ADAM AND ASLAN STEAL HEARTS AT THE INEC ARENA

While enjoying their summer holidays at The Gleneagle Hotel in Killarney, star of the Late Late Toy Show, Adam King and his family popped over to the Inside Out Alsan gig at the INEC Arena where Adam and his lovely family got a rapturous applause.

Adam stole the hearts of the nation when he appeared on the Late Late Toy Show with his hand drawn "Virtual Hug Heart" which has raised thousands of euros for Cork University Hospital and the Children's Health Foundation Temple Street.

Both of these hospitals are very close to the King family as Adam was born with osteogenesis imperfecta type 2, the most severe form of the condition which causes brittle bones.

Hundreds of people attending the Aslan concert were delighted to see Adam and his family and the band stopped playing to pay tribute to him. Afterwards the band tweeted "It was an honour to have you there @ AdamKingIRL We are all big fans of yours! We hope to see you again soon".

Adam King Adventures also tweeted a clip of the whole experience saying... "We had the most amazing time in Killarney this week! Thanks to all the places and people who made the experience unforgettable for the kids, and big thanks Aslan for the love yesterday evening when we popped in for a few songs!

A wave for the crowd at the Aslan Concert. (Video still)

Kerry Mountain Rescue Team EXPRESS CONCERNS

Following a large number of callouts in recent weeks Kerry Mountain Rescue team have expressed concern that many of the people rescued are inexperienced hillwalkers. They have also observed that a number of families with young children are attempting to climb Carrauntoohil without proper equipment or footwear.

This month alone, Kerry Mountain Rescue team has responded to 16 callout, five of them were parties who got lost and 11 were injuries.

The most recent callout involved 24 members of the voluntary group, took almost 6 hours and resulted in the casualty being airlifted to University Hospital Kerry by Coastguard Rescue. They are calling on climbers and walkers to take personal responsibility and keep in mind the following before they decide to set out on mountains:

Are they, or members of their group, fit, competent and experienced?

Do they know the area, can they navigate effectively in all weather?

Have they got the right gear, including boots and raingear for the mountain, with food, water, map and compass, a fully charged mobile phone, first aid kit, bivvy bag/shelter? Have they checked the weather forecast?

Do they have a route plan and have they notified someone of their intended route, start time and expected return time?

Kerry Mountain Rescue Team is made of 35 voluntary active members who come from all walks of life and who are all active and accomplished walkers and mountaineers in their own right. Their area of operation covers the entire South West of Ireland principally the peninsulas of Beara, Iveragh and Dingle – and boasts fifteen of Ireland's twenty highest peaks, including Carrauntoohil (the country's highest, at 1039 metres).

"Bloody but unbowed" BRÍD FINDS THE SPARK TO IGNITE BODY, MIND AND SPIRIT

Following a cancer diagnosis, just fifteen months after her mother had received a terminal diagnosis, Brid O'Connor struggled to find a glimmer of light.

Her diagnosis was coupled with the fact that two of her sibling's had tested positive for BRCA gene meant that the family unit became shadowed and veiled and that cancer had invaded her happy homestead.

Brid's mum, Evelyn O'Regan passed away in November 2020 and her death and living inspired Brid's idea for her book, Spark, Stories to inspire body, mind and spirit.

With her greatest champion gone, Brid needed to find a way to "turn and face it", a phrase her mom often used in her role as a basketball coach.

As a History teacher, Brid always had a keen interest in stories of triumph and she turned her skills to research how others had recovered from great loss? How did they rise from the dark and what had they done to heal themselves?

In doing so, Brid decided to write a book with contributions from storytellers who have all gone through a time in their lives when they were faced with adversity.

In the book, there are pieces on grief, illness, accidents, suicide, depression and addiction but all of the writers reveal what resets them.

"There is a strong message of hope throughout the book with lots of nuggets of golden sparks on every page", Brid told Killarney Outlook.

"The writers are from all walks of life, some are family and friends and more are friends of friends", said Bríd, who is very thankful that they have all allowed her to be custodian of their story.

Among those who have contributed are Billy Keane, Dick Spring, Neil Kelders, Elaine Galvin, Dr Dearbhaile Collins, Naomi Brosnan, Holly Power and Mikey Sheehy Jnr.

In her own story, Brid realised that she had lost her spark and zest for life after her own diagnosis. With a young family, she found herself in uncharted waters and rudderless. Searching for something to help her navigate her new journey, she found the poem "Invictus" by William Ernest Henley would have a lasting and profound effect.

"Invictus" translates from Latin as "Unconquered" and on difficult days the poem became Brid's mantra, her battle-cry, her spark, guiding her in the knowledge that she too had mastered her own fagte and captained her own soul.

All proceeds from the sale of the book will go to Comfort for Chemo Kerry, a charity which is obviously so close to Brid's heart.

"While the staff are amazing at University Hospital Kerry, the faciities for those receiving chemotherapy are far from ideal", Bríd said.

The vision at Comfort for Chemo Kerry is to fundraise €5 million euros to build and equip a state of the art purpose built Chemotherapy Unit for the people of Kerry, where the best care available will be delivered in an environment which is welcoming, reassurig, comfortable and dignified.

Brid would like to thanks the main sponor of the book Henry and Paula Bartlett and their team at Independent Irish Healthfoods and the associate sponsor Gearoid Linnane and the Lee strand Team.

Spark, stories to ignite body, mind and spirit is available to purchase at Eason Killarney and is retailing at €24.99.

Comfort for Chemo Kerry have a mission to fundraise €5 million to build and equip a start of the art, purpose built chemotherapy unit for the people of Kerry.

Their vision is to build a centre of excellence for the patients of Kerry, who need Chemotherapy and Oncological treatments. Ensuring the best care available is delivered in an environment that is welcoming, reassuring, comfortable and dignified.

What will be in the new state of the art purpose built Chemotherapy Unit?

- Stand Alone State of the Art Building Privacy and Dignity for Patients
- New Outpatient Unit

- Dedicated Chemotherapy Suites
- Isolation Facilities
- Compounding Unit (Drug Preparation)
- Spacious Clinical Areas

one hundred and sixty years OF TOURISM IN KILLARNEY

One hundred and sixty years ago today, Friday, 26th August, the 6-30pm train from Dublin delivered a very special distinguished guest to Killarney.

Queen Victoria herself, accompanied by her husband Prince Albert and their children Prince Albert, Princess Alice and Princess Helena were on board and began what is now the Killarney Tourism Experience.

The Herbert Family of Muckross enjoyed a high social standing, which reached its climax in 1861, with the visit of Queen Victoria to Killarney. Although the Queen had visited Ireland on two previous occasions, in 1849 and 1853, this was the first time that Kerry was included in her itinerary.

The Queen was accompanied by Albert, the Prince Consort, the Prince of Wales, Prince Alfred, Princess Alice and Princess Helena.

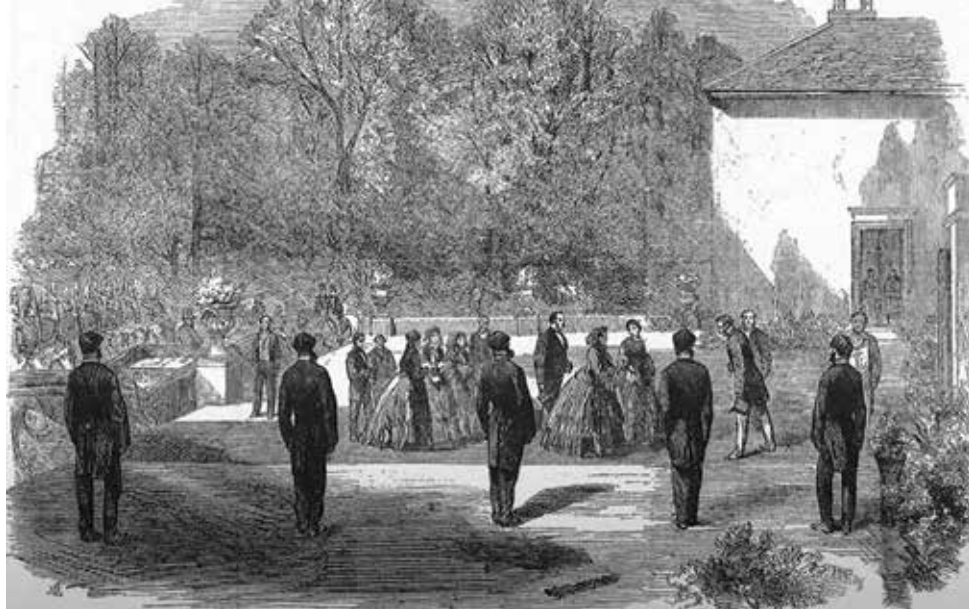

The Royal party stayed the night of Monday, 26 August, at Killarney House, home of the Earl of Kenmare. They then travelled on to Muckross, where they spent the following two nights. The Queen's visit to Killarney House was very much a state occasion. However, her stay at Muckross was a much more private affair.

The local press reported that Her Majesty had declared her intention of being "very quiet" while at Muckross. (Kerry Evening Post, Wednesday 28 August 1861).

At 6.30 pm on the evening of Monday, 26 August, the Royal train arrived in Killarney from Dublin. The Royal party were then escorted to Killarney House, where a large dinner was held that evening.

The next day the Queen embarked at Ross Castle for a day on the Lakes. Lunch was served at Glenna Cottage. In the evening the party returned to Ross Quay, from where they were escorted back to Killarney House.

At about 6.30pm that same evening, Tuesday 27 August, the Queen and her family set out for Muckross. They were accompanied by The Right Hon. Henry Arthur Herbert, Viscount Castlerosse (of the Kenmare family) and a troop of the Royal Dragoons. The Times described how Mr and Mrs Herbert received the Queen on the lawn at the door of Muckross House. A host of other ladies and gentlemen were also present and greeted the Queen enthusiastically. (The Times, Friday 30 August 1861).

Elaborate preparations had been carried out at Muckross for the Royal visit. Tapestries, mirrors, Persian carpets, silverware, musical instruments, linen, china and servants' uniforms, are all said to have been specially commissioned for the occasion. The curtains, which still hang in the Dining Room of Muckross House, were specially woven, probably in Paris, for the occasion.

The Queen's apartments at Muckross were described in the local press as follows:

'An entire section of the mansion has been set apart for the royal family, so that all their apartments communicate without the necessity of passing into the corridors to be used by other

Muckross Demesne, visiting Dinis Island, Mangerton and Torc waterfall. Following lunch at Muckross House, the party then embarked at Muckross boathouse for Tomies to view a stag hunt upon the Lake. (Kerry Evening Post, Saturday 31 August 1861).

On Thursday 29th August, the morning of her departure, Queen Victoria visited Muckross Abbey, a fifteenth century Franciscan friary within the Muckross demesne. Eleanor, the eldest Herbert daughter described this visit as having been, 'very quiet, hardly any of the suite with us, they were all enchanted and wandered over it gathering ferns and leaves as recollections. She is to have ivy from the Abbey and ferns from various places sent to Osborne as recollections of this place.'

Before departing from Muckross, the Queen sent for Mrs Mary Herbert and presented her with a bracelet of gold, pearls and diamonds. Her daughters, Eleanor and Blanche, also each received a piece of jewellery. The Royal Collection at Windsor Castle contains three water-colours by Mary Herbert. Presumably Mary presented these to the Queen on her departure.

occupants of the house. The Queen will live here in privacy, and from the windows of her rooms she can walk into delightful grounds, which will be kept private during her stay at Muckross. In her sitting room - which, like all the others, is a splendid apartment furnished richly and tastefully, there is a series of views of the Lakes of Killarney, painted by Mrs Herbert. They are works of the highest artistic excellence.'

(Kerry Evening Post, Wednesday 28 August 1861).

The following day the Queen, accompanied in her carriage by Mrs Herbert, drove around the

At noon the Royal party left Muckross House for Killarney Railway station. There they boarded their train for Dublin, which they reached in just a little over five hours. Mr Miller, Chief engineer of the Great Southern and Western Railway drove the train both to and from Killarney. (Kerry Evening Post, Saturday 31 August 1861). The unstable financial situation of the Herberts in the late nineteenth century may have stemmed from the outlay involved in preparations for this Royal visit.

Taking Flight...

Twenty-one Norwegian-born White Tailed Eagle chicks were released into the wild at the four Munster sites - on the Shannon Estuary, Lough Derg, Waterford and in Killarney National Park.

Photographs: Valerie O'Sullivan

It is hoped they will bolster Ireland's existing White-Tailed Eagle population. Overseeing the Release in Killarney National Park were Eamonn Meskall, Regional Manager National Parks and Wildlife Service, Dr Allan Mee, Advisor, White Tailed Eagle Project Phase 1, Danny O'Keeffe, National Parks and Wildlife Service district conservation officer, Philip Buckley, Project Site Manager, Shannon Estuary.

The chicks have been kept in purpose-built enclosures at the four locations while they grew, matured, and developed the feathers and muscles necessary for flight. They will continue to be carefully monitored and by NPWS staff leading the collaborative reintroduction programme, which began in 2007. The satellite tags will allow the project to monitor their progress and their integration into the existing Irish breeding population.

JOYRIDE FINISHES FILMING IN KERRY

Joyride, starring Oscar winning actress Olivia Colman, has wrapped on location in Kerry!

The feature film, produced by Subotica and funded by Fís Eireann/Screen Ireland & Ingenious, had a successful 5 week shoot in the county. Emmy Award winning director, Emer Reynolds, was delighted with how it went commenting that "Kerry brought an ineffable magic to the film. Its people, beauty, wildness, poetry, humour, light & scale, all of which have seeped into the film's DNA." Screenwriter Ailbhe Keogan had always strived to have the film shoot in her native Kerry & was delighted that the efforts of the Kerry Film Office made this possible. "Screen Kerry did colossal work to ensure we could compete favourably with the East coast."

Siobhan O'Sullivan, Kerry Film Officer, commended Kerry College Monavalley Campus, Kerry County Council & the Creative Ireland Kerry Programme on their support in securing this production for the county, without which "it would not have happened". Kerry College Monavalley Campus saw the training opportunity the film presented and enabled a production base to be established on campus. Kerry College students gained industry experience in the camera, sound, lighting, DIT, AD, Art & Production Departments. Con O'Sullivan, Manager Kerry College Monavalley, emphasised the importance of such strong links with industry; "getting the first step on the ladder in a career in film is a critical part of our learner's progression. This was a great opportunity for Kerry College to help provide this". Brian Nolan, lead instructor on the Kerry College Broadcast Production Skills course, agreed, outlining that, "putting the skills you have learnt in the classroom into practice in an industry environment is the only way to fully develop your potential."

The film brought employment opportunities for local crew & trainees & significant economic activity with over 100 people employed in the production, all needing accommodation, transport and catering. Kerry County Council recognised the benefit to the county of such a production and were proactively engaged from the outset. Kerry County Council Area Engineers gave swift advice on road access for this road movie while the Arts Office & Economic Office provided support and info throughout. Bridget Fitzgerald, Economic Development Officer, recognises the economic impact productions have and is looking towards the future. "We were delighted to support Joyride filming in the county.

Kerry has great potential as a film location & we cannot underestimate the economic impact of this. " Kate Kennelly, Arts Officer agreed, commenting that "the Creative Ireland Kerry Programme supported the production locating in Kerry, in turn supporting the creative sector working in film in Kerry at this time."

Siobhan O'Sullivan, Kerry ETB Film Development Officer, is looking forward to bringing more production & film business to the county and was clear that "by investing in the Film Industry as a significant employer of the future we have the capacity to unlock Kerry's full economic potential."

Fundraising for Comfort for Chemo ahead of the 54321 Challenge this weekend were Catherine Foley, Jimmy Carton and Donal Horgan in Killarney on Sunday.

54321 CHALLENGE SPINS FOR COMFORT FOR CHEMO KERRY

This year's 54321 Challenge began yesterday, Thursday 19th and will run until Sunday Last weekend in an effort to raise awareness and funds a Spinathon was held in a number of locations around the county.

All money raised will go towards this year's chosen charity Comfort for Chemo Kerry.

The first of the spinathons took place on Saturday July 31st in Listowel, Killorglin, Dingle, Cahirciveen, while the Killarney event took place on Sunday 15th.

On the day volunteers took to the spinning bikes from 10.00 to 17.00 in different locations around these towns and volunteers did bucket collections.

The 54321 Challenge was originally started 9 years ago with a team of 5 People over 4 DAYS, completing 3 CYCLES, and climbing 2 MOUNTAINS for 1 Cause – a local charity.

Given the ongoing COVID 19 situation, this year again will see restricted numbers taking part in the event. The 54321 Challenge's top priority is to ensure the safety of its participants and in the current climate, this extends to their families, neighbours, friends etc. This year ten ladies will take to the roads and mountains over the 4 days of the event and this will take place from Thursday 19th to Sunday 22nd of August 2021 inclusive. This will include the following.

Day 1 (Thursday 19th) - Cycle the Ring of Kerry.

Day 2 (Friday 20th) - Climb Carruntuohill.

Day 3 (Saturday 21st) - Cycle from Killarney to the foot of Cnoc Na Tobair and then climb Cnoc Na Tobair

Day 4 (Sunday 22nd) - Cycle the Skellig Ring.

The Challenge has raised almost €242,000 to date supporting a number of very deserving Kerry Charities.

"This year's selected charity is Comfort for Chemo Kerry, when choosing this year's charity the organisers contacted a past participant and a dear friend to us all Mairead Dunphy from Glencar who is currently on her own Journey with Cancer", PRO for the charity, Tony Dunne told Killarney Outlook.

with Cancer", PRO for the charity, Tony Dunne told Killarney Outlook.

"We wanted to show our support to Mairead and knowing that she would like to support those who have supported her on her journey so far, she had already been looking at ideas to raise much needed funds for Comfort for Chemo Kerry. Little did we think that Mairead would be actually contemplating taken part in the event but in true style and testament to the person that she is, she will be one of the ten participants", he added.

Comfort for Chemo Kerry is fundraising to build a centre of excellence for the patients of Kerry, who need Chemotherapy and Oncological treatments. Ensuring the best care available is delivered in an environment that is welcoming, reassuring, comfortable and dignified.

SOUTH KERRY SKILLNET LAUNCH NEW MANAGEMENT DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME TO SUPPORT HOTEL INDUSTRY

(L-R) Bernie Fitzgerald - Great National South Court Hotel, Ines Guerra (President IASI Irish Accommodation Service Institute) - Carlton Hotel Dublin Airport, Aoife O'Reilly South Kerry Skillnet, Josephine Ryan - Red Cow Moran Hotel, Mary Rose Stafford - Munster Technological University, Mary Flannery - Ashford Castel

South Kerry Skillnet along with the Irish Accommodation Services Institute (IASI) and Munster Technological University, Tralee have today launched a national Accommodation Supervisory Management programme. It is a free management development programme to aid post-pandemic recovery in the hospitality sector by training the unemployed in much sought-after skills, with the aim of finding them employment. Applications are now open for the programme, which is aimed at previous or potential accommodation managers and those who are unemployed with relevant experience in the industry.

The programme is funded through Skills Connect, an initiative from Skillnet Ireland, and was developed in partnership with enterprise, to enhance cross-sector employability and support those who have lost their jobs. The Accommodation Supervisory Management (level 6 Special Purpose Award) will run online over a 12-week period commencing on 27 September 2021, for approximately 2 days a week (5 hours a day).

South Kerry Skillnet Network Manager Aoife O'Reilly said the course will address skills gaps in the industry, "The tourism and hospitality sectors continue to deal with the many challenges that Covid-19 has brought. This programme has been developed by South Kerry Skillnet as a response to requests from the hotel industry for a focused programme in Accommodation Supervisory Management. South Kerry Skillnet is delighted to offer this national online programme which will be providing management and supervisory training to the hospitality industry, giving businesses the tools to support their teams and get them ready for the recovery".

Mary Rose Stafford Munster Technological University said, "At Munster Technological University we are conscious of the need to support affected sectors in responding to the pandemic. Retraining people for the 'new normal' is easily said and often difficult to implement. We look forward to working with South Kerry Skillnet to offer this online national Accommodation Supervisory Management programme. This is a practical and actionable programme that will help address a current need within the hospitality sector".

Ines Guerra president of the IASI said, "The hospitality sector remains under immense pressure. It is vital that we protect and grow the talent and skill set that has enabled the sector to deliver the warm, authentic service and exceptional experiences which Ireland is renowned for the world over. Tourism and hospitality are key to Ireland's economy, and I believe that this programme will ensure the industry can return to its best".

To find out more about this programme or to view South Kerry Skillnet's full range of programmes, please visit www.kerryskillnet.ie or call Aoife on 066 9762477.

Closing date for applications: 13th September 2021, Places are limited.

KILLARNEY CYCLIST NAMED ON IRISH JUNIOR SQUAD FOR EUROPEAN CHAMPIONSHIPS

Killarney Cycling Club has received a big shot in the arm with the announcement that its Junior rider, Stefan Caulfield Dreier, has been selected on the Ireland Junior track team to compete in the European Championships later this month.

Stefan, who lives in Beaufort, started cycling with the club in 2013/14 as an under-12 and enjoyed mixing his cycling with other sports for a number of years. Along the way he had many under-age successes culminating in an under-16 national time-trial title in 2019 and this year he won two silver medals at the Irish Junior Track Cycling Championships.

Club Chairman, Mark Murphy, said that Stefan's success was due, in the first place, to his own talent and work-ethos but that the club also took satisfaction from seeing the fruits of its Youth Academy initiative started about seven years ago: "Stefan's dedication to his sport is a beacon to all our young riders and shows that love of sport and hard work can pay off. On behalf of everyone in the club, I congratulate Stefan, his parents Heiko and Louise who have closely supported him, and his club mentors".

While various Killarney riders have been on different track squads down through the years, Stefan is the second to make a track squad, the last being John Blackwell who was on regular Irish Track Team duty between 2004-09.

Stefan Caulfield Dreier at the launch of the Irish National Junior Squad at the team's training camp in Spain.

The Ireland National Junior Coach, Martin O'Loughlin, speaking from the squad's training camp in Spain, said that Stefan will compete in both team pursuit and individual pursuit, and hopefully the Omnium which is four bunch races in a single day. He also paid tribute to Stefan's work-ethic: "He has made a huge commitment to track cycling this year, travelling twice a week from Kerry to Dublin for training, and it has paid off for him".

Mark Murphy also put Stefan's success in the broader context of the fall-out from the Covid epidemic: "It is especially significant given the difficulties with Covid as our excellent crop of Juniors – which we had nurtured up through under-age years - have missed out on two years of top-level competition and opportunity, such as The Junior Tour of Ireland. They would possibly have been one of the strongest Junior teams in the club's history".

However, as Mark outlined, the club is re-doubling its efforts in this regard: "In the Autumn

we will launch a new initiative to promote the retention of young riders in the sport and to give a supported pathway of progression from U-16 to Junior and onto to U-23 level. "We are going to spare nothing in this regard and I would like to thank all our sponsors and supporters who's good will and financing make this type of outcome possible."

Stefan's first national outing with the national squad will be in Apeldoorn in the Netherlands from 17th to 22nd of this month.

"IF I CAN'T STAND UP - I'LL STAND OUT..."

FOUR YEARS ON, IAN REFLECTS ON LIFE SINCE HIS ACCIDENT

On the 16th of August 2017 Ian O'Connell was out cycling with his friends in Killarney National Park when his bike hit a log and he was thrown over the handlebars.

The life changing accident inspired Ian to defy the odds and exceed all medical expectations.

In his own words following the accident, Ian said "the minute I hit the ground, I just heard a crack in my neck and lost all feeling. I didn't know my body was there. I stayed conscious and I landed on my neck and then fell onto my back. I looked to one of my friends and said 'ring an ambulance, quick!' and they were still in shock. I said to my friend 'Michael, I'm paralysed'.

This week he looked back on his life since that fateful day in August 2017. "4 years ago today my life was turned upside down and inside out for the rest of my life. Some will say it's something bad that happened to me, but in my opinion it was a blessing in disguise. I have been to hell and back, been through things and saw things you would never want to see, I have been through it all. When I went over the handlebars and landed on my neck I heard the cracks of my neck breaking and my body went lifeless and all I could move was my eyes. To be honest, I thought it was all over but I wasn't going without a fight. I looked up at the blue sky, I said a prayer. I still distinctly remember exactly what I said to myself "Ian don't close the book when something bad happens, flick the page and start a new chapter".

I have overcome multiple barriers and different types of adversity in the last 4 years. Some life threatening and some everyday obstacles. When I fell I broke 4 bones in my neck, severed my Spinal Cord, developed a collapsed lung and bleeds to the brain which have thankfully all gone. I was told I would be on a ventilator for the rest of my life and 80 days later I took my first breath of fresh air without a ventilator. In 2020 I got a collapsed lung which resulted in cardiac arrest which have now been overcome, thank God.

It's things like these which give you a different perspective on life and show how grateful I am to be healthy today.

When asked would I go down the hill I had my accident if I could go back in time, the answer is yes I would. The reason is yes I would because I didn't know it would lead to all this, I went down that hill everyday during the summer but on the 16/08/2021 God had different plans for me and I was just unlucky but lying on the ground I never thought it would lead to a better life than before my accident. Yesterday is the past, right now is up to you and tomorrow is a mystery.

The only time I ever look back on the 16/08/2021 is to see how far I have come because that log I hit on the ground made me the man I am today. The support I have been shown is hard to put into words it's phenomenal from all of not only Ireland but all over the world. Its the support and the kind messages that motivates me".

TED'S OPEL VAUXHALL RUN 2021 A GREAT SUCCESS

On a hazy Saturday morning the cars started to congregate at the Mills Inn Ballyvourney for the fourteenth Ted's Opel Vauxhall Run.. The rain held off until the first award of the day was presented, the winner of the first Special Award chosen by a staff member of the Mills Inn went to Jim Ahern from Castleconnell, Co. Limerick. for his 1963 Vauxhall Victor FB. It was Jim's first time joining the Run. As the cars proceeded on to Kilgarvan, Borlin Valley the rain lightened but some fog remained to give a different view on the Valleys landscape. At Cronin's Centra in Ballylickey again a staff member chose a Special Award winner, selecting the Opel Kadett Coupe Rallye of Kieran O'Neill from Belfast. After the lunch stop the Run continued through Glengarriff and up the Healy pass where the rain continued and gave an unusual view of waterfalls as backdrops throughout the ascent. At the stop at Helen's Bar in Kilmacalogue a Bridal party selected the Billy Coleman replica Opel Manta 400r of Joey O'Shea from Pallaskenry, Co. Limerick. for the third Special Award. The Main awards were also presented at Helen's Bar. The Kevin O'Leary Cup for Best Opel was won by Raymond O'Connor from Churchtown, Co. Cork. for his 1983 Opel Kadett D. The Cartell.ie Cup for Best Vauxhall was won by Patrick Sheehan, Middleton, Co. Cork. The Rentokil Cup for Best Modified was won by John Twomey Ballinhassig, Co. Cork. for his 1979 Vauxhall Chevette. The Perpetual Shield was won by David O'Hanlon from Tralee, Co. Kerry. with his 1973 Opel Ascona A. The "Spirit of the Run" Award was presented to Paul (Rally) Hally from Clonmel, Co. Tipperary. for his assistance on the run over the past years. The Jackie Small Memorial Award was presented by Group Motors Rallying to William Mangan from Miltown, Co Kerry for his Opel Kadett Coupe. The Opel Ireland sponsored trophy for Best Overall Car of the Run was won by Pdraig and John McCarthy Macroom, Co. Cork. for their 1980 Bedford Chevanne. After the return journey through Kenmare and over the Top of Coom to the Mills Inn, the proprietor picked the car for the final Special Award, the 1972 Opel Manta A of John Keating from Ballincurra, Co Cork was the winner. Overall it was a thoroughly enjoyable day despite the rain and fog at times. A presentation will be made to the Dogs for the Disabled in the near future. We are looking ahead to next year already so keep the 13th August 2022 in your diary.

Padraig and John McCarthy winners of the Best Overall Car of the Run sponsored by Opel Ireland with Ted's Opel Vauxhall Run committee members June Falvey, Ted O'Connell and Denis Murphy.

CRONIN ON THE PACE IN SCOTLAND

Keith Cronin and Mikie Galvin finished Saturday's Grampian Forest Rally in Scotland just one second shy of the podium places in their Hankook Tire Ford Fiesta Rally 2. The Killarney & District Motor Club crew went into the final stage level on time with Rhys Yates and James Morgan, but it was the latter who prevailed by the smallest of margins in their M-Sport Fiesta.

The Aberdeenshire event was the third round of the 2021 British Rally Championship, and it marked Cronin's second outing since he returned to the series following a three year absence. The route consisted of three separate stages, each repeated during the course of the day, and the second run on each test saw the four-time champion record times closer to the ultimate pace, as the Hankook Tire programme continues to progress.

The rally was won by M-Sport's development driver, Matthew Wilson, ahead of Osian Pryce, who was co-driven by Killarney's Noel O'Sullivan. Yates' third place result moves him to the head of the championship standings following the late retirement from the Grampian of erstwhile leader, Matt Edwards, with mechanical problems.

Speaking at the finish of the final stage, Cronin outlined how he pleased he was to be mixing with the championship's leaders so soon. "I didn't really expect to be in the battle with any of them but we were getting closer. That stage felt good. We tried a few things with the Hankook tyres, overall it was good, I'm happy with the day".

The British Rally Championship action resumes at Trackrod Rally Yorkshire on September 24th & 25th. It will be the first two day event of the season, with a twelve mile stage in darkness opening the rally on the Friday evening, followed by a further 45 miles of competition on the Saturday.

Keith Cronin is supported by Hankook Tire, M. O'Brien Group of Companies, Rentokil Initial, Cremin Coaches, Cronin's Centra, Cronin's Homevalue and M-Sport.

MONEY MATTERS.....

When Can You Access Your Pension & What Are Your Options When You Want to Retire?

You can normally get access to your pension from age 60, a lot of the rules depend on whether you are an employee or self employed. If you are coming close to retirement then you are probably wondering what options you have when you want to get access to your pension. It depends on what type of pension you have but generally there are four options:

Tax Free Cash: Most people will be entitled to a tax free lump sum, the amount varies however generally you will get at least 25% of the value of your pension in a tax free cash lump sum.

Taxable Cash: You may also be able to take sum of your pension in taxable cash.

Annual Pension: This is a guaranteed income usually paid monthly for the rest of your life that is purchased with the money left after your tax free lump sum, this is subject to taxation.

Approved Retirement Funds: You may be entitled to keep some of your money in an approved retirement fund, money can be taken from the fund to give you a regular income, usually monthly. This is subject to taxation also. Taxation at retirement is often much lower than when you are working. It is extremely important that you take your time and have all the options explained to you in plain simple English and that you understand all your options clearly before you make your final decision. As well as the above there is much more to be discussed about your pension. You should discuss your retirement options with a financial advisor who has access to a number of different pension providers before making any decisions, he or she will help you with the above options and any other queries you may have.

To discuss the above or any other matter Dermot Cronin QFA can be contacted at 0646622775 or dermotcroninifa@gmail.com

Riding the Rollercoaster of Life!

Life can take us on a roller coaster ride full of highs and lows, twists and turns. And, just when we think that we have it all sussed and that we are on an upward climb, we can suddenly be thrown off course again as we go round a sharp bend! At these moments, it's vital to remember that you're not alone in your experiences. Also, that it's okay to feel scared, uncertain and not knowing what direction to take to get you back on track.

Ease your way with these three top Coaching tips

- Every feeling you have is valid and the key is to acknowledge them as they arise. A great tip is to name the feeling out loud. For example, "I'm feeling really upset right now." Just naming it can help you to feel more in balance. It is when we push our feelings down that we can feel overwhelmed.
- Remember that life never flows in a straight line and that everything will pass and change in time. Where you are now is only a snapshot of your life, not a picture of your entire life.
- Reach out! Riding life's rollercoaster is made so much easier when we can ask for help, join a community or just pick up the phone to a friend. We often feel that we don't want to bother others, however, everything that we do in life connects us to others in one way or another. No one is an island and we are stronger when helping each other navigate the journey.

Noreen WHAT Women WANT
answers your beauty questions...

I am in my 50's and find it difficult to do my eye makeup, any tips?

Find a matte eyeshadow that makes your eye colour pop and sweep over entire lid.
Use a soft eye pencil in black, brown or grey to line beneath your lower lash line to define your eyes.
Use a felt tip eye liner pen to apply eyeliner, this is soft and does not drag on the eyelid.
Use highlighter at the inner corner of your eyes to brighten them.
Fill your eyebrows by brushing them up and outwards, then use a powder or pencil to fill where your brows are sparse.
Apply Mascara, I love Blistac Mascara €25, invented to form tiny water-resistant tubelike polymers around your lashes. Cannot run, smudge or flake.
Use a light reflective concealer under eyes to brighten them or a peachy toned colour to disguise dark circles.
Get your eyebrows shaped professionally to create a mini facelift and get your eyelashes and eyebrows tinted to darken and define them. Use an eyelash curler or get a lash lift done to open the eyes big and wide. These help you look great without makeup so saving you time.

Importance of a routine

Having a routine can affect your mental health and can have psychological benefits in your everyday life.

Creating a good routine can lead to better sleep which in return leads to you being more energised which is great when it comes to exercise and daily activities in your life

Having a routine gives a good structure to your day and a good way to plan where to get your exercise in that suits you

Having your kids in a routine for school is also beneficial as it ensures they can feel energised throughout the long school day and after school activities for the different sports they play and take part in.

Having your kids in a routine also lets you get out and exercise with them such as going for a walk in the park or playing ball together.

If you don't have a routine a great way to start by writing it down as we feel more inclined to get something done if we have it written somewhere.

Having a routine can reduce stress and anxiety which can affect your mental and physical health.

AN EYE EXAMINATION SHOULD MAKE THE BACK TO SCHOOL CHECKLIST

A comprehensive eye examination is as essential for back-to-school success as supplies for learning. Studies have consistently linked school performance to poor vision and visual disorders. More than one in 10 children in every classroom is estimated to have an undiagnosed common vision problem that affects their learning and development. Some eye conditions do not display any signs or symptoms, so the only way to know for sure is to take your child for a sight test. Signs which may show there is a problem with a child's sight include:

- an eye appearing to drift inwards or outwards;
- difficulty concentrating;
- headaches;
- sitting too close to the television; or
- rubbing their eyes a lot.

The condition 'lazy eye' can run in the family, so if someone in your family has either an eye turn ('squint') or suffers from reduced vision in one or both eyes ('amblyopia'), it's a good idea to take any related children for a sight test.

What is vision screening?
Some children have their vision screened at school - this is usually a basic test, designed to pick up children who have reduced vision in one or both eyes. If a problem is suspected, children will usually be referred for a full sight test.

What is a sight test?
A sight test is a comprehensive check which can pick up many conditions, including colour vision defects, problems with the development of 3D vision and any need for glasses. Taking children for sight tests from an early age helps to build good eye health habits into adulthood.

What can I do if I don't want my child to wear glasses?
Some parents avoid taking their children for a sight test, because they do not want them to wear glasses. It's important to understand that some children do need visual correction so their vision can develop normally and to achieve their full potential. The good news is there is now a much wider range of attractive frames to choose from and less stigma attached to wearing glasses. Many children are also suitable for contact lenses. This is particularly helpful for children who take part in regular sports activities and they can be successfully worn from an earlier age than most parents expect.

>KILCUMMIN COMHALTAS CONGRATULATIONS

It was with great pride that we learned of a gold medal winner from the Fleadhfest in Sligo. Michael Healy, now a stalwart of Kilcummin CCÉ didn't hesitate in demonstrating his prowess in the melodeon competition and achieved a well-deserved first place. The Fleadhfest navigated through online competitions over this Covid period to whittle the numbers down and fortunately it allowed for the cream of the crop to play in Sligo. Michael Healy wasn't finished or satisfied with one gold medal. He presented once again on the Saturday of Fleadhfest and won another gold medal in the button accordion. This young man's talents are limitless and everyone in Kilcummin CCÉ knew that the potential to excel was within Michael's grasp. On behalf of Kilcummin CCÉ, we congratulate him and indeed his family on such a wonderful achievement. We look forward to future success and even a performance in person once we get beyond the current Covid restrictions.

FIRIES GAA CLUB GEARS UP FOR ITS CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF CLASSIC

FIRIES GAA CLUB is gearing up for one of their main fundraisers for 2021 with the launch of their inaugural Club Championship Golf Classic on Saturday, 28th August in Beaufort Golf Club.

Derek Comerford, Furies Coiste na nÓg Chairman outlined the significance of the fundraiser to the East Kerry Club; "Furies GAA continues to grow and grow and the primary outcome of the golf classic is to continue to raise funds for our ever expanding club. Its particularly satisfying on a personal level having been involved with Furies GAA at grassroots level as a juvenile coach for the past few years to witness the great work by our members to develop our club from under-fives right up to senior players in Football, Hurling and Ladies Football."

Kevin Cronin, Club Secretary added that to link both the GAA and Golf elements together, the committee decided to replicate that Club Championship format and the fortunate winners will secure a much sought after prize of an underage training session with THREE Kerry GAA stars for their club in addition to the trophy and golf prizes.

Derek continued to outline that interest in the event is high and there are a limited number of places available.

"We have only limited availability remaining which is a fantastic response to our efforts especially from rival club members looking to win the training session for one of their underage teams, as well as the many golf prizes available on the day.

If you or your club are interested in submitting a team of four at €200 per team, please contact Derek on 085-1007703.

The event has tee time's available early on Saturday 28th to ensure players are back to watch Kerry take on Tyrone or we can also facilitate teams who want to play Friday, 27th August in Beaufort Golf Club. We wish all our participant's a great day!"

VOLUNTEERS HELP TO ENSURE THE TOWN IS LOOKING GOOD

Tidy Towns Volunteers are out and about every Monday evening ensuring that the town will be looking its best for the return of the Supervalu Tidy Towns Competition. The iconic competition was cancelled in 2020 - for the first time in over 60 years - due to the Covid-19 Pandemic. But special arrangements have now been put in place to ensure the return of the competition this year, with the overall winners due to be announced before the end of the year. The 2021 Supervalu Tidy Towns competition will take place in the same format as previous years, albeit with a specific emphasis on electronic entry and remote adjudication of each town's entry.

Groups continue to adhere to public health guidelines as they have done so remarkably well since the onset of the Pandemic as the health and safety of volunteers continues to be paramount.

Killarney Tidy Town is a group of volunteers who work together and with Killarney Municipal Council and Kerry County Council to maintain and improve the town and outlying areas to keep them litter free and beautiful.

They meet twice a week - Monday's and Wednesday's - and are always delighted to see new faces. There is a little bit of hard work but the gains both personally and socially outweigh the work. To get involved just text 0872385600

IRELAND HAS A MORAL OBLIGATION TO HELP THE AFGHANISTAN PEOPLE

Statement by Seán Kelly, MEP for Ireland South and Head of the Fine Gael Delegation in the European Parliament, on the situation in Afghanistan

The current situation in Afghanistan is appalling, and we have a moral obligation to help. Tragic footage is emerging, such as of desperate crowds running alongside a US military plane as it prepared to depart Kabul airport on Monday.

I welcome the Government's response to the emergency to date. Ireland has committed to grant programme refugee status to up to 150 Afghans under the Irish Refugee Protection Programme, in addition to the 45 visas which were approved in recent days. These measures are vital to help secure the safe departure of foreign nationals and Afghans who wish to flee the country.

The current humanitarian crisis in Afghanistan will not be short-lived. Therefore, it is highly important that Ireland continue its current efforts to help, even once the initial shock of the recent developments has passed.

Many women in Afghanistan have expressed deep concern for the future. Under the Taliban's previous regime, women and girls were subject to repressive policies and systematic human rights violations. Ireland must continue to strongly advocate for the safety and freedom of women, minority groups and human right defenders in Afghanistan as a matter of priority.

I will continue to closely follow the situation in Afghanistan and the Irish and European response, and assist in any way I can. I call on all Members of the European Parliament to advocate in their Member States for support to victims of the crisis.

KEEL GAA CLUB NEWS

KEEL CAMP 2021: The club held our annual camp from Wednesday 11th to Friday 13th. Almost 80 children from u7's to u13's attended 3 days of jam-packed fun and games. Once again, the camp was fully volunteer led & a huge debt of gratitude is owed to the 18 coaches & 11 assistants that gave their time so generously. Thanks also to those who work behind the scenes to ensure camps like this become a reality. We were delighted this year to be able to call on 2 female Kerry players & 3 male Kerry players that have/ are representing Kerry at Minor & Senior level from our very own club. The children were delighted to pick their brain on what it's like to play for Kerry. Wise advice was given with regard to practice, dedication & commitment as well as the importance of teamwork. To finish off the 3 days our Coaching Officer Sean O'Dowd cooked up a storm & children were given freshly prepared burgers (kindly sponsored by Aidan & Róisín Foley of Mid Kerry fuels) & pancakes. We also held an art competition "What does Keel GAA mean to me".

Fossa Under 16 Girls

A winner from each age group was presented with a Bingo Book for our Fundraising Zoom Bingo. Unfortunately (through reasons outside of our control) the t-shirts for the children didn't make it in time for Friday but we will organise to get them given out as soon as possible.

Finally thanks to the children for their attention, good humour & wit over the course of the 3 days. I hope you all enjoyed it. PJ Ryan, Chairperson of Coiste na nÓg.

MID KERRY C LEAGUE: Best of luck to our B team and management who travel to Firies on Thursday evening at 7pm.

UNDER 17: Best of luck to our U17s who are at home to Knock/Brosna in the semi-final of the County League on Monday the 16th.

UNDER 15: The U15's had a busy week. The U15A team played Monday and Wednesday and had two hard fought victories over Kilcummin and Legion. 3 out of 3 wins in Division 1 of East Kerry secures us a home final which will be played on Wednesday week. Meanwhile our B team continued their recent good form with a home draw against Legion B securing an East Kerry Division 4 final. This will be played this coming Thursday away to Kenmare B. Best of luck to both teams and their coaches.

UNDER 11: The under 11's travelled to Duagh last Thursday evening. Both teams showed great determination and commitment in what were two very strongly contested games. The next game, which is the last game in this round of Go Games is at home to Daingean Ui Chuis next Thursday, throw in at 6:30pm. Best of luck to our U11s and their coaches. Training takes place on Monday the 16th at 6:30pm.

UNDER 9: The U9s played Glenbeigh on Sunday morning in Glenbeigh. The numbers were down a bit this week but the U9s still played some great football. The U9s will play Gneeveguilla on Friday evening at 6:30 in Keel. Best of luck to our U9s and their coaches.

UNDER 7 AND UNDER 5: Training was held on Sunday morning once again. Lots of fun games played & skills practiced, thankfully the rain cleared away soon after we began. Next Sunday the U7's play Glenbeigh in Keel. First games begin at 10:30. Be at the pitch at 10:15. There will be no training this Sunday for the U5's but they are more than welcome to come along & support the U7's. Best of luck to the U7s and their coaches.

KERRY LADIES: Congratulations to Ciara

Murphy, Caoimhe Evans and the Kerry Ladies team who were victorious against Tipperary on Saturday in the All-Ireland Senior Football Relegation playoff. Caoimhe lined out at centre forward and Ciara lined out at corner back. The Kerry ladies will now retain their place in the senior championship next year. We are very proud of both girls and despite their preparations for the important game they both gave their time to be part of the Keel GAA camp last week.

FOSSA GAA CLUB NEWS

Fossa A team were home to Beaufort last Sunday evening for penultimate round of Lee Strand County league phase 2. Fossa put in massive first half, leading at the break 3-8 to 1-6. Final A game is home v Churchill next Sunday.

LEGION GAA

FIXTURES: Friday 20th August @7pm U12 girls Co League, Legion 'white' v Southern Gaels Venue: Legion

U-13 BOYS COUNTY LEAGUE: Our u13 Green Team hosted Austin Stacks in a D2 County League encounter. It was the second meeting of these sides this year and once again the game was very tight with both teams having to work hard to create scoring chances. Legion playing with the strong breeze got a great early goal and netted a second time before the half time break to lead 2-4 to 0-3. With the wind at their backs the Rockies worked their way back into the game to trail by 2 pts with a few minutes left. They created what looked like a certain goal but James Murphy was brave and spread himself to stop the net bulging. Legion got two great scores to finish the game. Well done to our lads on a battling performance.

U-15B BOYS: The legion under 15 B team had a well deserved draw against listry/keel B's away from home on Friday night on a scoreline of 5-11 to 5- 11. The legion boys were 4 points down going into the last quarter, they played great football to go a point ahead with a minute to go, however listry/keel kicked an equalising free deep into injury time. Well done to the management and lads on a great team performance.

MINOR LADIES: On Friday night the Legion Minor Ladies played MKL Gaels in their final match of the Div 3 Co.League. The torrential rain resulted in difficult playing conditions in Direen. MKL Gaels started the game strong and at one point held a 15 point lead against the Legion Ladies. However, the Legion Ladies never gave up and with great teamwork and determination, Legion started to put scores on the board. This was a great team performance and by far the best performance the girls had in the league. The whistle blew at a score line of 7-05 to 7-08 to MKL Gaels. Congratulations to MKL Gaels but also to the Legion girls who brought the game down to 3 a point difference. The minors Ladies are a busy bunch, with many of them playing with u16 and senior teams. This has led to many players playing at least two games per week. This commitment to the club will ensure the future of the Legion Ladies is in safe hands. Thanks to the management for their continuous dedication to the team and the girls themselves for representing the club so well.

CONGRATS: Congratulations to our very own Keri-Ann Hanrihan who has been selected as Kerry Minor Captain. A huge achievement for a terrific player and great representation for Killarney Legion. Best of luck to the team in the upcoming matches.

Congratulations to Senior player Jonathan Lyne and Adrienne Brosnan who got engaged in the past week. Congrats lads.

FLESK VALLEY ROWING CLUB

Last weekend the club took over 60 members to the Coastal rowing championships at Iniscarra. This was our first coastal regatta in almost two years and it was great to have a semblance of normality after such a long period without competitive rowing.

The Valley had boys and girls crews competing at u14, u16, u18 and u19 level and two adult crews in the mixed senior and pre-veteran men. We had many rowers experiencing the thrill of a regatta for the first time and we even had a new cox make her debut at a coastal regatta for the first time.

We're incredibly proud of all the fantastic young people who rowed with skill and heart for the Valley over the weekend. There were some medals, some disappointments but always lots of fun and laughter along the way.

Pride of place over the weekend goes to our Under 18 girls crew who won gold in some style on Sunday. Coxed by Paul Burke, the crew of Elisha Leane (stroke), Eilis Mullane, Margaret Casey and Melissa Carroll put in a brilliant performance to clinch gold for the Valley. On Saturday we also had bronze medals in the

JIMMY O'SULLIVAN-DARCY takes a look at all things sport...

Kerry Vs Tyrone

Saturday August 28th, Croke Park

Well, after all the 'ifs' and 'buts' and 'maybes', we have a game. It was on, it was definitely on. Then it was off. Nope. Tyrone were quite clear. That there was covid within the Tyrone camp was no secret – joint manager Fearghal Lohan and four players, Tiernan McCann, Rory Brennan, Richie Donnelly, and Frank Burns missed the Ulster Final while self-isolating. We don't know whether any of these players actually had covid or were self-isolating as a precaution (nor should we, that's their own private business. But we do know that it spread rapidly in the Tyrone camp. So much so that they looked for a two week extension. One, said Croke Park, with the firm decisiveness that they like to pretend to have. Ah no, came the swift reply. Ah no, said Tyrone. No, sure, we'll leave it.

I'm just going to address the elephant in the room at this stage. Were the Tyrone players vaccinated? If not, why not? If the guidelines were followed, then how did it spread so rapidly? Look, I'm not trying to have any dig at Tyrone players, I do have enormous sympathy for them (at least one of a minimum confirmed number of seventeen cases is believed to be seriously ill). But there are questions to be asked and answered here, not least because if Tyrone did do things right, then either vaccines are a lot less effective than we thought, or covid, particularly the delta variant, is far more potent than we thought. Either way, it's information that we need to know. Croke Park have said, in a very unconvincing manner even by their standards, that they may investigate the matter at a subsequent time. Yes. And geneticists are close to a breakthrough in attaching wings to pigs.

This is a dangerous situation, especially for players who, obviously in a contact sport, will be coming in close contact with their opponents. Will it be safe? Are enough people in authority asking that obvious question?

Tyrone Statement, August 14th

"This morning, the Tyrone GAA Management Committee has decided that it is not in a position to field its senior football team in the rescheduled All-Ireland football championship semi-final in Croke Park, on next Saturday."

"Having received expert medical opinion on the existing, and future health and welfare of the players who contracted the Covid19 virus during the period of this last two weeks, and following consultation with the team's management, this decision has been made with the greatest reluctance, and with deep regret."

"It is acknowledged that the decision taken will cause major disappointment and significant inconvenience for the Association, in general, the GAA fraternity of Kerry, and especially for Tyrone's patrons and supporters, but the welfare and safety of players has been the over-riding factor in all considerations of this difficult situation."

Fair enough. It's tough on Tyrone, just as it was tough on the Dublin hurlers or on Sligo last year, but health and safety is paramount. To be honest, if the situation in the Tyrone camp is as bad as they have said, and if the spread of infection is that quick and dangerous, then this plain and simple shouldn't be going ahead. That's the bottom line, and we all know it. Please note that I said 'if'. I most certainly would not – will not – be surprised to see Tyrone coming out with all their formidable guns blazing. Given the obfuscation about hard detail in the information we are getting, I suspect that there's a fair amount of 'beál bocht' ar siúl.

Kerry Statement, August 15th

I'm not printing the whole thing. It's widely available online. But I liked it. Composed, carefully worded, but yeah, there was a little bit of bite in it.

"Kerry is a proud GAA County, rich in the tradition of Gaelic Games which is deeply engrained in all our Clubs and Communities. Every All-Ireland title that Kerry has won, has been hard earned after a tough competitive campaign and we expect this year to be no different."

That bit could have been worded a bit better – there's a long way to go yet before Kerry win any such title. But hey, if people want to read it as arrogant? I'm fine with that. We know what we have been missing for quite a while now? That little touch of certainty about ourselves. Even that 2014 All Ireland was devalued a bit by the quality of the final (those two great clashes with Mayo still resonate in my memory). I wouldn't want swagger in Kerry footballers – it's not in our nature anyway, for every All Ireland a player has won, there's a lad up the road who has two. But a sense of "we are Kerry and heirs to a great tradition." Yup. Most definitely. More of that, please.

"We find ourselves in a very difficult situation not of our making. We have explicitly followed all Covid protocols and we have taken every precaution to protect our Players and Management." The implied criticism is mild – but it's there alright. Again, no harm.

"Notwithstanding this and having considered every possible aspect of the situation, our over-arching wish is to ensure that the All Ireland Semi Final against Tyrone is played at the earliest possible opportunity. On that basis we have conveyed our position to National GAA earlier today and now await their deliberations and decision." In other words, the ball is in yere court. We are Kerry, we'll play anybody, anywhere, anywhen. We want a semi-final (it would leave us untested going into an All Ireland Final).

Kerry have, quite rightly, received a lot of praise, with a number of national outlets reporting that without their intervention, Croke Park would have stuck to their guns and Tyrone would have been forced to concede a walkover. That would have been a disaster for Tyrone, detrimental to Kerry's chances of achieving their best, and very harmful to Croke Park's depleted coffers. Being fair, I do believe that Croke park have not stinted financially during covid and would, to their credit, have been quite willing to take the hit on this one as well.

Match Preview

Let's be certain of one thing. Tyrone really do have formidable guns. They have beaten Cavan by 1-18 to 0-13, Donegal by 0-23 to 1-14, and Monaghan by 0-16 to 0-15. They have been missing players for all of those games, most especially Monaghan, but the likes of Cathal McShane and Darragh Canavan were back in the fold by the finish of the provincial campaign. That Ulster Final, by the way, gave them an early taste of Croke Park, something we haven't had in a while. I'm not worried about that; it's a natural hunting ground for Kerry footballers. The likes of man-marker Pádraig Hampsey, Mattie Donnelly, Kieran McGeary, and especially Darren McCurry are in the form of their lives for Tyrone.

I'm worried about this one – note: I'm a natural worrier anyway, I'm afraid Kerry's glass is always half-empty for me in previews. But we haven't met any team of the calibre of Tyrone's opponents so far – let's remember that Cork had to survive a relegation play-off to stay in Division Two. Yes, we blew Clare out the water (3-22 to 1-11), followed up by shutting down Tipperary (1-18 to 1-9), and gave Cork their worst Munster beating ever, 4-22 to 1-9.

We hammered Tyrone in the National League, put six goals past them. But I don't care how much people assure me that Tyrone were going handle after hatchet for that one. I was at it and no, they most certainly were not. They hardly played a full back line even before the injury to Darragh Canavan. Those floodgates were always going to open; Dooher and Lohan were keeping their eyes firmly fixed on the forthcoming Ulster Championship. Quite rightly, I might add; I would have done the same thing in their place.

The big scoring returns against Galway (who barely turned up – Kerry were good, but they beat next to nothing that day) and Roscommon and the fightback to get a draw (I really did think that Dublin stepped off the pedal a bit after their goals in the first half, but the fact that Kerry had the legs to outrun them late on is a change and a very welcome one) didn't presage anything to me. I'm one of those who feels that the League is a tuning process and a base foundation, rather than a cornerstone, of championship. The easy concession of goals in that game is a concern to me. We haven't played any other teams as capable of going that route as Dublin; Tyrone (and, indeed, Mayo) are well capable of it. Physicality was a problem for me, one which the introduction of Mike Breen has helped. Paudie Clifford has been even more of a revelation. Gavin White is in the form of his life. Peter Keane has a job on his hands making sure that the infectious optimism of being the bookies' favourites (that and a euro will let you rent a shopping trolley), the fact of our nemesis Dublin being gone (we have a fabulous record against Mayo but again, that ain't hard currency for me, especially with a new-look Tyrone with bolstered ranks in the way), and our scoring record this year doesn't get into players' heads. He also has some tough decisions for me. Personally I prefer Morley to Foley at full back, Tadhg is that little bit stickier for me. Murphy or Crowley in the half back line? Paul gets my nod, but it's a close-run thing. Who partners David at midfield? I'd prefer Barry's muscle to O'Connor's mobility (if, as we are assured, Diarmuid is fit). I expect Adrian to be held in reserve, but this will be a battle before the finish and there's no better man than Adrian Spillane for that kind of battle, not least because he maintains his discipline without backing down an inch. Up front the only change I can see is the inclusion of Dara Moynihan (if fit). Workrate will be crucial in this game (actually, in modern football, it's an absolute prerequisite for winning any game) and there are few workers like Dara – but whose place is up for grabs?

Look, Tyrone didn't fake the rate of covid in their camp – I do suspect that it has been exaggerated for effect – and it does put us in as strong favourites for this game. I do see warning lights, though, and I don't think enough pundits or supporters are paying attention. This one will be a real battle, something we haven't faced in a while. But we stand armed and ready, and I think all the components are starting to slot into the right place. I'll go for a narrow Kerry win.

Fall of the Titans

All Ireland Semi-Final

Mayo 0-17 Dublin 0-14

This one surprised a lot of people. It absolutely shocked me, especially after a first half that was all too familiar. I have made no secret of the fact that, while the absence of the likes of McCaffrey, McMenamon, and of course the talismanic Cluxton was always going to hurt Dublin, they had ample supply lines in the likes of Howard, Scully, Byrne, the Small and Basquel brothers. Meanwhile, Con O'Callaghan was easily fulfilling the promise that wasn't as evident at minor as people now claim (Dublin don't invest anything like as much as we do in the preparation of minor teams; they concentrate more on the U20 grade). Brian Fenton hadn't yet reached top gear but was still lording the skies and stinging with his accuracy, while Ciarán Kilkenny was unabashedly my red-hot favourite for Footballer of the Year. James McCarthy was (and still is) my Footballer of the Decade. True, they hadn't galloped through Leinster with their usual abandon, it was more of a leisurely stroll, but I saw no game that they ever looked in danger of losing. I always felt that they were saving their engines for later on. Mayo? Ah, God love 'em. Brave as ever, dogged as ever, as fit and strong as ever, as limited up front as ever. No Oisín Mullen meant that they had no man-marker to really stymie Dublin's deadly inside line – despite his displays against the mercurial Diarmuid Connolly, I've never considered Lee Keegan to be a pure man-marker. I could only see one ending to this game.

The first half was mind-numbing football, to be honest. We've seen this narrative played out many times between them over the past decade. Mayo's big men, lumbering like bulls, glaring as steam issued from their nostrils, chased shadows. Lithe and agile Dublin, like blue-clad matadors, danced around them, whirling metaphorical capes before delicately extending the rapier to inflict another small cut, slowing bleeding Mayo's hopes to death without ever going for the jugular.

Kilkenny was in great early form. As I had suspected, Keegan wasn't anticipating his movement. He was fouled for Dean Rock's opening score. Diarmuid O'Connor had a free to reply, but it was a poor attempt, and Ryan O'Donoghue sent another one wide. Kilkenny doubled the lead and Dean Rock made them three points to the good. This was already ominous. A Paddy Durcan effort fell short; Mayo couldn't buy a score. Con O'Callaghan opened his account. Aidan O'Shea had a good chance sail wide.

Mattie Ruane (a lock for an All Star) drove forward and finally scored for Mayo, a long distance beauty. Water in a parched desert for his team. Kilkenny picked off his second point. Ryan O'Donoghue responded with a mark but a foul on Paddy Small (probably Dublin's best player on the day, great energy) saw Dean Rock make it 0-6 to 0-2 at the water break.

Diarmuid O'Connor with a long ball into Aidan O'Shea. He made a fantastic mark, super catch. Surely he can't miss....oh dear. Paddy Small won another two frees for Rock to slot over. Dublin were refusing any half-chances, quite happy to recycle the ball and comfortably able to retain possession until a sure thing chance opened up. Mayo hadn't landed a glove on them. Small pointed himself. Rob Hennelly showed his forwards how it's done by coming up to stroke over a long range free. Ciarán Kilkenny took and converted a mark for his third score to put Dublin into double figures, but Conor Loftus had the last say of the first half.

Half-time: Dublin 0-10 Mayo 0-4

Nope, sod this for a game of soldiers, says I to myself. Senator Palpatine's Empire will not be crumbling today to these Mayo jedi. I am off for a walk.

I'm not joking, by the way. I missed the third quarter out of lack of interest in what I was certain was a foregone conclusion. I only returned, in somewhat of a hurry (a very slow jog, in my personal case) after my brother rang me to tell me that Mayo were making a game of it. I didn't even believe him at first. I have seen it since.

Enda Hession burst through and looked bound for goal but Dublin assuredly closed it out. Aidan O'Shea wins possession but can't get away for a shot. Ryan O'Donoghue, though, picks off a beauty. Mayo are defiant against fate here; it's always been the most admirable of their traits. Kevin McLaughlin lofts a big effort from the wing but it tails away. Dublin are weathering this brief storm. Con O'Callaghan is one on one with Pádraig O'Hara and gets a shot off but it crashes back off the upright. Dean Rock hits a wide. Dublin are maybe a little too comfortable here – not that I ever expected it to cost them. After all, Mayo had only one point scored and it was still 0-10 to 0-5. With Mayo's conversion rate so far, Dublin had nothing to fear. Eoin McLaughlin with a bad wide. Rob Hennelly kicks his second free – the goalkeeper is their joint top scorer after 45 minutes of an All Ireland semi-final. This is football of the '20s, alright. The 1920s.

James Carr goes for a shot when it wasn't a good option. Dublin are still ghosting with the ball, recycling and switching the play, but they are also ghosts as far as impact on the scoreboard goes. Honestly, it looks like they are so pleased with their ability to retain possession that they don't want to waste it by anything as blasé as taking a score. I know managers want their teams to slow it down when in front but this is just snuffing the life out of their team. Mayo, meanwhile, clearly unaware that they are already a comprehensively beaten docket, are rising to every challenge as though they still have a real chance to win this thing. I, of course, know in my bones that Dublin will tease and toy with them before applying the hammer late on, as is their wont.

Hold on, Aidan O'Shea going off? Yes, he's slowing down the play too much and simply not converting those chances he's winning – Mayo are obviously going to start relying on pace more than the long ball – but that's a big call by James Horan. Lose this game, and Aidan's name is going to feature prominently in the post-mortem.

Lee Keegan with a point just before the water break. Will it upset Mayo's rhythm or inspire Dublin to resume the controls?

John Small with a big hit on Eoin McLaughlin before Basquel blazes wide, should have done better. Small's shoulder charge looked okay to me in real time, I don't blame Conor Lane at all (people expect the impossible of referees, it's easy to criticise after watching replays). It was a foul, and deserved a red, but it was reckless, not malicious. Could all the aul' peasants put down them pitchforks, please?

Ah, there we are. Paddy Small with Dublin's first point of the half after a good catch by Brian Howard.

Dean Rock with a beauty - not a phrase I often say, I consider him more clinically consistent than brilliant, but that was superb. 0-12 to 0-7. When Evan Comerford fetches a big Ruane effort out of the sky, it looks as if Mayo's bolt is shot.

Rob Hennelly takes a free but it's going right and wide....wow! Somehow Diarmuid O'Connor stuck out telescopic right leg to keep it in play and Kevin McLaughlin takes the point. Jordan Flynn adds another. Mayo are well on top and too physically strong for Dublin to shove the genie back in the bottle. There are little signs of composure breaking down in Dublin; this wasn't a scenario they were ready for. They need leaders to step up here – Mayo clearly have plenty of that ilk.

Dublin decide, very bizarrely, to play around at the back and kill the clock some more. It's a mistake and rapidly punished by Mayo's press, as Comerford is fouled while breaking forward. This tendency by keepers to play like outfield players, not only prevalent with Dublin this year, is something that I find ridiculous. You aren't a spare defender, you are a goalkeeper.

Ryan O'Donoghue coolly slots it over. 0-12 to 0-10.

Brian Fenton with a huge catch, cometh the hour etc. But Tommy Conroy wins an even better turnover and it's Mayo advancing again. Both teams are coughing up hand-passes and turnovers now - I'm not surprised given the intensity of the play – but Conroy takes a great point. Can Dublin hold out? They are in full retreat now – again, I always consider it a mistake. The best defence is actually a score at the other end.

John Small wins a free and Dean Rock sends it over. Still injury time though, and plenty of it left. Carr with a wide for Mayo, could be costly. They win the kick-out, though, and it eventually results in a free – David Byrne was lucky to escape with a yellow. Ryan O'Donoghue with the free – in the enforced absence of Cillian O'Connor, the apprentice has become the master.

Comerford spills the ball, recovers....'45 for Mayo! Rob Hennelly. This could be his moment.... going clearly wide. Shoulders slumping....no! Interference by Philly McMahon, re-take the kick! Big, big call. Go away with yere criticisms of Conor Lane, a lot of referees would have ducked that one, but he called it and he called it right. Dublin have been messy, truth be told, as they started to feel the heat. Hennelly nails his second attempt and Lane blows the whistle as players did and drag at each other. It couldn't be called a brawl, I suppose, with more shapes than punches thrown, but it wouldn't qualify anyone for mensa either.

Brian Fenton wins the throw-in and Bugler nudges Dublin in front. But Keegan – once O'Hara went on Kilkenny, Keegan was able to bring his influence on the general play – wins it and it ends up with another great Tommy Conroy score. Walsh is bodychecked by Basquel, black card and Dublin are down a man. Conroy again – Mayo in front for the first time. Darren Coen splits the posts. Dublin are the ones chasing shadows now, and worse, Mayo are brushing off their tackles with consummate ease. Mayo are accelerating into the game, it's Dublin who are desperate to slow it down, and they aren't getting their wish. Ryan O'Donoghue with another Mayo point.

Dublin, the great survivors. The greatest gaelic football team of all time. The Brogans, Paul Flynn, James McCarthy, Philly McMahon, Jack McCaffrey, Ross O'Connell, Cian O'Sullivan, Brian Fenton, Michael Darragh McAuley (he wasn't pretty with football but he was effective), Diarmuid Connolly, Ciarán Kilkenny, Cian O'Sullivan, Paul Mannion, Dean Rock (top scorer, albeit with a lot of frees) and of course the greatest of them all, Stephen Cluxton.

They were incredible to watch playing the game, even if it hurt me. I had to admire them and I still do.

Were they holed below the waterline by Jim Gavin's departure? This loss and the covid infraction won't be good memories for Dessie Farrell or the Dublin fans. Nor will the snappish, ill-tempered shenanigans at the close of their incredible winning streak. Did Cluxton's drawn-out departure leave too many questions behind? Was it too easy against Mayo until it was suddenly too hard and they couldn't find the gears?

Arrah, all such questions are moot. They were great, and might still be again, but today the throne is empty and three teams are jostling for it. There will be time enough for recriminations and reflections and applause during the long winter.

Right now gaelic football is looking for a new kingmaker.

Ladies GAA

Senior Relegation Play-Off:

Kerry 2-16 Tipperary 0-7

Nerves were understandably a bit jangly for this one, especially with Sofra O'Shea still out – imagine a full forward line of Hannah O'Donoghue, Siofra O'Shea, and Louise Ní Muirheartaigh? Mind you, Emma Dineen stood in up front and was awesome (I still think we need her effectiveness out the field when possible). Tipperary, missing three of their best players including Aisling Moloney, scored first and piled on the pressure at the start, including drawing a great save from Ciara Butler. Kerry soon took control. 1-1 from Emma and 0-5, 2f from Louise had Kerry 1-6 to 0-1 in front at the first water break. The Premier scored three on the trot but Emma replied and then Kerry pounced on a short kick-out (a problem for Tipperary all through) and combined rapidly for Hannah O'Donoghue to goal. Kerry led by 2-7 to 0-4 at the break. Tipperary never gave up, but Kerry were always in control after that and ended up comfortable winners. Tipperary must face the losers of Cavan v Tyrone, and will be up against it to avoid the drop this weekend.

I have to congratulate Meath, who were only promoted to senior this year after winning last year's Intermediate but defeated Cork in extra-time to qualify for the All Ireland Final against Dublin. Maybe....just maybe....another great Dublin team might see its winning streak ended?

U14 Munster Final: Cork 1-15 Kerry 2-6

Commiserations to the Kerry U14 girls, who bowed out to Cork after putting up a great battle. Mary Kate Smith and Lucy O'Connor got our goals. Well done to all the local girls on the panel, Aoise O'Donoghue (Glenflesk), Seodladh Collieran (Fossa), Emma O'Brien (Firies), Brid Curtin (Currow), Lori O'Connor (Beaufort), Lauren Carey (Killarney Legion), Grace Murphy (Rathmore), Siun Horgan (Firies), Sarah Cooper (Dr. Crokes), Maggie Mae O'Donoghue (Spa), Sarah Palmer (Firies), and Sarah Randles (Dr.

Crokes) and to manager Charlie McCarthy (Rathmore) and selectors Mike Curtin (Currow) and Allan Foley (Beaufort).

Camogie

Best of luck to Kerry in the Intermediate Quarter-final this Saturday at 3.00pm in Banagher against Antrim. Kerry will be well up against here against last year's Intermediate finalists (they lost to Down) and this year's National League Division Two and Ulster Senior finalists, but Kerry have been in scintillating form this year and are coming off the back of a big win over a Laois team who ended their campaign last year. Here's hoping!

Basketball

Commiserations to Leah McMahon of St. Pauls, who had to miss out on Ireland's participation in the U16 European Challenge. Ireland unfortunately lost out to Romania, Luxembourg, and Switzerland at the tournament.

Her club seniors are finally allowed to get back training indoors, so hopefully we will see them and the juveniles getting back into action before too long. The National League will be commencing on the 8th/9th of October.

Congratulations to Mark Keenan and the Irish team who beat Malta by 97-66 to win the FIBA European Championship for Small Nations.

Ireland: CJ Fulton (5), Ciaran Roe (5), Kyle Hosford (2), Sean Flood (16), Lorcan Murphy (10), Neil Randolph (3), Adrian O'Sullivan (7), Jordan Blount (17), Eoin Quigley (1), Will Hanley (7), John Carroll (20), Jason Killeen (4).

Athletics

Munster Schools Tailteann Trials will take place on Saturday 4th September 2021 at Templemore AC.

Participation at these Trials is the only way for selection on the Munster Schools team for the Tailteann Games on Saturday 11th September 2021.

Munster U14 A Championship Final

Great game see Cork crowned Munster Champions

Cork 1-15 Kerry 2-06

It was an intriguing game from start to finish with both sides lining out as selected at Mallow GAA Complex. Both sides exchanged the opening scores with points coming from Cork captain Katie Carey & Kerry's Mary Kate Smith. Cork settled the better and registered 1-02 without reply. Cork's goal coming from Eabha O'Donovan. Captain Lisa Slattery opened her account for Kerry to reduce the deficit to four before cork's Eabha O'Donovan scored from a free to see the sides go in at the first water break Cork 1-04 Kerry 0-02. The second quarter was the least entertaining from a scoring point of view. Kerry struggled to get the ball into their forwards as the Cork defence had them well marshalled. The Kerry defensive was equally impressive with Kerry keeper Kelly Fitzgerald having an impressive game. Cork outscoring the Kingdom 0-02 to 0-01. Cork's points coming from Shauna Sheehan & Eabha O'Donovan. Kerry's only score in the quarter coming from Lisa Slattery as Kerry trailed at the break by six points. Cork upped the intensity at the beginning of the second half scoring two unanswered points courtesy of Eabha O'Donovan. Lisa Slattery responded for the Kingdom as Cork began to pile on the pressure. Kerry keeper Kelly Fitzgerald was repeatedly called into action pulling off save after save as Cork looked to put the game beyond reach. The final quarter would turn out to be the most frantic and entertaining. Cork extended the lead to ten points with captain Katie Carey scoring a further two points. It looked like Cork were beginning to pull away at this stage but Kerry were not finished yet. A well worth move saw captain Lisa Slattery find Mary Kate Smith who struck the ball to the back of the net to reduce the deficit to seven with the game approaching the final stages. Both management teams and spectators were urging the players on knowing the result was in the melting pot as the sides exchanged points. The games excitement level went up another notch as corner forward Lucy O'Connor goaled for Kerry to set up a frantic finish. Unfortunately, it wasn't to be as both sides exchanged points to see Cork crowned champions on a score line 1-15 to 2-06.

SCHOOLBOY/GIRL SOCCER

SHEEHAN'S PIN POINT DOUBLE SEES WATERFORD 14'S TAKE ALL THREE POINTS:

EA Sports 14's League of Ireland Kerry 1-2 Waterford FC

Two pin point finished that were mirror images of each other from Alex Sheehan saw Waterford FC take all three points from the EA Sports 14's League of Ireland clash at Celtic Park.

In the 9th and 35th minutes Sheehan was on the left of the Kerry box and with quick feet bought himself a half yard of space and curled an unstoppable shot into the top corner of Caolan Mitchell's net.

In between Kerry had equalised on the 25th minute when Brandon Long's long range free kick skimmed off the wet surface and past Waterford keeper Ben Allen who will be regretting having hesitated in coming to catch the ball.

Both sides will be in the League Phase and could meet each other again in what will be another close encounter.

GAYNOR CUP UPDATE: With the delayed 2021 Gaynor Cup set to begin in September the Kerry 13's and 15's girls sides are continuing their preparations as they await confirmation of their Groups.

The 13's and 15's were due to travel to take on Limerick County at the weekend but the older age groups game was cancelled.

But the 13's game did go ahead and the Kerry girls put in an excellent performance defeating their hosts 5-0. The goals came from Laura Falvey and Phoebe O'Shea who both hit two each and the fifth came from the penalty spot thanks to Ciara Casey.

BOTH KERRY 12'S GIRLS SIDES IN TOURNAMENT FINALS: The Kerry 12's Girls are enjoying a busy summer with the 32 girls wearing the county soccer jersey on 3 occasions over the past few weeks. This Sunday both sides took part in the Blitz in Templeglantine with teams from Clare and Tipperary joining the hosts.

Both Kerry sides did very well in the tournament where there only one game won by 2 goals and that was Kerry Gold who defeated Glantine 2-0. In the Plate Final Kerry Green team won 1-0 while in their final the Kerry Gold side drew 0-0 after extra time but went down on penalties. It was a great day for all the girls and the Kerry coaches.

KENNEDY CUP PREPARATION BEGINS WITH A WIN: Kerry have begun their preparation for the delayed 2021 Kennedy Cup, due to begin in September, with a win away to Limerick District in UL. The game was played over 3 30 minute quarters as part of the development of both squads.

The first third finished 0-0 while in the second period Limerick scored twice to go 2-0 up before Ronan Carroll pulled one back. And in the final period Kerry took over and goals from James Jones and Fionn Daly gave them a confidence boosting win as they await news of their Group for a different but none the less important and competitive Kennedy Cup.

KERRY KENNEDY CUP 2021 GROUP: The 2021 Kennedy Cup will be much different than previous years where all 32 Leagues would at this stage be looking back on their week in UL. This years Tournament Group fixtures will be played over 3 weekends with the exact home and away fixtures to be decided this week.

Killarney Celtic girls who lined out for Kerry U13s against Limerick County recently.

The 2021 Kennedy Cup will begin on the weekend of September 11th/12th and will continue on October 2nd/3rd with the final group game on October 23rd /24th. The quarter finals will take place on November 13/14th, the semi finals on December 4th/5th with the 2021 Kennedy Cup finals on December 11th and 12th.

Group F is made up of Limerick District (seeded 4th), Kerry (seeded 13th), Limerick County (seeded 24th) and North Tipp (seeded 27th).

Looking at our neighbouring Leagues Limerick Desmond are second seeds in Group D with Waterford, South Tipperary and Wicklow whole Group E is Cork, Clare, West Cork and WWC.

Kerry will start at home to Limerick County before travelling away to Limerick District and finish with an away trip to North Tipperary.

KERRY PITCH & PUTT CLUB NEWS

Following a short break after Deerpark's Damien Fleming won another National Mens Matchplay title on the August Bank Holiday Monday, competitive Pitch & Putt returns this weekend with the boys and girls from the Deerpark, Listowel and Tralee clubs heading to Lakeside in Templemore, Co Tipperary for this Saturday's 2021 National U16 Strokeplay Championships.

Just over half the entire entry field for the Boys, 38 from 72, is from the county as following semi-final appearances for Deerpark duo Robbie Harnett and Brian McCarthy in the recent National U16 Matchplay Championships alongside a semi-final appearance for Tralee's Mark O'Regan in the Plate event, hopes are high for another strong Kerry showing this weekend.

Indeed following her recent win in the National Girls Matchplay final, Tralee's Ella Moynihan will head the field for the Strokeplay event as her sister Sophie is also amongst the field for Girls event. The County Board wishes all 40 from Kerry the very best of luck in Templemore on Saturday.

Meanwhile following the recent announcement that the All-Ireland Football semi-final between Kerry and Tyrone will now take place on Saturday August 28th we wish to confirm that all the Mens grades for the National Strokeplay (Adult) Qualifiers will now take place on Sunday August 29th in Tralee.

The U16 Matchplay due for August 28th will be reviewed by the Board following consultation with the clubs about a number of alternative dates.

LATE SUMMER COLOUR

With the Autumn in sight, there are a wide range of herbaceous perennials, shrubs and roses that can give you colour in your garden right into October and November.

Some good flowering Herbaceous Perennials for Autumn colour are Anemones, which come in a variety of colours - Honorine Jobert is a very good one, with white flowers and yellow centres, it is a good plant for shade.

Hydrangeas are excellent shrubs that will flower right into the Autumn and they come in a variety of colours. A very good rose to flower into late Autumn is a ground cover rose called a flower carpet rose and it does in pink, yellow or white flowers.

This was followed by a ceremonial 'tee off' and presentation to the Lady Captain by the members of the club who had assembled early in the morning to ensure a good start to the day. There was a fabulous atmosphere from the start and this continued over the course of the day.

A fantastic turnout of ladies participated in the competition with the overall prize (a beautiful Galway Crystal Vase) being scooped by Ciara Lowe. Other prize winners on the day included Mary O'Sullivan (second prize), Noeleen Mackessy (third prize), Marie Ni Loinsigh (fourth prize) and Susan Darby (fifth

She made a special presentation of flowers to her mother Julie and to club stalwart/Competitions Officer Irene McCarthy. A wonderful evening was had by all with tasty refreshments from the club restaurant ending a fantastic day for the Beaufort Ladies.

EU Digital COVID Certificate (DCC)

Question: What is the EU Digital COVID Certificate (DCC)?

Answer: The EU Digital COVID Certificate (previously called the Digital Green Certificate) will help citizens move freely and safely within the EU during the COVID-19 pandemic. The DCC is for EU citizens, residents and their families and non-EU citizens who are legally staying or residing in the EU.

It will be proof that you have either:

- Been vaccinated against COVID-19
- Received a negative test result
- Recovered from COVID-19

Being vaccinated will not be a pre-condition to travel.

What information will be included on the DCC?

The certificate will only contain necessary key information including:

- Your name
- Your date of birth
- The date of issue
- Relevant information about your vaccine or test or recovery
- A unique identifier number

The DCC will be free and available in both digital and paper formats. The certificate has a QR code to avoid fraud.

Individual member states will decide how the DCC will be used as part of national public health measures. If you are travelling abroad you should always check the entry requirements before you travel.

The system will be used throughout the EU and will also be open to Norway, Switzerland, Liechtenstein and Iceland. You can check the European Centre of Disease Control's map (EU traffic lights system) before you travel abroad.

You can read more about the EU Digital COVID Certificate (DCC) on citizensinformation.ie.

GOOD MOOD FOOD

It is a well known fact that what we eat and drink can affect our mood. Our body and mind responds to what we digest not just on a physiological level but also on an emotional level. However, everyone has a tendency to ignore this on a small or grand scale to some degree depending on how busy or chaotic our lives become. The end result being we feel drained, emotional, moody, tired and irritable. It can be an ongoing struggle for many of us to incorporate a healthy eating mind set into our lives and yet when we do, we feel so much better, more energised and positive. The challenge, of course, is to maintain and sustain this approach. Some Golden Rules to follow;

- Eat Breakfast and kick start your metabolism.
- Include fruit and vegetables in your diet.
- Eat regularly and include fish, chicken and any lean meat in your diet.
- Drink plenty of water (6 to 8) glasses per day.
- Avoid late night eating and too many take aways!
- Watch portion size.
- Reduce Caffeine.
- Be mindful of alcohol consumption.

Some key foods to include are minerals such as magnesium, found in nuts, whole grains and green leafy vegetables, zinc, found in meat, milk, legumes and whole grains and iron, found in red meat, green leafy vegetables, eggs and some fruit. Omega 3 polyunsaturated fatty acids found in oily fish and some plants are also very important and of course vitamins such as vitamin B, C and E. Again whole grains, fruit and vegetables important here. Changes in our diet can enhance our cognitive abilities and indeed protect the brain from any damage, boosting our mood and general sense of wellbeing. So consider the benefits of certain foods in the wider context and you are not only trying to counteract heart disease and cancer through these choices but you are also protecting the brain and looking after your mental health.

Go further and make exercise part of the equation and you are well on your way to a healthier you; another layer of self-care is sleep. Strive for 8 hours and when awake strive for healthy eating and moderate exercise. Our physical and mental state is often vulnerable and under duress so it is important to acknowledge this and fuel our being with the right nutrients and minerals when, and if, necessary. Needless to say have the occasional treat and indulge a little every now and then because something sweet and tasty is deserved and worthwhile after all your hard work to be good! Bon Appetite!

Forgiveness

What can YOU do about sin?

The simple answer is nothing! Does that surprise you?

The bible teaches that the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Christ Jesus. (Romans 6:23)

He who had no sin became sin for us. Jesus, who was without sin, took our place on the cross: we exchange our guilt for His innocence.

(2 Corinthians 5:21)

From the moment we accept Jesus Christ as our saviour we are free!

(John 5:24)

So don't bear the burden and guilt of your sin for another moment!!

Give it all to Jesus who will readily cleanse, heal, and forgive you (1 John 1:9)

We meet at St. Olivers School Ballycasheen at 11am on Sundays, and at 8pm on Wednesday evenings for Bible study.

A Word of Victory

Welcome back dear reader the people of Afghanistan are in our prayers especially the innocent victims of oppression. "The night is nearly over, the day is almost here" (Romans 13:12). Blood thirsty people will answer to God on the Day of Judgement, as will all those who have not repented of sin or accepted God's way to Salvation which is faith in His Son the Lord Jesus Christ (John 14:6). Jesus – the Lamb of God paid the price for all our sins by taking them upon Himself so that we could be released from the power of sin, and death, and hell.

Jesus did not come into the world to condemn, but to seek and save the lost (John 3:17). God desires that all people be saved. He is the most compassionate and loving Father who knows the worst, but believes the best, in every one of us. He has given every man, woman and child a free will to choose our own destiny. How He longs for us to choose Him! (Deuteronomy 30:15-20)

But the day will come when it will be too late. When a person closes their eyes upon this earth, there is no 'change of mind' option. It is so easy to mock God and to revile His commands while life is good. It is also so easy to blame God for all the bad things when we don't know that our enemy the devil's desire is mankind's total destruction, one human being at a time (1st Peter 5:8). In order to receive God's salvation we need to 1) Repent of all our sins, and acknowledge to God that we could never save ourselves by doing good works alone.

2) Call upon the Name of the Lord Jesus which is the only Name by which we can be saved (Acts 4:12).

3) Seek God and obey Him. God says you will find Him when you seek Him with all your heart (Jeremiah 29:13). When you study the Bible don't just read it like a fairy tale, but believe God's Word - and obey it.

For instance if you read in the Word that you are to love your neighbour as you love yourself, you need to repent of the times you have not loved others, and repent for not loving yourself. We need to change how we look at ourselves, and how we view others. So instead of self hatred I must learn what God says about me, believe it, and proclaim it. God loves those whom we have hated in the same way that He loves you and me, so we need to get with the program, quit condemning them and forgive them, and ask God to change our attitude towards them. It's not rocket science. God will give us the grace to do it. It is by His Holy Spirit that He transforms us into His sons and daughters and He desires to fellowship with us. We please God as we love like He loves (Ephesians 5; Romans 13:8-14). He will avenge the wrongs, so trust Him (Psalm 46).
