MONEY MATTERS.....

By Dermot Cronin,
Financial Advisor

IF YOU HAVE A PENSION WHAT ARE YOUR OPTIONS WHEN YOU WANT TO RETIRE?

If you are coming close to retirement you are probably wondering what options you have when you want to get access to your pension. It depends on what type of pension you have but generally there are four options:

TAX FREE CASH: Most people will be entitled to a tax free lump sum, the amount varies however generally you will get at least 25% of the value of your pension in a tax free cash lump sum.

TAXABLE CASH: You may be able to take sum of your pension in taxable cash.

ANNUAL PENSION: This is a guaranteed income for the rest of your life that is purchased with the money left after your tax free lump sum.

APPROVED RETIREMENT FUNDS: You may be entitled to keep some of your money in an approved retirement fund, money can be taken from the fund to give you a regular income.

It is extremely important that you take your time and have all the options explained to you in plain simple English before you make your final decision. As well as the above there is much more to be discussed about your pension. You should discuss your retirement options with an independent financial advisor before making any decisions, he or she will help you with the above options and any other queries you may have.

To discuss the above or any other matter Dermot Cronin QFA APA can be contacted at 0646622775 or dermotcroninfa@gmail.com

THEY HAVE GONE FROM STRENGTH TO STRENGTH OVER THE LAST TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY YEARS, AS THE DEMAND INCREASED WITH THE INFUX OF VISITORS. TAX Matters with

HAVE YOU OVERPAID TAX IN 2016?

Request a PAYE Balancing Statement/End of Year Review (P21). The quickest and easiest way to do this is to avail of Revenue's electronic service, either:

1. Complete the eForm 12, which is the electronic version of the paper Form 12.
2. Via PAYE Anytime, which is Revenue's on-line service for employees who pay taxes under the Pay As You Earn (PAYE) system.
3. Alternatively you can submit your Form P60 (and, if relevant, a Form P60 for your spouse or civil partner) to your Revenue Office along with details of your claim.

What is a PAYE Balancing Statement (P21)?

This is a statement of your total income from all sources and it gives a breakdown of your tax credits, income tax and USC paid during the tax year. You may request a PAYE Balancing Statement (P21) if you want your tax liability reviewed as:

- you have overpaid income tax during the year (i.e. you were not granted the correct tax credits or perhaps you were on the emergency basis or a week-one basis during the year),
- you wish to claim additional tax credits (e.g. health expenses),
- you are applying for a Grant and you are required to submit a P21 to your local authority.

I would also like to sincerely thank all who have contributed to my Ramblings during the year and to my readers that took the trouble to contact me I would like to say a very special thank you.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF NEW YEAR CELEBRATIONS:

The earliest recording of a New Year celebration is believed to have been in Mesopotamia, c. 2000 B.C. and was celebrated around the time of the vernal equinox, in mid-March. A variety of other dates tied to the seasons were also used by various ancient cultures. The Egyptians, Phoenicians, and Persians began their new year with the fall equinox, and the Greeks celebrated it on the winter solstice. The first time the new year was celebrated on January 1st was in Rome in 153 B.C. The new year was moved from March to January because that was the beginning of the civil year and in 46 B.C. Julius Caesar introduced a new, solar-based calendar that decreed that the New Year would occur with January 1st.

In medieval Europe, however, the celebrations accompanying the New Year were considered pagan and unchristian like, and in 567 the Council of Tours abolished January 1st as the beginning of the year. At various times and in various places throughout medieval Christian Europe, the New Year was celebrated on Dec. 25th, the birth of Jesus; March 1st, on March 25th the Feast of the Annunciation; and Easter. In 1582, the Gregorian calendar reform restored January 1st as New Year's Day.

It is believed that the Babylonians were the first to make New Year's resolutions, and people all over the world have been breaking them ever since.

IF YOU ARE MAKING NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS, WHY NOT INCLUDE HUMANS AND ANIMALS?

Here are just a few ideas in no special order:

- *Smile and salute strangers.
- *Enjoy more time with family, including furry, four-legged or feathered family members.
- *Between having to dress according to your employer's dress code and following the conventional fashion of today's apparel shops, you might have lost that part of you that wants to come out. Do an overhaul of your wardrobe and start wearing things that make you feel good and donate the rest to charity.
- *Travel and support animal-friendly venues, avoiding cruelty to wildlife.
- *Stop Being Racist - research shows even people that wouldn't consider themselves racist show an unconscious racial bias in tests, we've still got a long way to go, and we can all benefit from being more understanding of other races and cultures.
- *Spend wisely by investing in food and products from cruelty-free sources.
- *"Judge not lest ye be judged." It's in the Bible, but people of all faiths and beliefs can subscribe to this one. If you're sitting in judgment it probably represents insecurity on your part. Spend less time worrying about others, and spend more time improving yourself.
- *Learn something new about the amazing creatures who share our world.
- *Keep a lookout for ways you can help elderly neighbours or the sick in your community.
- *Take up a cause by continuing to create a world where animal suffering has ended!
- *Forgive Yourself And Others. Learning to forgive is a skill that will free you from guilt and shame. So what if you can't keep a new year's resolution to lose weight? Learn to forgive — it'll be an even bigger weight off your shoulders.

TIMES SQUARE NEW YEARS BALL:

The First Times Square Ball Drop Was in 1907, the original ball, weighed 700 pounds and measured 5 ft. in diameter. It was made of iron and wood and decorated with 100 25-watt light bulbs and was built by a young immigrant metalworker named Jacob Starr.

In 1920, a 400 pound Ball made entirely of wrought iron replaced the original. In 1955, the iron Ball was replaced with an aluminium Ball weighing a mere 150 pounds. This aluminium Ball remained unchanged until the 1980s, when red light bulbs and the addition of a green stem converted the Ball into an apple for the "I Love New York" marketing campaign from 1981 until 1988. In 1995, the Ball was upgraded with aluminium skin, rhinestones, strobes, and computer controls, but the aluminium Ball was lowered for the last time in 1998.

For Times Square 2000 the New Year's Eve

Ball was completely redesigned by Waterford Crystal and Philips Lighting. In 2007, for the 100th anniversary of the Times Square Ball Drop tradition, Waterford Crystal and Philips Lighting crafted a spectacular new LED crystal Ball. The beauty and energy efficiency of the Centennial Ball inspired the building owners of One Times Square to build the permanent Big Ball weighing nearly six tons and twelve feet in diameter, the 2,688 Waterford Crystal triangles are illuminated by 32,256 Philips Luxeon LEDs. In 2015/16 an estimated one million people in Times Square, millions nationwide and over a billion watched the throughout the world. For Times Square 2016/17, 288 of the Waterford triangles introduce the new Gift of Kindness design consisting of a circle of rosettes symbolising unity with the fronds reaching out in an expression of kindness. 288 are the Gift Of Wonder design composed by a faceted starburst inspiring our sense of wonder. 288 are the Gift of Fortitude design of diamond cuts on either side of a crystal pillar to represent the inner attributes of resolve, courage and spirit necessary to triumph over adversity. The remaining 1,824 crystal triangles are the Gift of Imagination design with a series of intricate wedge cuts that are mirrored reflections of each other inspiring our imagination. Each year also people from around the planet include their wishes for the New Year on pieces of official Times Square New Year's Eve confetti. Whether it's a personal goal, a dream for the future or doing something for the very first time, these wishes are added to over a ton of confetti that float down at midnight onto the revellers gathered in Times Square in celebration of the new year.

A FEW WORDS ABOUT "AULD LANG SYNE":

"Auld Lang Syne" is an old Scottish song that was first published by the poet Robert Burns in the 1796 edition of the book, Scots Musical Museum. Burns transcribed it and made some refinements to the lyrics after he heard it sung by an old man from the Ayrshire area of Scotland, Burns's homeland.

It is often remarked that "Auld Lang Syne" is one of the most popular songs that nobody knows the lyrics to. "Auld Lang Syne" literally translates as "old long since" and means "times gone by." The song asks whether old friends and times will be forgotten and promises to remember people of the past with fondness.

The lesser known verses continue this theme, lamenting how friends who once used to "run about the braes have become divided by time and distance. Yet there is always time for old friends to get together—if not in person then in memory.

But it was bandleader Guy Lombardo, and not Robert Burns, who popularised the song and turned it into a New Year's tradition. Lombardo first heard "Auld Lang Syne" in his hometown of London, Ontario, where it was sung by Scottish immigrants. When he and his brothers formed the famous dance band, Guy Lombardo and His Royal Canadians, the song became one of their standards. Lombardo played the song at midnight at a New Year's Eve party at the Roosevelt Hotel in New York City in 1929, and a tradition was born.

The birthplace of "Auld Lang Syne" is also the home of Hogmanay, the rousing Scottish New Year's celebration that became popular when the celebration of Christmas was totally banned by law in Scotland after the Church Reformation in the 16th century.

DID YOU KNOW?

Calennig was the Welsh Tradition of New Year Giving. A Calennig is an apple with three twigs legs stuck with dried fruit, cloves and a spray of evergreens stuck into the top. It is a traditional Welsh decoration to give friends and families on New Year's Day to wish them luck during the New Year. Placing a calennig on a windowsill or shelf was believed to bring good luck to the house.

HOW DOES A MENU OF SLUGS, GRUBS, AND A SIDE OF POISON IVY SOUND FOR A NEW YEAR'S PARTY?

Some animals will eat a wide variety of foods, while others are specialists, concentrating on one or two items. In an extreme example of specialisation, the teddy-bear-like Koala of Australia eats, exclusively, the leaves of certain kinds of eucalyptus trees and eats them only at certain seasons when the trees are producing specific oils.

Pandas are specialists too, confining their diet to bamboo. Arctic Foxes are so dependent upon lemmings for food that the two species follow cyclical variations in population, the fox population increasing or decreasing a year after the lemming population does so.

Some animals eat the same foods as humans, such as fish, fruits, and mushrooms. Birds eat seeds, fruit and, if they can get to them, all manner of nuts. Chipmunks eat pine nuts, and it is said that native peoples learned to harvest maple sap by watching squirrels. Red Squirrels harvest sugar by biting into a maple's surface, letting the sap ooze out, and returning when the water in the sap (which when fresh is only 2% sugar) has evaporated and the sugar content is about 55%.

Humans have grocery stores and refrigerators, but animals have to be more creative with their food collection and storage methods. Some small mammals simply store food in underground burrows. The Yellow-pine Chipmunk stuffs its cheek pouches with food and carries it to its subterranean cache. One such cache was inventoried and found to contain nearly 68,000 items, including more than a dozen different kinds of seeds and a partially eaten bumblebee. One Eastern Chipmunk was observed collecting a bushel's-worth of chestnuts, hickory nuts, and corn kernels over three days. A Harris's Antelope Squirrel was found carrying 44 mesquite beans in its cheeks. Southern Flying Squirrels may store up to 15,000 nuts in a season.

An individual Eastern Gray Squirrel spends the late summer and fall picking and burying hundreds of acorns and nuts. It buries each nut individually, digging the hole and then tamping the soil down carefully to hide the nut from others. Studies have shown that these squirrels recover about 85% of the nuts they bury; many of the remaining nuts germinate and eventually grow into trees.

Acorn Woodpeckers drill holes in trees and fence posts and then wedge acorns and nuts in, too tightly for a squirrel or other competitor to pull out. Loggerhead Shrikes impale their prey (smaller birds, mice, or insects) on thorns or barbed wire, and often leave it there to save for later. Grizzly Bears store the remains of large kills such as an Elk or Moose in a shallow depression covered with branches, dirt, and leaf litter, returning to the cache until its meal has been consumed. Mountain Lions, wolves, and foxes will hide their uneaten kills for later consumption as well. The Wolverine doesn't waste much time hiding its cached food, it simply sprays it with a foul-smelling musk to keep others away.

DID YOU KNOW?

In Norway, the government wants all citizens to have a little more for the Christmas season, so throughout the month of November – all state taxes are halved.

A FEW UNUSUAL NEW YEAR TRADITIONS FROM AROUND THE WORLD:

*In Denmark, residents used keep a pile of old broken dishes, and throw these on the friends' doors during New Year. This symbolised friendship and brotherhood and they believed the one with maximum dishes outside, had the most friends.

*Brazilians believed that lentils signify wealth and prosperity. So they serve food items made up of the legume like soup or rice on the New Year.

*Lead was considered to be auspicious in Germany. They poured molten lead into cold water and the shape that was taken after, predicted the future. Heart shapes symbolised marriage whereas round shapes denoted good luck and anchor shapes told that you needed help.

*Since 1873 Japan has officially adopted the Gregorian calendar, one of their traditions was to hang straw ropes at the entrance to their homes to bring in good luck.

*In Greece Orthodox Christians recognise January 1st as St. Basil's Day, one of the forefathers of the Greeks Church, because it is also celebrated as his death anniversary. They bake some special bread, where a coin is buried inside the dough. The procedure of serving the bread is very unique. They offer the first slice to God, second to the bread winner of the house, and the third is meant for the house. If this one contains the coin, spring will hit early that year. Also whoever get the slice with the coin, is supposed to be blessed with extra good luck.

*In Spain and several other Spanish-speaking countries, people bolt down a dozen grapes-symbolizing their hopes for the months ahead-right before midnight.

NOLLAIG NA MBAN:

Also known as 'Women's Christmas' this falls on the 6th of January (the Feast of the Epiphany), and marks the official end of the Christmas season. Traditionally the men of the house took over for the day, preparing meals and allowing the women to have a rest.

In more modern times the women get together and enjoy their own Christmas, while the men folk stay at home.

The following day is the day when the tree and all the Christmas decorations in the house are taken down and put into storage.

Please don't forget there will probably be fireworks to welcome in the New Year, follow the Halloween advice and make sure your pet has visible identification in case the worst happens and it escapes and please make sure it cannot reach alcohol or human food during or after the party. If the weather is bad please let food and fresh out for all wildlife and above please make sure your elderly neighbours and those living alone are safe and able to take care of themselves this coming Year.

GARDENING OUTLOOK

with John O'Sullivan

Between now and the summertime there is still plenty of time to put a bit of colour in the garden with some winter/spring flowering bedding plants. It is probably best this Spring, to use them in containers and baskets as the ground is saturated from the amount of rainfall we have experienced. The first thing you have to do is choose the type of container you want. There are lots to choose from i.e. terracotta, glazed, plastic and wooden. Now that you have chosen a pot, the first and most important thing to do is sort out the drainage. All terracotta and glazed pots should already have drainage holes in them. Plastic ones probably won't so you will have to punch some holes in them. Next you need to put some gravel or aeroboard broken up over the holes on the inside of the pot and then cover with some landscape fabric i.e. mypex. Now its time to add some compost and ideally some slow release fertilizer mixed with it. Then choose some plants... First of all you need to choose a centre piece and always make sure that centre piece is evergreen and suitable for the size of your container. This way you will only have to change the bedding plants from season to season. Here is a list of a few good winter spring bedding plants for containers, primroses polyanthus, winter pansies, cyclamen, ornamental cabbages and trailing ivy.

Citizens Information

Know Your Rights: CONSUMER RIGHTS DURING SALES

QUESTION

What are my consumer rights when I buy something in the sales? Can I return sales items?

ANSWER

Your consumer rights during a sale are exactly the same as at any other time of the year. Your rights do not change just because you bought the item in a sale.

Goods should be of merchantable quality, fit for their intended purpose and as described. If they are not, you are entitled to a repair, a replacement or a refund.

If there is a fault with goods that you bought at full price and are now on sale at a reduced price, you are entitled to a refund of the full price (if the shop is willing to offer a refund).

Shop notices such as "No Refunds" or "No Exchanges" do not limit your rights, if you have a complaint about faulty items.

However, you are not entitled to a refund because you change your mind about something you have bought in a shop, whether this is during the sales or at any other time of the year. Many shops do allow you to exchange goods that you have had second thoughts about, but this is at their discretion. It is a good idea to check the shop's refund policy before buying anything.

You should always keep your receipts as proof of purchase and the price paid. This does not necessarily have to be the shop receipt. You could show your credit or debit card statement if you used one or any other documentation that proves it was purchased.

For more information, visit the website of the Competition and Consumer Protection Commission at consumerhelp.ie.

PLAN FOR SUCCESS

Planning ahead, in whatever task we do, can help smooth the way and prevent problems from arising later on. Confucius, the Chinese philosopher rightly said, "A man who does not plan long ahead will find trouble at his door." It is said that "Planning is bringing the future into the present so that you can do something about it now." Chances are, if you speak to anyone who has been successful they will tell you that planning ahead was a vital ingredient in their formula for success.

Planning ahead can be a very effective way to stay on top of things and not get too stressed. Feeling in control of your life is the foundation of stress management – and whilst we can't control for everything – planning ahead helps us to achieve a balanced life – with time for work, relationships, relaxation and fun.

Planning ahead can enhance our performance, make us more productive and ultimately help us to become more effective in what we do. Mark Sanborn – a writer in this field - claims that "Thorough preparation creates tremendous performances." Planning ahead helps us to be proactive rather than reactive – and take the right course of action when faced with difficulties and challenges. We can also save money by planning ahead – as tickets can often be cheaper when bought early on and cheap deals usually book up in advance.

Of course, we don't just make a plan and leave it at that. Effective plans need to be reviewed and updated regularly. Our plans evolve over time – and can help us to stay on course and get to our destination. Now might be a good time to begin to plan ahead (or review your current plan). This may be for the new school term, for Christmas, a holiday next year or maybe a career change. Whatever your goal is - follow these golden rules of planning and watch your plan fall into place:

1. Know where you're going – what are you aiming for?
2. Set specific goals, tasks and intentions
3. Create measurable milestones
4. Break down large tasks into smaller more manageable chunks
5. Set timeframes and deadlines
6. Create a visual representation of your plan
7. Set daily actions to help accomplish your task
8. Stick with your plan and don't give up
9. Revise & update if necessary
10. Realise your goal.

Many of us harbour limiting beliefs and negative habits which block us from success. In next week's issue we will address the skill, tools and discipline needed to overcome our psychological barriers to success.

A WORD OF VICTORY

Welcome back dear reader, we are preparing to enter 2017, a New Year that will no doubt have its own challenges, trials and victories. 2016 is behind, and any negative things we have collected during the year we can now set about letting them go. There are three days that we've been given to live - yesterday, today and tomorrow. Yesterday is gone and we can't go back and change the things that happened. Tomorrow hasn't come yet, so today is the day. We at Word of Victory recommend that you, dear reader, purpose to enjoy today! Let any negativity from 2016 go, and please do not worry about tomorrow. It's written in the Gospel "which of you by worrying can add one cubit to your life, so why worry about tomorrow because tomorrow will have enough troubles of its own." (Matthew 6:25-34) There is a song we sing - "this is the day that the Lord has made and I will rejoice and be glad in it" (Psalm 118:24). If you decide to let this be your motto everyday it will make life so much better for you. First thing in the morning acknowledge the Lord who gives us today. Thank Him for His goodness and for His grace and mercy and for His powerful love. When we train ourselves to meditate on these things the trials of life that we experience won't seem near as bad. For in Christ Jesus we are 'more than conquerors' in fact we are 'overcomers' (Romans 8:37). Remember again why Jesus came - to destroy the works of the Devil, to rescue mankind from the enemy Satan and to establish God's Kingdom on earth as it is in Heaven (Acts 10:38; 1st John 3:8; Matthew 6:10). There is no poverty, no sickness or diseases and no evil in Heaven. That's why we pray 'Lord, let your will be done on earth AS it is in Heaven'. Make 2017 the year you search for the truth friend, for then you will be stable in all your ways. We wish all our readers a blessed and wonderful New Year and pray you will get to know the One who came to save us - our best friend Jesus. More next week....

LETS PRAY TOGETHER INTO THE WORD

Behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto Joseph in a dream, saying arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt for Herod will seek the young child and destroy him (matthew 2:13) later in Jesus' life the saducees and pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the Sabbath day, that they might find an accusation against him. (luke 6:7) Do we complain of our small opportunity to share Jesus before others, or want more appreciation of our work and the gifts given to us. Remember the baby Jesus and growing up the many years of associating with people of lower class the people on the fringes of society. The small carpenters shed, and the little Jewish village where Jesus grew up. Let us remember our Master Jesus, the people who openly said words of bitterness to him.
Amen.
