.

Importantly, the entire initiative is completely free, with no fees or hidden costs for participating businesses.

Organisers hope the event will become an annual fixture in the Killarney calendar, celebrating community spirit, encouraging healthier lifestyles and strengthening connections between local businesses.

"We are still accepting spaces for the day so companies can still sign up" Brian added.

Food for Thought:

Energising Healthy Eating at St. Brigid's

As part of the Healthy School initiative at St. Brigid's Presentation Secondary School, a recent day was dedicated to promoting healthy eating and raising awareness about positive food choices. Students prepared and served a variety of nutritious foods and snacks for the entire school community.

The day began with Ms. O'Donoghue's Y.S.I. group, Nourish to Flourish, who hosted a porridge morning with a selection of healthy toppings. The Transition Year group focused on highlighting the importance of breakfast and healthy starts to the day. Later, at the 11 o'clock break, the Healthy School team, led by Ms. O'Donnell, offered morning muffins, breakfast bars, protein balls, hummus and fresh fruit. These wholesome, convenient options were designed to suit busy student lifestyles while providing nourishing benefits without added sugars. The school thanked all who contributed to the success of the initiative.

McMahon on Target for Kerry

Kerry 4-10 | Meath 2-12

By Deniese O'Flaherty

The old adage goals win games proved true as Kerry got back to winning ways when they defeated Meath in an entertaining contest in the Lidl NFL Division 1 game played at the Meath Hill GAA Grounds.

The Kingdom scored three goals in the first half and then added a fourth in the second half. Leah McMahon scored two goals while Síofra O'Shea was superb in the forward line scoring 1-6 (four frees).

Kerry made a great start to the game with a goal in the second minute through Leah McMahon in her first start for Kerry. Meath got their first score in the sixth minute, a point from Emma Duggan. They followed that up with another to cut the gap to one in the seventh minute.

A nice ball in from Anna Galvin found McMahon and she made no mistake grabbing her second goal. Kerry followed up with points from Dannielle O'Leary and O'Shea to put six between the sides after 12 minutes.

Meath responded from that Kerry spell with a pointed free from Duggan and a neat goal from Orla Finnegan. Twice in seven minutes Meath came to within one point of Kerry.

The excellent O'Shea kicked two points (one free) to put three between the sides in the 28th minute but Duggan and Ciara Smyth fired over points in stoppage time to leave Meath trailing by one at the break at 2-5 to 1-7.

Three minutes into the second half Kerry got their third goal with a lovely finish from O'Shea. Duggan was on target yet again firing over a free minutes later. Every time Meath came to within a point of the Kingdom the reigning league champions were able to hit back with a score.

With two in the game Kerry got their fourth goal in the 53rd minute when Mary O'Connell fired a good shot to the net but Kerry were dealt a blow when Cáit Lynch had to go off injured in the 57th minute.

The lead was seven points in the 60th minute when O'Shea fired over another free. Meath got a second goal less than one minute later through midfielder Orlaith Sheehy. Duggan hit over another point before O'Shea finished the scoring with a point near the end.

Scorers - Kerry: S O'Shea 1-6 (f), L McMahon 2-0, M O'Connell 1-1, N Ní Chonchuir, N Carmody, R Dwyer 0-1 each.

Meath: E Duggan 0-7 (4f), C Smyth 0-4, O Finnegan, O Sheehy 1-0 each, M Byrne 0-1.

LEGENDARY KILLARNEY TEAM

to finally get their moment in the sun

A team that were crowned Senior County Camogie Champions 58 years ago will be remembered at half time at Fitzgerald Stadium on Saturday 14th when Kerry host Laois in the Centra National Camogie League Division 2A Round 1 opener at 2pm

The Killarney Camogie side of 1968 and 1969 that were crowned Kerry county champions having defeated Ballyduff will be presented to the crowd and will finally get their hands on the Cup that they won which they were not presented with nearly all of 60 years ago.

On the day that they won their title in 1968 the cup was not present and was also missing for presentation in 1969 but having trawled through the county, the Kerry Camogie County board have finally located the cup, and it will finally be presented to members of that historic team.

It was also a unique hurling double for Killarney who also saw them crowned Senior County Hurling Champions in 1969 having defeated Austin Stacks 2-6 to 2-5

The Camogie team who were trained under the tutelage of the late Tom Galvin and Dermot Moynihan will see some of the remaining players attend the game, while family members will represent those who are deceased in what should be a great afternoon of nostalgia and fun.

DIVIDING HERBACEOUS PERENNIALS

Dividing your herbaceous perennials regularly helps to keep plants healthy, vigorous, and looking their best year after year. It also provides an excellent opportunity to increase your stock by creating new plants.

For most perennials, dividing every two to three years is sufficient to maintain good vigour and overall plant health. However, if your aim is propagation, they can be divided more frequently.

The best time to divide herbaceous perennials is when the plants are dormant, typically from November to mid-March.

Some spring-flowering plants, such as irises, are better divided in summer after they have finished flowering and are producing new shoots.

After dividing and replanting, either in borders or in pots, remember to water the plants well and keep them adequately watered until they are fully established.

A Word of Victory

"Though I am surrounded, and in the midst of troubles You will revive me. You protect me from the anger of my enemies. You will reach out Your hand, and the Power of Your right hand will save me. The Lord will work out His plans for my life (He perfects that which concerns me). For Your Faithful Love O Lord, endures forever. Don't abandon me for You made me. (Psalm 138:7-8).

Welcome back dear student, last week we saw the link between the heart and the words that flow from it. "As a man thinks in his heart, so is he (Proverbs 23:7). Perception and belief can control outcomes. The Lord weighs our hearts - how interesting (Proverbs 21:2). The world weighs achievements, beauty, popularity and possessions and exalts them, but God looks at and examines the heart. I picture the Lord with a magnifying glass, carefully investigating details that others miss, or deem uninteresting. The Good Shepherd knows every detail of His beloved sheep (John 10:27; Psalm 139:1-4). The heart may be hidden from view, but the mouth reveals its contents (Matthew 12:34; Matthew 15:18).

Have you ever had a hunch, but just couldn't put your finger on what was wrong? Folks often flatter us with their lips, and then condemn, slander, or accuse us behind closed doors. "His words are as smooth as butter, but in his heart is war" (Psalm 55:21). This behaviour is not of God: it is a demonic work of the flesh. Words and actions that don't line up bring confusion and darkness. Discernment sees beyond what's portrayed, and for this we need the Holy Spirit's Power. Jesus said, "Repent for the Kingdom of God is at hand!" (Matthew 4:17). Many have experienced trauma from the power of word curses that others have pronounced upon them and believed those negative things about themselves as a result. These toxic emotions fuel anxiety, self-hatred, and low self-esteem. A lot of sicknesses and problems in life are rooted in this. Suppressed anger, and unforgiveness towards others - or towards oneself, cements the negative wounds in the heart, and breeds isolation. But God knows - for He is the God Who Sees you (Genesis 16:13; Luke 4:18). The ministry of Jesus is Healer - He binds up the wounds of the broken-hearted. "Give your burdens to the Lord, He will sustain you" (Psalm 55:22). Our lead Scripture highlights God completing His perfect plans as we surrender to His Love. This requires yielding, trust, and humility. When we repent, and humble ourselves before God, we give Him the freedom to move. We learn to trust Him to work out everything in His timing. We follow His process, patiently growing through trials, joyfully believing that God will not forsake us, because He is Faithful to His Covenant of Love and Mercy. The Word tells us to cast our burdens on the Lord, but in casting there's a vulnerability - handing over the reins to the Lord. It can be a hard place to sit quietly and leave God at the controls. There's a funny fake video where Jesus is at the wheel, and his passenger is stuck to the car seat in utter terror at His wild driving! God doesn't promise a smooth ride, sometimes it feels like a rollercoaster. But hold fast, and don't faint or give up dear friend! "...God opposes the proud, but He gives Grace to the humble. So, humble yourselves under the Mighty Power of God and, at the right time, He will lift you up to honour. Give all your worries and cares to God, for He cares for you" (1 Peter 5:5-7; 2 Chronicles 20:15). God promises that the battle belongs to Him, and to Him, this is no battle at all!

MEMORARE

Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help, or sought thy intercession, was left unaided.

Inspired by this confidence I fly unto thee, O Virgin of

To thee do I come, before thee I stand, sinful and sorrowful.

O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions,
but in thy mercy hear and answer me.
Amen.

A PRAYER TO OUR LADY OF LA SALETTE

Remember, dear Lady of La Salette, true Mother of Sorrows, the tears which thou didst shed for me on Calvary; be mindful also of the unceasing care which thou dost exercise to shield me from the justice of God; and consider whether thou canst now abandon thy child, for whom thou hast done so much. Inspired by this consoling thought, I come to cast myself at thy feet, in spite of my infidelity and ingratitude. Reject not my prayer, O Virgin of reconciliation, convert me, obtain for me the grace to love Jesus Christ above all things and to console thee too by living a holy life, in order that one day I may be able to see thee in Heaven.
Amen.
