1000 WALK FOR OPERATION TRANSFORMATION

Almost 1000 warmed up on Saturday morning to take part in the Operation Transformation Walk despite the chilly weather. The determined walkers took to the pathways of Killarney National Park to participate in the RTE's Operation Transformation National Walk Day, which was organised nationally by the local sports partnerships, an initiative of the Irish Sports Council.

On Saturday morning remarkable numbers gathered on Mission Road. They were treated to complimentary cups of teas and coffee courtesy of Civil Defence and Kerry Recreation and Sports Partnership. Having participated in a fun warm up, all walkers left Mission Road at 10am, and entered the beautiful grounds of Killarney National Park. Striding it out, walkers opted for either the 5k or 10k walk. The 5k route stayed within the Park, whilst the 10k route ventured out towards the grounds of Killarney Golf and Fishing club. Both routes presented spectacular scenery especially the Córa Carrigg, Sports CoOrdinator Kerry Recreation & Sports Partnership paid tribute to everybody who made the event such a success. "One thing for sure is that without the support of the 60 person team of volunteers an event like this simply doesn't happen," she said. "We had huge assistance from our voluntary team of walk leaders, registration officials from the

She continued to explain that a number of key agencies were involved behind the scenes in making the event a successful roll out, notably personnel from An Garda Síochana, Civil Defence, Kerry County Council, KDYS, Killarney National Park, Killarney Chamber of Commerce as well as Order of Malta members.

MONEY MATTERS

By Dermot Cronin, Financial Advisor

INVESTMENTS

When you compare investment products, you should consider two key factors: • The likely return - risk and return go hand in hand, so as a general rule the lower the risk the lower the rate of return you should expect. With longer-term and higher-risk products, you can expect higher returns, but this is not guaranteed and you could lose some or all of your money. You need to consider carefully the effect of this on your financial situation.

• Risks involved – some investments do not give you a capital guarantee. How much of your original capital would be at risk? Is there a risk of poor returns? Is there inflation risk? You also need to consider how long your money will be tied up for. WHEN YOU COMPARE INVESTMENTS, LOOK AT:

• The minimum investment amount - can you top up your investment without having to take out a new product and pay full charges again?

- The minimum recommended investment term for your money.
- Access to your money are there any penalties if you withdraw your cash early.

• What fees and charges apply, as they reduce the value of your investment. Financial advisors advise on these products on behalf of the main providers. It is important that you find out from the advisor if they are tied to any one provider or if they deal with a number of different providers and who are these providers. For more information or to make an appointment to discuss the above contact Dermot Cronin APA, at 064 66 22775 or 087 2893649.

YOUNG KERRY ARTIST GIVES KDYS YOUTH CAFES A MAKEOVER

Emma Brosnan a trained interior architect and Kerry artist has been helping the KDYS a charity supporting young people bring their youth cafes to life with vibrant new colours and design schemes.

The KDYS support 5 volunteer led youth cafes in Kerry.

It's always been difficult to fundraise for more general youth services such as youth cafés and youth clubs and in particular the last number of years has been very tough as Government funding has been seriously depleted in this area.

Assumpta Sweeney oversaw the changes to the youth café in KDYS Killarney said, Emma came in and within a few days had done up some drawings, Young people were involved in developing the plans and once they approved its was full steam ahead. One of the best things for the KDYS was that the plans Emma drew up were simple so it would cost very little but have a big impact on the centre. A lot of Emma's designs just added more colour and brightened up the space which meant we could use in-house resources to get the job done. Young people love the changes and it's great to offer them a bright positive space. Once the changes took place in Killarney, Listowel and Tralee quickly followed suit.

SCHOOL CHOIRS TO SHOWCASE THEIR SKILLS

Primary schools across Kerry are preparing for the 2nd Kerry School Choir Showcase which will take place this year in the Malton Hotel, Killarney on Thursday, February 12th.

Organsied by the Killarney Musical Society, ten National School Choirs will perform on the night which will culminate in a group performance by all participating choirs of a chosen musical number. To this end the children are receiving vocal coaching from vocal coach, Gemma Sugrue of Voiceworks Studio, Cork. Gemma is a past member of Killarney Musical Society as was her mother, Breda Sugrue. Gemma is delighted to be involved with us this year for the showcase and is very impressed with the fantastic standard of the choirs which she has met thus far. Great credit must go out to the individual teachers also within each school who take the time and interest to coach young children for School Choirs, it is a wonderful thing for any person to gain confidence in performance.

Killarney Musical Society are delighted to encourage this and give the students an opportunity to showcase their talent in a non competitive manner. The following schools are participating in this years Showcase...St Oliver's N.S. Killarney, Holy Cross Mercy N.S. Killarney, Monastery Boy's N.S. Killarney, Fossa National School, Firies N.S., Kiltallagh N.S.,Nagle Rice N.S. Milltown, Gaelscoil Mhic Easmainn N.S. Tralee, Listellick N.S. Tralee and Spa N.S. Tralee.

OUTLOOK ON THE CAO online application is the way to go

(By Billy Ryle)

Almost all applications to the CAO are now made via "Apply," the online application, which remains open on the CAO website, www.cao.ie until 5.15pm on 1st February. You may choose from the entire range of courses in the CAO Handbook 2015. All courses are categorised as 'Level 8' or 'Level 7/Level 6'. Up to 10 courses may be chosen in each category — listed in order of preference in each case. As course offers are issued independently in each category, some applicants will receive two offers simultaneously. For example, in Round One last August, 74013 offers were made to about 49276 applicants. The early bird fee was ≤ 25 until 20th January and is now ≤ 40 until 1st February. Pay your fee online by credit/debit card or, at a Bank, by using the Application Fee Payment Form.

Click "Apply" to access the CAO online application form. Enter your personal details as they appear on screen. Tick the section that is relevant to you on the qualifications and assessment summary. In the majority of cases, this will be the Irish Leaving Certificate Examination. Register your payment option and confirm your acceptance of the terms and conditions that apply to your application. Protect your CAO application by entering an account password of choice.

Click on "Proceed with Application" to advance to the next step. Take note of your 2015 CAO application number, which you will need with your password to log on to "My Application", your online CAO application. Continue to complete the personal details section. Proceed to type your course choices onto one or both of the lists. If you intend applying for a student grant, indicate this on your CAO online application. CAO will then provide details of your identification, contact, offer and acceptance to the grant authority, SUSI.

Tick the appropriate box to disclose a disability or specific learning difficulty. Complete the Supplementary Information Form (SIF) and also tick the DARE (Disability Access Route to Education) box, if it applies to you. If you wish to be considered under HEAR (Higher Education Access Route) tick the appropriate box. You will be guided to further instructions about completing the DARE or HEAR sections. Once you have completed the CAO form print or save the screen receipt of your online application. You may also confirm receipt of your application by logging on to "My Application" on the CAO website.

FEEL GOOD | LOOK GOOD MUN

THERE IS NO BETTER TIME THAN NOW TO START LIVING HEALTHY

Admit it; it is something you do every year. Indulge over the Chiristmas break with the knowledge that you will be a new you in January. You are going to join the gym, take up fitness classes, spend on all the latest and best of vitamins and be on the lookout for all the new trends to make a better you. Last year your enthusiasm got as far as the middle of February before you fell back into your old habits. It is not you of course. Its work, it is the time you give extra to your children, it is the bad weather and of course, it is only one biscuit with a quick sit down on the couch for your favourite soap. Before long, it's a few cups of tea, a little bit of swiss roll and it is time for bed. Sure, the night was too bad to do anything.

Now before you decide the fall down again this year read the following stats

Ireland's population has overweight and obesity levels in excess of the European average, according to a comprehensive global study of the problem.

Research: shows 26.5% of Irish girls and 16% of Irish boys under the age of 20 are classed as overweight or obese. A massive 66% of Irish men over 20 are also considered overweight or obese, as are 50.9% of Irish women over 20 years: well in excess of the western European average of 47.6%. Between 1980 and 2013, the number of overweight and obese people rose, from 857 million to 2.1 billion. This represents an increase of 28% for adults and 47% for children.

So why not make a promise to yourself to do something positive about it for 2015. Flick through the supplement and made a decision to pick up the phone and let anyone of our advertisers help you along your way to feel good and look good.

KEEPING KIDS ACTIVE

Introducing your kids to the games you played at their age is a great way for everyone to get exercise and have fun. Here are some old favourites you can try. Maybe you have your own name for these games or play them a different way. Why not join in yoursel? That way you can keep an eye on them and make sure the kids play somewhere safe. Kick the can, duck, duck, goose, rounders, simon says and Hopscotch are all great games to keep kids active.

ACTIVE FAMILIES

It's easy for kids (and parents!) to get into the habit of spending their spare time sitting down – watching TV, playing computer games, listening to their iPods – but active kids are healthy kids! It's important for them to be active so that they grow and develop properly with strong muscles and bones.

Physical activity can help kids maintain a healthy weight – especially important these days when more than a third of children in Northern Ireland are overweight or obese.

Active children also tend to do better at school, and activity is also good for their mental health, helping them to deal with stress better.

The younger you can establish the habit of being active in your children the better, but it's never too late to start. Children need more physical activity than adults – at least 60 minutes every day. However, just like adults, they can accumulate this amount in several smaller chunks of 10 to 15 minutes.

5 FACTS YOU NEED TO KNOW

 Carrying fat around your middle is linked to many chronic diseases, including heart disease, diabetes and cancer

2. 2 out of 3 adults on the island of Ireland are overweight

 A waist greater than 32" in adult women and 37" in men is an indicator that excess fat is being stored around organs like kidneys, liver and heart 4. For most people height doesn't matter; carrying fat around your waist area contributes to more serious health problems than carrying it elsewhere on your body

 Our social circles can influence what we consider to be normal or healthy and whether we become overweight.

STAYING IN SHAPE

Fad diets may promise you the world, but they tend not to work in the long-term. They're normally too drastic for people to stick to for very long. Most of them are nutritionally unbalanced too.

The key to successful weight loss is to make small, gradual changes to your eating and physical activity habits that you can keep up for life. Don't think of yourself as being on a diet. Instead, look upon it as a series of small lifestyle changes that you need to make - one by one - in order to reach, and stay at, a healthy weight.

The first step in any successful weight loss programme is making changes to your lifestyle - eating less, and becoming more physically active. We know that gyms don't suit everyone and it's important to remember that exercise can take any kind of activity such as walking or cycling, washing the windows, or vacuuming around the house.

You may have heard about new medications that claim to help with weight loss. While a small number of these have been shown to be effective in supporting weight loss among obese individuals, this is only in combination with changes in lifestyle, for example eating less and being more physically activity.

One simple way to reduce calorie intake is to try and eat smaller portions of foods. Switching from fatty foods to lower-calorie foods like wholegrain breads and cereals, and plenty of fruit and vegetables can also help.

Eating meals at regular intervals throughout the day can help with any hunger pangs don't forget to drink plenty of water as well.

TO KEEP ON TRACK WITH A WEIGHT LOSS PROGRAMME, TRY TO:

- · weigh yourself once a week
- keep a diary of your progress

keep a food diary of what you eat each day

 it's a really handy way to focus on what you are eating and prevent you going back to old habits.

 get a friend or family member involved as it will motivate you both!

If you don't have success with these changes, consult your GP, practice nurse or dietitian for more detailed advice.

Fad diets and quick-fix pills are not long-term solutions to weight loss; think of small steps you can achieve over time and adopt these lifestyle changes for good.

WHATS HAPPENING AT THE KILLARNEY SPORTS AND LEISURE CENTRE?

DEEP WATER AQUAFIT

What makes this class different from a normal aqua aerobics class? Deep water aquafit classes are carried out in the deep end of our pool (1.5m in dept), with the aid of an aqua buoyancy belt. A deep water aerobics class is an excellent and challenging workout in water and is a low impact way to tone your muscles and increase your heart rate. There are many benefits of this type of exercise.

Its low impact so there is no pressure on the joints and it reduces stress on your muscles and bones.

It improves flexibility as the buoyancy of the water reduces your body weight by 90%, so therefore you are able to move in ways you otherwise wouldn't be able to do on land.

Also it's a great rehabilitation exercise for any one recovering from an injury or allows an injured person to maintain their fitness without any impact on their joints.

6 week courses at The Killarney Sports and Leisure Centre starting Tuesday the 27th Jan 10am, contact Teresa on 064 6636554 if you require any further information

Many people are unhappy with the appearance of their teeth and wish they could be straightened. RSA & GARDAI WARN DRIVERS OF 'SUN GLARE' LINK TO ROAD DEATHS

The Road Safety Authority (RSA) and An Garda Síochána are reminding drivers to be aware of the danger posed by 'sun glare', which results in drivers being temporarily dazzled or blinded by the intensity and brightness of a low sun on the horizon.

The appeal comes as provisional crash reports suggest that drivers being temporarily blinded by 'sun glare' may have been a contributory factor in some fatal collisions in 2014.

Commenting on the issue Ms. Moyagh Murdock, CEO, RSA said "Because, at this time of the year, the sun sits so low in the sky, late in the morning and early evening, corresponding with the main commuting times, the sun visor on the car isn't really much help at all. If a driver is driving straight into such a sun he or she can be completely dazzled by the sheer intensity and brightness of its rays. The situation is made worse if the windscreen is dirty or greasy or if it's been raining, or the ground is covered with snow. In this situation the glare reflects off the wet or snow covered road to further dazzle the driver.

Chief Superintendent Michael O'Sullivan, Garda National Traffic Bureau, advises driver on what they should do, "Reducing your speed is the first and most obvious thing to do. Slowing down on the approach to junctions, corners and bends is critical. You simply don't know what hazard may be up ahead at these potential risk spots, and one you certainly won't be anticipating is being blinded by sun glare."

"Ensure your windscreen is clean inside and out. Add windshield washer fluid to the water in the reservoir and check that the wipers are not worn away or damaged. Replace them if they are. Buying polarised sun glasses, and keeping a pair in the car is also a must. They will help greatly if driving into a sun that's low on the horizon." He added.

Concluding Ms Murdock said, "If you are heading East in the morning, the direction the sun rises or heading West in the late afternoon, where it sets, please be conscious of sun glare. By simply being aware of this problem, which we all need to take more seriously, we will be able to read the environment and conditions and make better decisions when we are driving. Importantly we won't get caught out or blinded by the sun when turning the next corner."

MICHELIN WORKING TO CONSIGN PUNCTURES TO HISTORY

Puncture problems could soon become a thing of the past when technology being developed by Michelin comes into popular use.

At its recent Challenge Bibendum event in China, the tyre maker demonstrated the effectiveness of its Selfseal technology.

Likely to be popular in China where motorists experience a puncture on average every 5,700 miles compared to Europe where the average is one every 48,000 miles, Selfseal works when a thin layer of rubber compound inside the tyre surrounds the area where a puncture has occurred to plug the hole, maintain pressure and prevent air from escaping.

In a parallel development, Michelin has commenced mass production of its pioneering Tweel - an airless tyre that comprises flexible, deformable polyurethane spokes that crisscross between a fixed hub and the outer casing. Production will be confined to agricultural and commercial applications initially

ANTIFREEZE

A continuous squealing noise as soon as the engine is started is a sign the water pump is frozen - it's the fan belt slipping on the pulley. The cylinder block could be frozen too. Stop the engine immediately and allow it to thaw out. This may take several days unless the car can be moved to a heated garage.

If the car begins to overheat a few miles from home it's likely that the radiator has frozen preventing coolant from circulating. Stop straight away to avoid serious damage and allow the radiator to thaw.

Antifreeze costs only a few pounds, but a frozen and cracked engine block will cost hundreds of pounds to repair.

Most modern cars use long-life antifreeze it's important to use the right type and avoid mixing different types. Check the handbook or ask a dealer for advice.

Some types of antifreeze may need to be changed after only two years. Check the manufacturer's service schedule.

You need a 50-50 mix of antifreeze and water in the cooling system for winter. This gives maximum protection down to -34° centigrade, and without it, severe engine damage costing hundreds of pounds can occur.

WORKPLACE BULLYING

Workplace bullying can be quite common and difficult to deal with. Bullying at work can take the form of physical, social or psychological intimidation. Examples include threatening behaviour, sexual harassment, verbal abuse, exclusion, psychological harassment, being given pointless or impossible tasks, deliberately making work difficult for you and withholding information necessary to get your work done properly. This type of bullying can be difficult to identify as it isn't always obvious, but it can have a serious effect on one over time. Workplace bullying can lead to a drop in productivity, lowered confidence and self-esteem, increased anxiety, stress and depression. It can also lead to physical symptoms such as tiredness, headaches and backache.

Workplace bullying can have a serious impact on family life and put stress on relationships. The target of the bullying may feel unable to share what is happening at work because they should feel grateful to have a job and may not want to worry a partner or spouse. It may put extraordinary pressure on the victim to the extent that they can take it out on others, even to the extent of engaging in abusive or aggressive behaviour at home. If you are experiencing workplace bullying it is vital that you seek some much needed support. This support may be from a Human Resource Manager, a supervisor or your employer. If the situation continues or is serious, you may need to make a written complaint. It can be very helpful to keep a diary documenting everything that happens, including what you've done to try stopping it. Make sure you are informed - find out what the organisation's policies and procedures are for preventing and handling bullying. All employers have a duty to ensure the health and safety of their employees. Section 8 of the Safety, Health and Welfare at Work Act 2005 states that the employer is required to "prevent any improper conduct or behaviour likely to put the safety, health and welfare of employees at risk". As employees, we are duty bound not to engage in behaviour that would endanger the health, safety and welfare of ourselves and others.

It is also wise to get external information and advice from bodies such as the union representing your industry, the Health and Safety Authority or the Equality Tribunal. These organisations work to ensure that workplace bullying in not tolerated and can give you advice on your options and your rights.

Next week we will look at cyberbullying and ways in which we can deal with it.

FLU VACCINATION INFORMATION

WHO SHOULD BE VACCINATED ?

Vaccination is strongly recommended for :

- Persons 65 yrs. And over

- People whose immune system is impaired due to disease or treatment
- Residents of Nursing Homes and other long stay institutions
- Persons with a body mass index (BMI) over 40

Please contact Killarney Medical Centre on 064 6620628 to make an appointment for this years Flu Vaccine.

LEGION GAA CLUB

WHERE ARE THEY NOW

After last weeks trip to Chicago, this time we headed off in the opposite direction as we touched down in Perth in the southwest coast of Australia where there was no shortage of Irish accents and Killarney ones at that. This week we chat to Woodlawn native Paudie O' Connor originally from Woodlawn Park and later of Sycamore Lodge Ballycasheen. Paudie is a son of Pat and Mary [Murphy], of the renowned local building firm WK O'Connors Itd. Paudie fondly remembers his days growing up in Killarney and especially on the Green in Woodlawn Park where he says there was always some game going on and it was from here he recalls being rounded up for Legion games and training by Pat Healy back as early 1987 when he was just 6 years old. Paudie was following in the footsteps of his two older brothers William and the late Sean, both of whom were very accomplished footballers and before that his two uncles Billy and Paul both wore the green and white. Paudie was a very intelligent footballer but he also had a huge love for soccer, starring for Killarney Athletic FC. at all age levels right up to senior throughout his career and lining out for the Kerry senior soccer team on numerous occasions. In his juvenile days with Legion, he picked up a few East Kerry medals along the way and says with a smile, that they had a good team but so did everybody else. He talks of a particular night in Spa GAA pitch when himself and Mark Pyne brought their soccer skills with them and they dribbled the ball most of the length of the pitch without being dispossesed but that didn't go down well with Tim Moore and the other mentors. He remembers players of the calibre of Conor Spellman, Shane Myers, Kenny and Donald Dwyer as being the standout players when he was growing up but his fondest memories of his Legion days were from the clubs then annual trip to the Erins Isle GAA club in Dublin where along with the likes of Gearoid Nagle, they played the local club and had the craic and as he says the fact that the house that himself and Gearoid were staying in had twin daughters that were easy on the eye, was an added bonus. When Paudie finished school, he went on to study Structural Engineering in college and when he qualified, he went to work for well known engineering firm Niall Fitzsimmons in Cork but this was not his first venture into the workplace as whilst studying, he tells me that he started off his career as General manager of O'Neills Fishing shop in Plunkett St. where he had great times with Mary, Jeremy and Mary Joe O'Neill and trained in their son Denis who now runs the shop, and Paudie managed to tell me this just before breaking into laughter. As with a lot of young people back in 2007, Paudie along with friends, Danny Leane, Billy O'Connor and Gari Murphy decided to depart these shores and in September 2007 they headed off and after 4 months travelling through Asia, they landed in the new capital of Ireland, Perth. Paudie started work soon after in the mines which were situated a long way north of Perth but later moved back to the city, where he still resides and is currently working as a Project Manager with a construction company in the city. Now well settled in Perth, and married to Audrey Kelly from Sligo town, the couple had the joy of bringing their baby boy, Sean into the world. He was born on St Patricks Day of last year 2014 in Sligo . I asked Paudie, who is now 33 years of age if he played any sports since he moved abroad and he said that he has been involved with Shamrock Rovers club in Perth since he arrived seven years ago but hasn't played as much as would have liked over the last two years due to various commitments but is hoping to give it one last go this year. His interest in Legion affairs has never waned and he keeps up to speed through the internet and he says he is very encouraged by the amount of good young players that seem to be coming through and he feels that the club definitely seem to be moving in the right direction. Paudie comes home once every 18 months are so and would love to come more often, but as he says, its a costly trip but he is planning to be home this September. Of the things about home that he misses most, he says family, friends, the scenery, the long summer evenings and of course his days of playing sport in Killarney. Paudie, on the guestion of ever retuning home for good, says its hard to say at the moment but the powers that be need to sort out the country first. When I posed my final question to Paudie on who would have been an influence on him during his playing days in Derreen, he says that a lot of good people were involved during his time but Pat Kissane stands out.

Next week, on the advice of our club treasurer, after coming this distance, we stay in Australia but this time we head east to Sydney.

31" CHAMPIONSHIP OF KERRY: Sessions of the 45th annual Spa 3I" championship of Kerry are currently in progress at various venues. Over various generations card playing has been a most popular social and recreational local pastime with card schools springing up each Autumn and Winter season in various local townlands. Occasionally such card games were accompanied by a raffle and dance which sometimes incurred the wrath of the local Clergy when such events were held on a Saturday night as they feared that this may cause a risk to Sunday Mass attendance. Indeed it was the popularity of card playing which prompted members of the local Spa GAA club to initiate the Spa 3I" Championship of Kerry as a fundraiser for the club away back in March 1970 and in the intervening years due to the diligence and hard work of the small band of promoters it has grown in popularity and attracts the cream of 3I players each season. Cards are available from Dave Herlihy, Johnny Cronin, Paddy B. Lynch and Paddy O'Keeffe.

Killorglin and The Park shared the wins their clashes with the Killorglin winning the Group 1 game and the Park B the other. JK SPORTS 12'S: Three way tie at the top of the Premier: Tralee Dynamos, whose game was called off, have been joined at the top of the Premier Division by Killarney Celtic A and Park A, who both won their games, to move onto 10 points. Killarney Celtic came back from Murt Scott Park following a 1-0 win thanks to a James Darmody goal. The Park were too strong for Camp Juniors and won thanks to goals from Conor O'Sullivan, Sean McGrath, Mervin Shambala and Colin Walsh.

Killarney Athletic win again to remain leaders in Division 1:

Leaders Killarney Athletic took the points from their trip to Celtic Park following a 3-0 win over Killarney Celtic C. Rossa Bellew, Eoin Benson and Uri Cazu were the scorers as the Woodlawn side move onto 15 points. Killorglin A continue their unbeaten run and are now on 4 wins from 4 played and are on 12 points. Gar Hassett, Jack O'Leary and Dylan Francis were on the score sheet for Killorglin. Inter Kenmare were also unbeaten in their three games before this round but had to settle for a point away to Park B following a 3 all draw. TJ McMahon hit a hat trick for the home side in Christy Leahy Park while Jack Downey, Daniel Crowley and Kaleb Lynch Patterson got the goals for Inter. FENIT MOVE UP THE DIVISION 2 TABLE: Fenit took the points from their home game with Castleisland thanks to goals from Jonathan Trant 2, Eddie McCarthy 2, Dara Heim and Oisin Horgan.

Sean Carmody hit two goals in the first half and Niall Sertuxta equalled that feat in the second half. Killarney Celtic join Listowel Celtic on ten points in second place following their 4-0 home win over Mastergeeha. Lee Downing set Celtic on their way with a free kick after only 90 seconds. Josh Fleming hit a quick double and a Reece Hegarty goal wrapped up the scoring. Camp Junior kept in touch with the sides above them with a home win over Tralee Dynamos. The home side started very brightly and 2 from Seamus Boyle had them ahead after 6 minutes. Later in the half Franz Sauerland set up Boyle for his hat-trick. Killian Falvey made it 4-0 before half time. Dynamos came into the game in the second half but Sauerland notched up a 5th and Davidas finished off the game with the 6th. Inter lead as Park move into second in Division 1: Leaders Inter Kenmare travelled to Killorglin and won 5-1 to continue to set the pace in the Division. Dylan O'Connor was unstoppable hitting 4 to which Tadgh O'Siochru added a fifth. Inter now move onto 13 points. Liam Butler replied for Killorglin. Park B and Killarney Athletic were tied on 9 points at the start of play so a win for either side would see them remain only a point off the top. It was the Tralee side that took the points after a very tight 2-1 win. Aaron and John Ward were the Park's scorers.

RESULTS: DENNY PREMIER A: KILLARNEY CELTIC 3 KILLARNEY ATHLETIC 0

A magnificent response to last week's defeat, with Celtic showing fire, hunger, and skill against a good Athletic side who are a real test for anybody. Matt Keane opened the scoring for us, Trevor Nagle calmly slotted a penalty, and a great strike by Cathal O'Shea rounded it off.

display. Stephen McCarthy was on the mark four times, with Jonas Hedwig, Pierse Lyons, and Conor Randall also on target. U15 PREMIER: KILLARNEY CELTIC 4 MASTERGEEHA 0: Lee Downing blasted in a free kick in the second minute to put Celtic on their way. In the second half Josh Fleming struck twice and Reese Hegarty added another for a comfortable win.

U13 PREMIER: BALLYHAR 0 KILLARNEY

UNDER 13: KILLARNEY CELTIC 0

KILLARNEY ATHLETIC 3: Under 13 CONTINUE WINNING STREAK: Our under 13 team continue to lead their division after a 3-0 win over local rivals Killarney Celtic. We were well on top in all sectors but could not put the ball in the net. Overall there were some great passages of play and the movement of the ball was very sharp but like in a lot of our games recently the finish product needs a huge improvement. The score at half- time was 0-0 but straight from the kick off we put pressure on up high and this made the way for the goals to come. Our goalie and defence didn't have much to do but dealt well with any defending they had to do, our midfield were very busy and were pushing on creating chances for our strikers. It was a good team performance but with stiffer games ahead we need to take our chances better. Well done to all. Scorers on the day were Rossa Bellew, Eoin Benson and Luvali Cazacu. Man Of The Match : Rossa Bellew.

DEERPARK PITCH & PUTT NOTES

During the course of his report to the recent club AGM secretary Jason O'Connor congratulated the members of the club who enjoyed much success at various PPUI competitions during the past year -- Damian Fleming turned in a fine performance in the National Matchplay in Parteen in June with Creagh Courtney having fine innings in the Intermediate Strokeplay in Stackallen, Creagh Jason O'Brien, and St John Kelliher turned in a fine performance to win the inaugural Munster Inter-County at St Stephen's in August. In terms of the Kerry Anchor Cup team the club had a record four competitions in the senior grade with Conor McCarthy joining Damian Fleming and St John Kelliher to represent the county in Tipperary Hills Tullamore and to finish with two place honours was a magnificent achievement. Conor McCarthy also had the distinction of being the second club player to wear the Irish jersey after his namesake Derry McCarthy when he took part in the International Challenge in LLoret Papulas against Cathalonia in June and despite Cathalonia winning the Challenge Cup overall Conor won all the points in his matches.

Off the course this year the club experienced some success with our Development Officers Aidan O'Keeffe and Aidan O'Donoghue enlisting the services of a marketing consultant to improve the awareness and promotion of the club and this resulted in a marked increase in green fees during the season, Jason also congratulated Colm O'Dowd on being honoured as Club Person of The Year an honour richly deserved for his contribution in the area of finance and overall contribution to the club. He also thanked the Collins family for the manner in which they managed the shop and merchandise as well as the FAS workers under the guidance of the grounds chairman Gerald Cullinane for their contribution to the maintenance of the course, (more reports next edition).

AWARDS ON THE DOUBLE FOR WEESHIE

Popular Broadcaster Weeshie Fogarty was celebrating this week after collecting another coveted media award for his Terrace Talk sports programme on Radio Kerry.

The Terrace Talk 'Sam Maguire Special' received the McNamee award for the Best GAA Related Radio Programme at the awards ceremony in Croke Park last Friday night.

The GAA McNamee Awards are held annually to honour excellence in the area of communications, public relations and journalism, specifically related to the activities of the GAA. The Terrace Talk award winning programme led by Weeshie and his team of Deirdre Walsh Marian O'Flaherty and Ciaran O'Regan included an interview by Weeshie with the silversmith who crafted the modernday 'Sam', the man who was the first to lift the cup in Croke Park and numerous Kerry captains who, by bringing 'Sam' on tour, learnt what it meant to schools, communities and emigrants. Weeshie has won several McNamee awards over the years and this latest one completed a unique double as it came hot on the heels of his recent PPI Radio Award last October when his 'Terrace Talk' programme won the first prize gold award after being named Sports Programme of the Year in Irish radio. Judges of the PPI awards said that regardless of the sport, the interviews on Terrace Talk were excellent and Weeshie Fogarty's passion and love of sport connects with the listener.

FARMING OUTLOOK

Having spent almost a lifetime struggling to keep up with the basics of reading and writing Ned Deering was eventually diagnosed with a severe form of dyslexia. Through his awareness, he was able to hide this "disability" but at 58 after being diagnosed of a lifetime of self-doubt was lifted off his shoulders.

When reading, Ned was lost, following articles was impossible, large words, and complex concepts were beyond his capabilities. His organisational skills were limited but he muddled through, The arrival of the "single farm payment" was a nightmare for Ned, he lived in fear of an inspection and finally it came.

Two inspectors went through his farm, found breaches in the regulations, and informed him that he would be penalised. The shock of being confronted with his problem was too much for him and he fell headlong into depression. Iying in bed, unable to do anything. His wife, a Kerry woman, prevailed on him to seek help. In his 4th session of counselling, after he had described his experiences in school the counsellor suggested that he get assessed for dyslexia. Subsequently he was diagnosed with a severe form.

It was suggested that he look for correspondence from the Department of Agriculture in CD form, this would allow him to understand the regulations. His contact with the Department left him very disillusioned; the response when eventually someone spoke to him was not helpful. The cost of providing CDs would be astronomical and they had a computer programme online, which could help. Ned cannot use a computer, his sister; a teacher could not use the programme.

Ironically, The Revenue Commissioners can provide him with CDs to help him understand their regulations, why not the Department of Agriculture. Lately he attempted to enrol in a course on spraying regulations. He explained his problems to the facilitator, who informed him he could not pass the course; he was (because of his dyslexia) a Health and Safety risk.

How could he use sprays if he could not read the instructions? If a leaving cert student has a similar disability, he can access a scribe for his state exams but a farmer, his livelihood threatened, cannot.

Ned Deering is a man ready for the fight, this week he is going to Scotland to meet a group of farmers who are lobbying for their rights. He is looking for farmers with similar problems here and can be contacted at 087 2627343. More information on dyslexia can be got on www.dyslexia.ie by Tommy Roche

KERRY FARMING MATTERS

Next Monday at the farm of William Dennehy Currow Killarney Teagasc will continue their roll out of the 1,2,3 of calf rearing programme from 11am – 1pm with last group at 12 noon. If you are, you spend time that you can't afford treating sick calves each spring or are concerned about the level of calf mortality in your herd. This is certainly a morning well giving up. The Teagasc/Animal Health Ireland Calf Care Open Days have been a success to date around the country with Kerry now the fourth stop of a six-day road show.

UNACCEPTABLE THAT FERTILISER PRICES ARE RISING AS ENERGY PRICES FALL

It is not acceptable that in the context of energy prices falling considerably in recent months there are proposals to increases fertiliser costs, according to European Agriculture Commissioner Phil Hogan.

Speaking on the issue recently, he said it is very hard to understand that with a 45% reduction in energy prices that there are proposals to increase fertiliser costs by 7%.

FARM DEATHS FEATURE ON THE LATE LATE SHOW

The founder of Embrace Farm has urged all working in agriculture to redouble their efforts on safety this year to avoid a repeat of the horrific spate of farm deaths in 2014 as the latest video in organisation's 'What's Left Behind' campaign was launched.

Speaking following the weekend's Late Late Show feature on farm safety and farm deaths Brian Rohan said that the very fact that the campaign made it onto the country's most popular TV programme showed just how grave the issue of farm safety has become.

Mr Rohan was joined on the show by Diane Banville, whose husband Kevin died on the family farm in New Bawn, New Ross on March 17 last year.

LONGFORD PIG FARMER JAILED AND FINED €3,000 FOR SLURRY 'TIMEBOMB'

A pig farmer was jailed for 10 weeks and fined €3,000, after a judge labelled him 'an absolute disgrace' over his slurry storage, according to the Irish Independent.

The judgement from Judge Seamus Hughes was served on Longford pig farmer Donal Connaughton (55) for failing to prevent an environmental 'timebomb' that threatened local lakes.

The judge said Connaughton had acted 'in a blackguardly fashion' and had expected the authorities to clean up the environmental issues, which were created at his farm

Connaughton, Elfleet. of Newtowncashel was convicted at Longford District Court of causing or permitting effluent from massive tanks, containing four million gallons of slurry, to fall into a local lake last March.

According to the report, the prosecution was taken by Inland Fisheries Ireland, Judge Hughes jailed Connaughton for 10 weeks and fined him €3.000 with €5.400 costs.

OUTLOOK LIFESTYLE TIPS:

Stay hydrated

If you have a busy lifestyle, It's crucially important that you stay hydrated. Whether it's by taking a hot drink that will help remedy any niggling nasal congestion or some water, you have to be hydrated to fire on all cylinders.

Go for a WALK

Granted it's easier said than done, but where you can, be sure to squeeze in the odd walk. It could be a simple 20 minute stroll but even this will go a long way in helping you stay fit and strong, supporting your immune function and circulation.

OUTLOOK LIFE STAGES

As you get older, your appetite may get smaller. This is quite normal – you're probably not as active as you used to be, so you'll need less food for energy. But you should still eat enough nutritious food each day to keep you in good health.

Try to eat at least three times a day. If you find it hard to have full meals, try smaller meals with nutritious snacks in between.

HEALTHY SNACK IDEAS

- Wholegrain toast with heated baked beans, a slice of cheese or sliced banana.
- Small bowl of home-made soup
- Wholegrain breakfast cereal or porridge with semi-skimmed milk
- Cheese and crackers
- A piece of fruit or chopped fruit pieces
- Chopped raw vegetables like carrots or peppers, or a handful of small cherry tomatoes

• Scones, currant buns and fruit breads If you don't feel like cooking, why not make more use of the microwave? It's great for heating up leftovers from your freezer and for heating ready-made meals. Make sure to heat foods until they're piping hot all the way through.

Older adults

LOOKING AFTER YOUR TEETH

Visit your dentist regularly to keep your teeth in good condition. If you wear dentures or have problems chewing, you may be put off eating raw fruit or vegetables. If this is the case, go for tinned or stewed fruit and vegetables instead. They're softer and easier to chew, but still have all of the goodness.

COOKING FOR ONE

It's easy to get by on bread, butter and tea alone when you're on your own in the house. But try to cook something for yourself most days if you can. Here are a few tips to make it easier:

- Invite some family or friends around for dinner
- Try casserole dishes there's less preparation when you throw in the meat, veggies and potatoes all at once
- Cook large amounts, then freeze some individual portions to eat later
- Keep a well-stocked food cupboard so that you always have some ingredients to hand to make meal. Our cupboard contains: Rice, pasta, noodles, instant mash, porridge, breakfast cereals Tinned vegetables (e.g. sweetcorn, tomatoes), fruit tinned in its own juice, tinned or packet soups Dried milk powder, evaporated or condensed milk (can be used if you run out of fresh milk), tinned rice pudding, ready-made or tinned custard Corned beef, tinned fish (e.g. tuna, mackerel, sardines), baked beans, tinned peas, tinned pulses (like kidney beans, butten beans, chickpeas, lentils) Stock cubes, gravy granules, tomato sauce and puree, dried herbs, pepper, tea, coffee, sugar or sweetener, cocoa/ drinking chocolate, jelly, plain biscuits You'll find some tasty and traditional recipes on our recipe pages.

GETTING HELP IN THE HOME

Some older adults find it hard to move around because of stiff joints or arthritis. This can make it difficult to prepare or cook foods. If you're having problems, ask your doctor for help. See more at www.safefoods.eu

FAT BURNING TIPS

TO KEEP YOUR METABOLISM HIGH AND GET THE MOST OUT OF YOUR WORKOUTS

FITNESS EXPERT EDELE DALY GUIDES YOU TO A FIT & HEALTHY NEW YEAR

STOP OBSESSING ABOUT THE SCALES

because you can gain muscle & lose fat and not see any difference in the scales. One pound of fat takes up a lot more room than one pound of muscle. The main thing is inch loss so focus on how your clothes are fitting if you are losing motivation from the scales.

DO RESISTANCE TRAINING.

Weight training burns calories at rest for up to 39 hours after your workout. It speeds up your metabolic rate. Even if your goal is solely to lose body fat, you need to combine your aerobic/cardio workout with resistance training. Examples of body weight resistance training are Push ups, Squats, Lunges etc.

DO HIGH INTENSITY INTERVALS.

This means alternating brief periods of high intensity exercise with brief periods of rest. This will increase your aerobic capacity and fitness... and will give you quicker results in less time.

OUTLOOK DIET TIP OF THE WEEK Enjoy your favorite foods.

Instead of cutting out your favorite foods altogether, be a slim shopper. Buy one fresh bakery cookie instead of a box, or a small portion of sweets from the bulk bins instead of a whole bag. You can still enjoy your favorite foods — the key is moderation.

OUTLOOK BEAUTY TIP OF THE WEEK

Before you blow dry, start with a volumising spray or light gel to give the roots some lift. Lull the brush up towards the ceiling to really boost volume.

Fashion Tip

Make Sure You Can Walk In Them: There are some occasions we sacrifice comfort for fashion. After all, four inch heels guarantee that legs-for-miles look. But if it looks better than it actually feels on your foot, you probably won't wear it. There is nothing worse than looking at someone who just can't walk in their heels.

Know Your Rights: PREPARING FOR RETIREMENT

JANUARY 2015

QUESTION

I will be retiring from work in 2015 when I reach 65. What do I need to know about pensions and other benefits in retirement?

ANSWER

When you retire at age 65 you can claim Jobseeker's Benefit, which is based on your Pay Related Social Insurance (PRSI) contributions. If you do not qualify for Jobseeker's Benefit you can claim Jobseeker's Allowance, which is a means-tested payment.

At age 66, you may be entitled to the State Pension (Contributory). If you do not have enough PRSI contributions, you can apply for a State Pension (Non-Contributory), which is means-tested. You should apply for State pensions at least three months in advance.

You may have contributed to an occupational pension scheme during your working life or you may have a personal pension arrangement. You need to contact the pension provider to find out exactly what benefits your pension gives you.

If you move from employment to retirement in the course of the year, you should get a PAYE Balancing Statement (P21) from your local tax office at the end of the year. This will trigger a refund of any overpayment of tax you might have made.

Your Jobseeker's Benefit or State pension and any occupational pension are taxable. However, the tax exemption limits are much higher for people aged 65 or over and there are some extra tax credits.

At age 66 you will be exempt from paying PRSI. At age 70 you will pay a reduced Universal Social Charge if your annual income is $\leq 60,000$ or less.

At age 66 you will also be eligible for a Free Travel Pass and may be eligible for the Household Benefits Package, which consists of a free TV licence and an electricity or gas allowance.

For medical cards and GP Visit Cards, which are means tested, the income limits are higher for people aged 70 and over.

FOCUS ON HEDGING

Hedges can make a much more natural background to a garden than a wall or a fence. They can provide shelter and are cheaper and require a small amount of maintenance. Because a hedge allows the wind to filter through it reduces its velocity. Tall or low growing, clipped or informal, there is a hedging plant for every purpose. One thing to remember about a hedge is that it is intended to be a permanent feature in the garden so therefore should be chosen with care and planted in well prepared soil. To choose the right hedge for your garden here are a few pointers to think about

- 1. The type of soil you have
- 2. How exposed the garden is, i.e. what direction is it facing 3. The eventual height and width the hedge will be
- 4. Does it need to be evergreen

When you have chosen the type of hedge that you want its time to prepare the soil. Start preparing the soil by digging thoroughly and forking in some well rotted farmyard manure. Hedges can be planted all year around but the ideal time is between November and March as all hedging plants will be dormant at this time. What that means is when you go to buy your hedging plants they are lifted straight from the ground and are called bare-rooted hedging. This enables you to replant straight back into the ground when you get them home. Just make sure that when planting that the roots are spread out well as this will encourage them to root quickly when the growing season starts. If you have missed the bare rooted season at the end of March you can plant container grown hedging all year around. Next week I will focus on trees.

9 FACTS THAT MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE

Most people can go through their life without being put in life-threatening situations, but sometimes, remembering what to do in such a case can be the difference between tragedy and a happy ending.

1. The limits of the human body often follow the "Rules of Three":

- 3 minutes without air
- 3 hours without shelter from the elements
- 3 days without drinking
- 3 weeks without eating

2. If you find yourself caught in a riptide and being pulled out to sea, remain calm and swim parallel to the shore. Trying to fight the riptide is more likely to lead to exhaustion – the main cause of drowning.

3. If you're in a burning building – keep your head down. Fire victims often die from inhaling smoke rather than the fire itself. Poisonous smoke is hot and will rise while fresh air will remain close to the ground. (Cover your face with a wet towel for extra protection)

4. In a situation where you are crying for help, be specific. Calling specific people ("You with the blue shirt!") will increase the likeliness of them helping you. Being called out puts them in an accountable position, reducing the likeliness of the "bystander effect".

6. Learn how to give yourself the Heimlich manoeuvre.

7. Do you spend more than two straight hours sitting down, get up, stretch and walk around for 5 minutes. Whether you have an office job, or you're traveling, sitting for prolonged periods can lead to blood clots in your calves. These clots can travel through your bloodstream and end up blocking blood flow to vital organs.

8. If you see a photo where you are the only person in a group who has 'red eyes', visit a doctor. 'Red eye' in just one person in a group may indicate a case of retinoblastoma, which is a type of eye cancer.

9. If you're a man, you use a pregnancy test that comes out positive, visit a doctor. A positive test in a man may be an indicator of testicular cancer.

10. Even if the traffic light is green, it's not necessarily safe to go.

3 PLANTS YOU CAN GROW FROM YOUR RUBBISH!

Instead of throwing out the undesirable ends of freshly chopped organic veggies, why not put them to use! Many of the veggie discards you usually throw out can actually be used to grow more crops. Here are 3 relatively easy ones that will extend your organic Euro.

• Celery. Stop throwing away the root bases of your celery! Freshly cut root bases can regrow and yield an entirely new crop! Simply set the base in a glass of shallow water in the window and watch shoots reappear. Then, you can transplant it into a pot or garden and watch your "garbage" celery grow into a delicious new crop.

• Sweet potatoes. Just like any potato, sweet potatoes spout with "eyes." Bury the sweet potato under a thin layer of moist soil in a sunny location. Shoots take a week to appear, and once they reach about 4 inches high, you can cut them off with a piece of potato and replant them about a foot apart. With any luck, in 4 months you'll have homegrown, organic sweet potatoes! Beware, if you plant them outside, keep an eye out for slugs, who also are partial to delicious sweet potatoes.

• Ginger root. Ginger is surprisingly easy to grow from leftover chunks of a knob. Place a small bit of the root in a pot of soil with the smallest buds pointing skywards. Place the pot in a moist environment with filtered sunlight and let it grow. Ginger plants are very attractive in the house. When you need a new ginger root, dig up the entire plant, harvest the root, and cut off a small bit to pot and plant again for the next time you need ginger.

Other foods that you can salvage include all potatoes, sprouting garlic, and even pineapple. Be warned; conventional plants probably won't regrow, so be sure to invest in high quality organic produce.

IF BULLFIGHTING HAS TO EXIST THIS IS THE WAY IT SHOULD BE DONE

In Costa Rica, where cows are a source of income for thousands of farming families bullfights are the main event at an annual festival held in every town. The only difference is, no one kills the bull.

Rather than glorifying man's power over the animal, Costa Rica's corridas de toros exalt the bulls, while turning people into fools. The festivals feature elements of a traditional rodeo, but add hordes of untrained, overly macho improvisados, or rodeo clowns, into the ring. Festival organizers offer cash prizes to particularly daring improvisados if they successfully remove an item attached to the bulls horns etc. Though the bull may kill anyone in the ring, no one can kill the bull.

This intense, often hilarious spectacle culminates with the end-of-the-year Zapote Festival, this year's event ended on January 2nd, with more than 200 bull-related injuries and plenty of bruised egos.

SUSTAINABLE HOUSES BUILT FROM RICE WASTE

When 16-year-old Bisman Deu saw the regular burning of rice waste on her family's south Indian farm, which was polluting the environment with black smoke and making the top layer of soil partially infertile, she wondered if someone could turn the husks and straw discarded by rice farmers into sustainable building materials, helping to create low-cost structures that could withstand all forms of weather, so she cooked up a prototype of rice waste-based building material in her family's kitchen.

Ms. Deu claims the building material is an affordable, waterproof participle board that is fungi- and mud-proof, making it a good choice for low-income people who need to leave cheaply in variable weather and it also gives farmers a new source of income.

Ms. Deu and her two teammates recently won the Social Innovation Relay, a global contest from the Junior Achievement-Young Enterprise Europe, in partnership with Hewlett-Packard, to find students aged 15-18 to develop socially innovative business concepts. Her concept was also featured in UNICEF's 2015 State of the World's Children report.

Rice is a staple food for more than half of the world's population, and one ton of husk is produced for every five tons harvested.

"It is not a lack of love, but a lack of friendship that makes unhappy marriages." Friedrich Nietzsche

GOOD NEWS

Malta's Constitutional Court has upheld a public referendum to decide the fate of the country's controversial spring bird hunt, which kills over ten thousand migrating birds every year. The Constitutional Court threw out objections by Malta's powerful hunting lobby, and instead sided with the 11 conservation groups who organized the referendum, known as the Coalition for the Abolition of Spring Hunting gathering 40,000 signatures from Maltese voters. The referendum will be held sometime between April and July and opinion polls show that the majority of Maltese are against the spring hunt. However, for the referendum to be valid, over 50% of the electorate has to vote.

The spring hunt in Malta - a small island in the Mediterranean with a population of less than half a million people - which can see over 10,000 turtle doves and 5,000 quail killed has become increasingly controversial in recent years. In addition, illegal hunting continues to be a problem, including targeting of endangered species, according to conservationists. Hunters also employ caged birds to attract migrating birds. Many species of birds use Malta as a stopover on their long migration from Africa back to Europe. Meanwhile, many European nations have seen a decline in migrating birds, however, Malta's hunting lobby says widespread pesticide use and habitat loss on the mainland are the cause for declines in migratory birds-not their spring shoot.

WE ALL NEED TO PLAY A PART IN CLEANING UP OUR OCEANS AND SAVING MARINE WILDLIFE

Ocean trash threatens our aquatic wildlife more and more with each passing year. Commercial fishing nets are discarded into the sea, and whether intentionally or not, entangle animals with no chance for escape. Rubber like that from balloons ends up in the ocean and is deadly if consumed by animals who think it may be food. Plastic 6-pack can holders strangle small marine life. It's hard to imagine, but our actions in our daily lives carry serious implications for the health of our oceans. Any litter that doesn't go to a landfill will almost undoubtedly — in one way or another — end up in a body of water that flows to the ocean. We all need to participate in protecting our oceans' ecosystems if we truly want to affect change.

Recycle all paper and plastic materials.

• Cut up your 6-pack can holders. • Do not throw away cigarette butts. They aren't biodegradable! • Discard all chemical products at appropriate facilities. Simply throwing them away in the rubbish means they will almost certainly end up in the ocean.

Reuse plastic and paper bags for general cleaning, litter box emptying, dog fouling, storage.
 Bring your own cup to coffee shops.
 Grow organic vegetables and plants.
 Use your own Tupperware instead of disposable plastic containers.

THE U.N. HAS DECLARED 2015ASTHEINTERNATIONAL YEAR OF SOILS

According to the Food and Agriculture Organisation (FAO), human pressure on the resource has left a third of all soils on which food production depends degraded worldwide and about 65% of Africa's arable land is too damaged to sustain viable food production.

Without new approaches to better managing soil health, the amount of arable and productive land available per person in 2050 will be a fourth of the level it was in 1960 and the FAO says it can take up to 1,000 years to form a centimetre of soil. An estimated 180 million people in Sub-Saharan Africa are affected by land degradation, which costs about 68 billion dollars in economic losses as a result of damaged soils that prevent crop yields. Soil health and rainwater harvesting are critical to enhancing the productivity of Africa's agriculture, a major source of employment and a huge contributor to GDP. The land terrace system to manage soil erosion in the highlands of Uganda and Rwanda is a success story that made an impact because the systems were backed with legislation. Also, the use of organic manure in the Savannah region through an agriculture system integrating livestock and crops has become a model for farmers to protect and promote soil health. According to the report "Climate Change and Security in Africa", the continent is expected to see a rise in average temperature that will be higher than the global average. Annual rainfall is projected to decrease throughout most of the region, with a possible exception of eastern Africa. Less rain will have serious implications for sub-Saharan agriculture, 75% of which is rain-fed. Average predicated production losses by 2050 for African crops are: maize 22%, sorghum 17%, millet 17%, groundnut 18%, and cassava 8%.

"BRITAIN'S MOST OVERLOOKED DOG":

Jed the dog knows a thing or two about waiting. Back in 2007, when he was still just a spry 4-months-old puppy, Jed was dropped off at an animal shelter in Britain, eager to be swept into the arms of a loving and lifelong companion — yet somehow he got overlooked, time and time again. Months of waiting soon turned into years of waiting, and eventually the once floppy-eared, doe-eyed pup's face began to grey with age, though his hope of finding a home never faded. His caregivers at Dogs Trust estimate that 14,000 potential adopters passed on the chance to take him in. But now, seven years later, his wait is over. After reading a BBC report about Jed's many years of waiting, lan Woodcock and his wife Elizabeth decided to give him the fairy tale ending that every dog deserves. And sure enough, Jed has ended up changing their lives for the better too. "Jed is settling in really well and we absolutely adore him, he is always by my side and we already can't imagine life without him," Mr. Woodcock says. "We are really looking forward to the future with Jed, after so long without a home we can't wait to make 2015 as special as possible for him." While Jed's story is certainly a moving one, there are countless other animals just like him who are waiting in shelters to find a new home in Kerry and all over the world.

On December 8, the first award ceremony for the European Bee Award took place at the European Parliament in Brussels. The goal is to increase protection for pollinators and overall biodiversity in farming. The first winner was the Bavarian Farmers' Association from Germany; their effort is to increase biodiversity in farms by surrounding maize fields and other crops with flower strips. The jury focuses on solutions that can make a difference on the ground and can be adopted widely by other farmers across Europe. The winner receives 5,000 euros, along with a diploma of recognition.

MOVE MINDFULLY IN YOUR LIFE!

How you move is how you live! We are all aware of the benefits of regular exercise like walking, swimming and going to the gym. However, what is less well known is how we can use our own energy (or Chi) to reduce stress, revitalize our bodies, heal pain, balance our emotions and promote an abundance of energy and wellbeing! Our health is our most important asset. Without it we cannot participate or enjoy our lives fully. It doesn't matter how much money you have, without your health it is irrelevant. When you combine moving mindfully with awareness, breath, intention and attention in a slow and gentle way you wake up your brain to new possibilities of moving. This is important as it begins to change habitual ways we may have used our bodies, which have caused us pain or stiffness in the past. Add to this a beautiful blend of ancient gentle healing exercises and energy medicine and you have a recipe for health, wellness and total well-being.

If you are interested in learning more I am running my Chakranetics class at the Travel Inn, Fossa, Killarney on Tuesday mornings from 10-11.15am. Six-week course beginning Tuesday 27th January. Booking is essential as places are limited.
